GENERAL DENOMINATIONAL STATISTICS.

PREFATORY AND EXPLANATORY.

The present editor, for the tenth time, lays before the denomination the results of painstaking labors in the effort to tabulate the statistics of the churches, in the face of continued difficulties which ought not to exist. While in many instances he has had the valued co-operation of intelligent and obliging brethren, the number of those who have proven indifferent to his calls for information continues sufficiently large to greatly affect the sum totals. In cases where the tables are full and complete, it should be understood that the editor has had the co-operation of those who comprehend the value of accurate statistics.

The editor is aware that his work for this year is to be brought into comparison with the results obtained by the government in its census of 1890. What of variation will be apparent, is to be traceable to the great unnumbered hosts of colored Baptists. With a persistency which cannot be explained upon any reasonable hypothesis, the colored brethren do not render any aid worth mentioning in this compilation. Where there are full lines in the tables, it is to be understood generally that such are furnished by brethren who render a willing and much appreciated aid; but what are they among so many? While their efforts are praiseworthy, and indicate an intelligent conception of the work, their very labors are made nugatory by the vast indifference, and, in some places, opposition to the work. It may be noted that the falling off in some States is traceable entirely to the colored churches. It may be supposed that the Census Bureau, with its superior facilities, calling to its aid the large number of Federal officials scattered throughout the land, and freed from the immense expense involved in postage, should have arrived at results which would bring out the facts as they exist. But a comparison of reports made to the Census Bureau, with minutes and other documentary information at hand during the past three years, shows that the government itself has been exposed to error through the wildest imaginable guesswork on the part of those reporting to the Bureau. It must be apparent that in many cases a false estimate has been given which subsequent examination will not warrant. If the tables of population are compared with those of the statistics of the churches from the same Bureau, it would reveal a percentage of Baptist membership which is on its very face an impossibility. When it is remembered that only actual church-members are counted in Baptist churches, not adherents, or families, or those friendly to them and attendant upon their ministries, it is a practical impossibility that there should be such a percentage. The three States of Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi, with a large colored population by these tables, would show that every fourth colored person, including babes and children, was a member in good standing in a Baptist church. Credat Judæus Apella! If this were so, it would seem that the work of evangelization might well be transferred to other lands. And the difficulty becomes more apparent when it is remembered that a church population is not ordinarily scattered equally over a country, but is more frequently condensed into favorable spots. The rules relating to statistics of cities and other centres of population, if applied, would show more colored Baptist members than there are colored persons.

The attempt to show the valuation of church property, as gathered by the Census Bureau, belonging to colored churches, has revealed again the fact that extensive guessing has been the rule. When the census shows a valuation of $35,000, and the clerk of an Association of ten churches shows a valuation of $500, the suspicion is aroused as to what was understood by the question which elicited the first information, and whether the answering person did not think he was called on to tell about how much the members were worth in worldly goods. This may elicit a smile, but the YEAR-BOOK blank has brought in just such a reply, and some instances have occurred when the question was left blank, because the clerk did not know enough about the brethren to tell how much property they did hold.

The YEAR-BOOK has for ten years desired to show all possible favor to the colored churches, and the result each year is discouraging. Letters remain unanswered; appeals for minutes are unheeded; and nothing remains but to leave the tables blank. The present edition must go to the press with valuable information left out, because, up to the very moment of sending to the printers, promised information had not come to hand. If this plain statement of the difficulties in the way will produce a reaction, the YEAR-BOOK will be glad and will have attained its purpose in what are not intended to be strictures, but a simple defense against criticism.

It should be constantly borne in mind that, while in other denominations the policy which prevails is such as that the statistician may command the prompt and full returns from the clerks and secretaries of the various Conferences, Consociations, Presbyteries etc., this editor is dependent entirely upon the courtesy of clerks, some of whom render most valuable assistance, while others are forgetful, or indifferent, or unwilling to spare the time required in filling up their blanks, or require compensation for that work beyond which the Society is able to render. The friends of the work can render most valuable assistance in their various Associations, by requiring their clerks, who are generally compensated, to furnish the footings of their tables to the YEAR-BOOK before the publication of their Minutes. The editor, in this remark, has no reference to the many clerks who need no authority such as this to induce them to follow out that plan; he is in communication with many clerks whose promptness, accuracy, and sympathy are a positive inspiration to him. So that in comparison with the figures of other denominations, the student should regard the fact that the absence of information from some quarters lessens the rightful totals, while, in some instances, the figures of mission churches located entirely outside of this country, are necessarily contained in the totals of other denominations, because of their connectional relation with their brethren of this land. This very important distinction would change materially the comparisons as between the Baptists and other large denominations of Christians.

In the division of the columns of Reported Contributions, in order to invite uniformity, the following distinctions are made by the editor, when computing from the minutes. In the column of Salaries and Expenses, only those sums which are expended in the actual running of the interests are taken. These include salaries of pastors, sextons, etc., light, fuel, interest on indebtedness, and incidental repairs. In the column of Miscellaneous, the contributions for the poor, for purchase of minutes, for building and purchase of lots for building, as well as any other occasional expenditures, are noted. None of these latter are legitimate church expenses, unless the former, which is put under the head of Miscellaneous, because it partakes more largely of benevolence than expense, and often is not required as a perpetual charge upon the church. When it is possible to separate the contributions of Sunday-schools, the expense of conducting is put under the head of Salaries and Expenses, and the contributions to Missions under its head. Where this latter is not specified, nothing remains but to classify it as Miscellaneous. The tables are constructed upon the idea that the interests of Church and Sunday-school are identical, and form but one unit of work in any given instance.

* Churches in adjoining States not included. † The Colored Associations do not co-operate with the YEAR-BOOK. Those included in the General Association are in other associations; the figures given are taken from the minutes of that body, and are incomplete; the efforts to obtain information meet with constant discouragement. Mount Olivet has dissolved. West Union has divided. From these Graves Co. and West Kentucky are forming. For want of exact returns last reported figures of West Union are given until the new organizations are perfected.

NOTE.—Great difficulty is always experienced in forming this table, because of the immensity of the territory, and also for want of uniformity in methods of collating the statistics. The matter of uniformity is being remedied, however, and we are able to fill the column of baptisms with greater accuracy. It is not always possible to distinguish between ordained ministers and missionaries; some year-books including all missionaries as such. For America, Great Britain, Sweden, Germany, and a few other countries, as well as our mission fields, the figures are for 1893: the remainder for 1892. Acknowledgment is due the editor of the "Baptist Hand-Book" of Great Britain, the Rev. Samuel Harris Booth, D. D., for aid rendered in this table. The "non-reporting churches included under Great Britain are from Dr. Booth's estimate, and include those churches which have withdrawn from the "Baptist Union" of England.

NOTE.—Great difficulty is always experienced in forming this table, because of the immensity of the territory, and also for want of uniformity in methods of collating the statistics. The matter of uniformity is being remedied, however, and we are able to fill the column of baptisms with greater accuracy. It is not always possible to distinguish between ordained ministers and missionaries; some year-books including all missionaries as such. For America, Great Britain, Sweden, Germany, and a few other countries, as well as our mission fields, the figures are for 1893: the remainder for 1891. Acknowledgment is due the editor of the "Baptist Hand-Book" of Great Britain, the Rev. Samuel Harris Booth, D. D., for aid rendered in this table. The "non-reporting churches included under Great Britain are from Dr. Booth's estimate, and include those churches which have withdrawn from the "Baptist Union" of England.

STANDARD WORKS.

The New Directory for Baptist Churches.

By Edward T. Hiscox, D.D. 12mo, 604 pp. Price, $1.50.

It is not expected that this will take the place of the works by the same author, namely—"The Short Method," "Star Book," "Standard Manual," etc., but it supplements these, giving the salient features of each, and yet being more comprehensive than any one of them. It is a work essential to all ministers, and to all who desire the fullest information in regard to the polity, the faith of our denomination, and the most correct guidance in the application of our principles.

It is published in good shape, on good paper with good binding, and is in every respect the best book of its kind in existence.

The Ancient British and Irish Churches.

Including the Life and Labors of St. Patrick.

By William Cathcart, D.D. 12mo, 345 pp. Price, $1.50.

No period of church history is more obscure than that covered by this book. Most persons, if not acknowledging the claims of the Roman Catholic Church in regard thereto, have been devoid of the knowledge necessary in the controverting of these claims. Dr. Cathcart furnishes this knowledge. In his book we read the true history of those early Christians—Ninian, Kentigern, Columba, and St. Patrick, and the real Christian character of their foundations, and their schools—Bangor, Iona, Whitby, and the like. With very great industry Dr. Cathcart has gathered his information respecting these and their work. He has gone to the original sources, and his history will be a standard. All may not accept his conclusions, but all will be grateful for the work which he has done.

Christ's Acted Parables.

A Study of the Miracles.

By N. S. Burton, D. D. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

The relation of the miracles of our Lord to his ministry has been subject to very great misapprehension. Dr. Burton has conceived of the miracles of Christ as acted parables, as his title indicates. The miracle, according to his thought, contains moral, spiritual truth, no less than the parable. He has given us a thoroughly good book. Its style is clear and its thought evangelical and strong.

The Pentateuch.

By Rev. A. J. Rowland, D. D. 16mo, 96 pp. Price, 50 Cents.

This is the first of the series of Bible Handbooks for which provision has been made by the Society. In an Introduction, Dr. Rowland deals in a very just and scholarly way with the question of the higher criticism. He is appreciative of the scholarship arrayed under its banner, but holds to the "old paths" nevertheless, and moreover successfully defends his position. The book will be found of great value to our young people, and others who want to understand the matters with which it deals.

The Life of Jesus.

By Rev. O. C. S. Wallace. 16mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 Cents.

The matter of the book appeared in a series of studies in the Young Peoples Union, the organ of the National Society. It is commended by that Society to its constituency, and has been catalogued as a volume in the "Christian Culture Courses," recently established. The appearance of the book comports well with its contents, and it is deserving of a wide circulation.

Outline Analysis of the Books of the Bible.

By Professor Barnard C. Taylor. 16mo, 192 pp. Price, 75 cents.

This is, as its name indicates, an outline of certain features pertaining to the books of the Bible. It tells us of the author, the date, the historical occasion, the leading topic or topics, the chief purpose, points of especial interest, relations to other books of the Bible, topics for special study, and gives general analyses of the several books of God's Word. It is clear, comprehensive, and yet brought into brief compass.

Charles H. Spurgeon: His Life and Works.

By H. L. Wayland, D. D. 12mo, 317 pp. Price, $1.25.

The author had long been a personal friend of the great Baptist preacher, and presents his life as seen in the pulpit, in the orphanage, in the college, and in his home.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

Clerks of Associations will greatly assist in the compilation of these figures, if they note the following particulars in their Minutes:

1. The number of churches. 2. The names and post-offices of all ordained ministers whether pastors or not. 3. The separated totals of additions by baptism, letter, experience, and restoration. 4. The separated totals of diminutions by death, letter, exclusion, and erasure. 5. Amount of church expenses and benevolent contributions. 6. Specify on the title-page to what State the Association belongs. 7. Indicate if any of the churches are located in other States.

The Minutes of State Conventions and General Associations have heretofore furnished valuable help. The value of these Minutes will be greatly increased if they embody:

1. Correct lists of all the Associations in the State, with the total of statistics as given above.

2. The name and statistics of all colored Baptist Associations.

3. The names and statistics of all unassociated Baptist churches.

4. The number of Baptist meeting-houses, their value and seating capacity, together with the number and value of church parsonages, and the total value of all church property.

5. The statistics of Sunday-schools—giving in full—the number of schools, officers and teachers, scholars, volumes in library, scholars baptized, school expenses, and benevolent contributions.

6. The name and post-office address of every ordained Baptist minister and of each superintendent in the State.

7. Ministers ordained, churches recognized, and meeting-houses dedicated during the year—giving the name, date, and place of each.

8. Ordained ministers who have died during the year.

The clerks or secretaries of all Baptist Associations, Conventions, Theological Seminaries, Colleges, and other educational institutions, are earnestly requested to forward, as soon as possible, two copies of their Minutes, Reports, or Catalogues, to A. J. Rowland, D. D., No. 1420 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia. Should any churches fail to report at the annual meeting, let the membership previously reported be included in the total membership.

To insure insertion, these statistics should be received not later than Dec. 1.

RATES OF POSTAGE.

Letters to any part of the United States, two cents for every ounce, or fraction thereof prepaid. Registered letters, ten cents in addition to the regular postage.

Circulars, books (printed), and other printed matter, in packages not exceeding four pounds in weight, one cent for every two ounces. All matter not prepaid at letter rates not free, must be so wrapped that it can be examined without destroying the wrapper. The sender may write his own name or address, with the word "From" above and preceding the same; and in either case may make simple marks intended to designate a word or passage of the text to which it is desired to call attention. Upon the cover or blank leaves of any book, or of any printed matter, there may be placed a single manuscript dedication or inscription, that does not partake of the nature of a personal correspondence.

Newspapers and periodical publications sent by persons other than the publishers and news agents, one cent for every four ounces, or fraction thereof.

Merchandise, samples, seeds in packages not exceeding four pounds in weight, one cent for each ounce or fractional part thereof. Samples may be numbered to correspond with the numbers in a descriptive letter.

Liquids, poisons, explosives, and other dangerous matter, excluded.

To Canada and the British Provinces.—Same as to any point in the United States.

To Brazil, British India, China, Denmark, Egypt, France, Germany, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Mexico, Newfoundland, Portugal, Russia, Spain, Sweden, and Turkey,—letters, prepayment optional, five cents per half ounce; newspapers, and other printed matter, or samples of merchandise, one cent for every two ounces.

The postage on all letters to be forwarded by mail to any part of the United States, or to any foreign country to which payment is required, must be prepaid by postage stamps. Letters deposited without being properly prepaid will be sent immediately to the Dead Letter Office at Washington.

Anniversary.

The Eightieth Anniversary was held at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., May 27-29, 1894. There were present 180 life members, 75 annual members, 37 delegates, and 29 visitors, a total of 321. The largest attendance was from Massachusetts, 93; New York, 86; Pennsylvania, 30; and Connecticut, 32. There were 28 States represented, the District of Columbia, and 4 foreign lands. The Annual Sermon was delivered by Kerr B. Tupper, D. D., Colorado, from Matt. 26 : 8.

The programme of exercises consisted in an address on "The Love of Christ, the Great Motive to Missions," by President Strong, on taking the chair; and a number of addresses by missionaries detailing the work upon their respective fields. Alvah Hovey, D. D., Mass., from the committee appointed at the preceding anniversary, made an elaborate report on the relation of schools and higher education to missionary operations, concluding with recommendations, that the school work be continued with such changes as would increase their efficiency in promoting evangelization; that effort be made to impress upon native converts their duty to provide for the education of their children; the employment of none but consistent Christians as teachers; the teaching of Christian truth to have the first place; declaring the benefits of State inspection; the defensibility of grants in aid from the British government, yet to be accepted with much caution; caution in the establishment of high schools or colleges; and the adoption of manual service in boarding schools for girls, particularly where education is gratuitous. With an amendment which provided for the discontinuance of State aid to schools when practicable this important paper was adopted. This report occupied much of the time of the session. A Committee was ordered to report at the next meeting on the relationship of the Society to the several women's societies. The further exercises were of a routine character. Various amendments to the Constitution were presented and adopted, but the printed proceedings do not contain them in detail.

The Annual Report.

In view of the financial stringency the report stated that a conservative schedule of appropriations had been drawn, and yet it had been impossible to avoid an indebtedness of unusual proportions. For the first time in many years, not a single out-going missionary was to be presented. However, the report was cheerful in treating of the noble response of the churches at a time of great peril; the first half of the year the churches gave almost nothing, and during eleven months the receipts had been but $130,000; but in the last month the receipts arose to the sum of $132,165, the largest amount given in any single month. Reference is made to the holding of frequent missionary meetings and prayer conferences in representative portions of the country; the increased interest in the Students' Volunteer Movement; and the relations which exist between the treasuries of the Union and those of the various women's societies.

Financial.

The Treasurer has received during the year from all sources the sum of $485,000.12 as follows: Donations, $262,091.02; legacies, $31,873.56; Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, $94,984.45; Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the West, $38,103.27; Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of California, $801.61; Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of Oregon, $415.00; additions to permanent funds and bond accounts, $19,056.39; income of funds and bond accounts, $30,027.66; government grants to schools, $4,514.54; magazine account, $248.37; balance of interest account, $421.06; Bible Day collections, $2,261.11; American and Foreign Bible Society, $100.00; balance of Children's Day account, 99.08; total receipts, $485,000.12. Balance on hand April 1, 1893, $25 118.37; debt, April 1, 1894, $203,595.83; total, $713,714.37.

Expenditures: Appropriations for the year for current expenses, $694.657.98; added to permanent funds and bond accounts, $19,056.39; total, $713,714.37.

The Work Abroad.

Difficulties arising from the general derangement of business at home, and embarrassments springing out of a few complications on the field, had been contended with during the year. Allusion is made to many sacrifices on the part of missionaries. It was needful for the Foreign Secretary to personally visit some of the European fields for the adjustment of difficulties. There had been 63 men and women, not including wives of missionaries, forwarded to their fields; of these 15 were missionaries returning after rest at home, and the remainder were those who had been virtually under appointment and had arranged to go out at the beginning of the fiscal year. While many desirable applications had been made, no appointments had been justified under existing circumstances. On none of the important stations has the work been stationary. The burning question was as to the surrender of any of the fields now occupied. A painful complication with one of the missionaries had been fully investigated and resulted in his retirement.

The list of appointees for the year number 19; 32 had departed for Burma, 9 to Assam, 12 to South India, 30 to China, 3 to Japan, and 9 to Africa, including wives of a number of missionaries. The number returned home for a season was 58; 10 had resigned and one had been dismissed. There are nine who are not in active service on account of age or infirmity. The necrology contains the names of Mrs. C. E. Ingham, of the Congo Mission; Rev. F.C. Gleichman, Congo; Rev W. W. Campbell, Telugu Mission; Rev. Stephen B. Rand, Burma; Mrs. J. E. Clough, Telugu; Miss Emma O. Ambrose, Burma; Mrs. Mary P. Gates, of the Woman's Work; Mrs. R. Telford, formerly of Siam, but latterly in the home work; Mrs. Thos. Allen, formerly of the Burman Mission; Dr. D. J. McGowan, Shanghai; Mrs. A. A. Newhall, India; Mrs. A. L. Bain, Congo; and Mrs. F. D. Phinney, of the Rangoon Mission. Reference is also made to several who were prominently identified with the work at home.

Bible Work.

A new edition of the Telugu New Testament had been printed. Portions of the Scriptures in the Assam and Garo tongues are to be issued at once. Dr. Brown's work of translation into the Assamese language continues. A reference Bible in Pwo-Karen had been published at Rangoon, and a second edition of the Pwo-Karen Bible is in process of printing. A photo engraved edition of the Sgau-Karen Bible is being prepared in this country.

Digest of Operations.

Burma.

Quiet but real progress is reported. Native young men are offering themselves for work among the upper tribes. Educational work had been advanced. New buildings had been erected at Insein and the Burman Biblical Institute removed thither. The Rangoon College had been inadequate for the accommodation of students seeking its advantages. A gracious revival has been enjoyed. The points occupied and the force of workers is as follows:

Rangoon.—The capital of Lower Burma, on the Rangoon River, the eastern delta-branch of the Irawadi, twenty miles from the sea. It is accessible to large ships, and has a large and rapidly increasing foreign trade and an important traffic by the river. The city is well built, and has a population of 134,176. Burman Department.—A. T. Rose, D. D., Mrs. A. T. Rose, Rev. E. W. Kelly, Mrs. E. W. Kelly, Mrs. E. L. Stevens, Miss E. F. of the Himalaya Mountains. Rev. John Firth, Mrs. John Firth.

India.

THE TELUGUS.

Steady and healthful progress is reported, especially in decided movements among the native Christians in a deeper spiritual life. The rapid growth of the mission with scant provision for oversight, was attended with evils, which are becoming remedied. The vast and populous fields are being sub-divided and new stations are being opened. Increase of interest in the education of their children by native converts is reported. The new College of Ongole was opened Feb. 7, 1894, with what was reported as a good beginning. The following are the stations and missionaries:

NELLORE.—In Madras Presidency, on the River Pennar, fifteen miles from the sea and one hundred miles north of Madras. It has a population of 17,505. A railway connects Nellore with Madras. D. Downie, D. D., Mrs. D. Downie, Miss J. E. Wayte, Miss Ida Faye, M. D.

ALLUR.—A new district in the Nellore field. Rev. W. S. Davis, Mrs. W. S. Davis.

ONGOLE.—One hundred and eighty-one miles north from Madras and ten miles from the sea. It is built in a crescent around the base of a high hill, and has 9,200 inhabitants. J. E. Clough, D. D., Rev. Oscar R. McKay, Mrs. O. R. McKay, Prof. Lewis E. Martin, Mrs. L. E. Martin, Rev. Arthur H. Curtis, Mrs. A. H. Curtis, Rev. Frank H. Levering, Mrs. Ellen M. Kelly, Miss Sarah Kelly, Miss Amelia G. Dessa, Rev. Frank Kurtz, Miss L. B. Kuhlen.

RAMAPATAM.—A small town on the Bay of Bengal, between Nellore and Ongole. It is the seat of the Brownson Telugu Theological Seminary, and is on the Buckingham Canal. W. B. Boggs, D. D., Mrs. W. B. Boggs, R. R. Williams, D. D., Mrs. R. R. Williams, Miss E. J. Cummings, M. D.

SECUNDERABAD.—The headquarters of the British forces in the Nizam's dominions, three miles north of Hyderabad, the largest Mohammedan city of India, and next to the largest in the world, having a population of 263,005. Secunderabad is three hundred and fifty-eight miles northwest of Madras. Population, exclusive of garrison, about 50,000. Rev. R. Maplesden, Mrs. R. Maplesden, Rev. Cyreniess R. Marsh.

KURNOOL.—On the Tungabhudra River, one hundred and ten miles southwest from Hyderabad, and the center of a large Telugu population. It has 20,329 inhabitants. Rev. G. N. Thomsen, Mrs. G. N. Thomsen.

MADRAS.—On the Bay of Bengal, the capital of the Presidency of Madras. It has only an artificial harbor, yet there is an extensive commerce. Population in 1872, 397,552; in 1881, 405,848. Rev. Chas. Hadley, Mrs. Chas. Hadley, Miss M. M. Day, Miss Johanna Ibschuff, Rev. Peter B. Guernsey, Miss Susan I. Kurtz, Rev. T. P. Dudley, Jr., Rev. Jno. Dussman, Mrs. Jno. Dussman.

HANAMACONDA.—Eighty-six miles northeast of Secunderabad. It is an important railway station and political centre of the Nizam's dominions. The population is about 8,000. Rev. W. H. Beeby, Mrs. W. H. Beeby, Rev. J. S. Timpany, M. D., Mrs. J. S. Timpany.

CUMBUM.—About sixty miles west of Ongole. There are 7,170 inhabitants. Miss Erika A. Bergman, Miss Ida A. Skinner, Rev. John Newcomb, Mrs. John Newcomb, Miss R. E. Pinney.

VINUKONDA.—On the new line of railway from Bellary to Guntur, about sixty-five miles northwest from Ongole. It has 5,000 or 6,000 inhabitants. Rev. Jacob Heinrichs, Mrs. J. Heinrichs, Rev. W. E. Boggs, Mrs. W. E. Boggs.

NURSARAVAPETTA.—On the same railway, fifty-five miles north of Ongole. Rev. Wm. Powell, Mrs. Wm. Powell, Rev. Jno. F. Burditt, Mrs. J. F. Burditt, Miss Helen D. Newcomb.

BAPATLA.—Fifty miles northeast from Ongole, with 6,086 inhabitants. Rev. Edwin Bullard, Mrs. Edwin Bullard, Rev. Wm. C. Owen, Mrs. W. C. Owen, Rev. Wm. A. Stanton, Mrs. W. A. Stanton, Miss L. H. Booker.

UDAYAGIRI.—A small town sixty miles northeast from Nellore. Rev. Wm. R. Manley, Mrs. W. R. Manley.

PALMUR.—A small town about half-way between Secunderabad and Kurnool. Rev. Elbert Chute, Mrs. Elbert Chute, Rev. W. G. Scott, Mrs. W. G. Scott.

NALGONDA.—About fifty miles southeast of Secunderabad, in the center of a dense Telugu population. Rev. A. Frieson, Mrs. A. Frieson.

KANIGIRI.—Southwest of Ongole; the Christians are more thickly settled here than in any other part of the Telugu field. Rev. George H. Brock, Mrs. G. H. Brock.

BANGALORE.—An important city in the southern part of Madras Presidency. It is outside the Telugu country, and occupied as a healthful and favorable headquarters for literary work. John McLaurin, D. D., Mrs. John McLaurin, Mrs. L. P. Pearce, in Ootacamund.

BOLARUM.—Twelve miles north of Secunderabad, and a favorite place of residence for English officials. Rev. Wm. E. Hopkins, Mrs. Wm. E. Hopkins, Miss M. M. Armstrong, M. D.

KAVALI.—South of Ramapatam. Rev. D. S. Bagshaw, Mrs. D. S. Bagshaw.

KUNDAKUR.—South of Ongole, a part of the old Ongole field. Rev. W. Boggess, Mrs. W. Boggess.

ATMAKUR.—Forty miles west of Nellore Rev. I. S. Hankins.

JANAMPETT.—A new station to be opened.

China.

Very diligent methods had been employed in city and village preaching. Multitudes have thus heard the word. A number of advance stations had been occupied. Work among the Hakkas had been reinforced and was promising as to results. Eastern China had also been reinforced. Steps had been taken to enter Central China and found a mission at Hanyang. An interesting episode was the departure of eleven for Western China, which party at the latest reports were at Suichaufu. The following is the list of stations and laborers:

BANGKOK, IN SIAM—And its capital, with a population of 500,000, with extensive manufactures and commerce. Rev. Lewis A. Eaton, Mrs. L. A. Eaton.

NINGPO.—Province of Che-Kiang, one of the open ports of China, on the River Yung, twelve miles from the sea. It has a population of about 200,000, and is surrounded by a populous country. Junk-building is carried on, and there are extensive manufactures, and a large trade in salt, with considerable foreign commerce. Rev. J. R. Goddard, Mrs. J. R. Goddard, J. S. Grant, M. D., Mrs. J. S. Grant, Rev. Wm. H. Cossum, Mrs. W. H. Cossum, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Miss H. L. Corbin, Miss Emily A. Parker, Miss M. E. Barchet.

SWATOW.—Province of Quang-tung, a treaty port on the estuary of the Han River, five miles from the sea, two hundred and twenty-five miles east from Canton and about one hundred miles northeast from Hongkong. It has an active foreign commerce and large manufactories. Population, 30,000. Wm. Ashmore, D. D., Mrs. Wm. Ashmore, S. B. Partridge, D. D., Mrs. S. B. Partridge, Rev. J. M. Foster, Mrs. J. M. Foster, Rev. Wm. Ashmore, Jr., Mrs. Wm. Ashmore, Jr., Mrs. A. K. Scott, M. D., Miss Mary Dunwiddie, Miss Mary K. Scott, Miss Alice M. Ross, M. D.

SHAOHING.—About one hundred miles west from Ningpo, a large city of about 150,000 inhabitants, in the midst of a fertile and populous country. Rev. Horace Jenkins, Mrs. Horace Jenkins, Rev. W. S. Sweet, Mrs. W. S. Sweet, Miss M. A. Dowling, Miss L. A. Snowden.

MUNKEULIANG.—Among the Hakkas, a village of 300 inhabitants, sixty miles west of Swatow. Rev. W. H. Bradt (since deceased).

KINHWA.—A city of the second rank, about two hundred and fifty miles southwest from Ningpo. Population, about 50,000. Rev. Alfred Copp, Mrs. Alfred Copp, S. P. Barchet, M. D., Mrs. S. P. Barchet, Rev. T. D. Holmes, Mrs. T. D. Holmes, Miss Annie S. Young, Miss C. E. Righter.

HUCHAU.—A large city about one hundred miles southwest of Shanghai, and a noted silk mart, with a population of 70,000. Rev. G. L. Mason, Mrs G. L. Mason, Rev. E. N. Fletcher, Mrs. E. N. Fletcher.

SUI-KHAU-FU.—A large city on the Yangtze River in Szchuan, the most western province of China, which has a population of 40,000,000. Rev. Wm. M. Upcraft, Mr. George Warner, Mrs. George Warner, Rev. C. H. Finch, M. D., Mrs. C. H. Finch, Miss Emma Inveen, Miss Bessie G. Forbes, Rev. Robert Wellwood, Mrs. Robert Wellwood, Rev. F. J. Bradshaw, F. B. Malcolm, M. D., Rev. G. W. Hill, Mrs. G. W. Hill, Mr. W. F. Beaman, Mr. C. F. Wiking, Mrs. C. F. Wiking, Miss M. A. Gardelin, Miss Frances C. Bliss.

KAYIN.—An important city and a political center in the country of Hakkas, or highlanders of Ouang-tung province, northwest of Swatow. Rev. George Campbell, Mrs. Geo. Campbell, Rev. G. E. Whitman, Mrs. G. E. Whitman, Edward Bailey, M. D., Mrs. Edward Bailey, Miss Ella Campbell, Miss M. L. Ostrum.

UNGKUNG.—In the Jiopheng district, north of Swatow, and the center of a large population. J. W. Carlin, D. D., Mrs. J. W. Carlin.

HANKOW.—With the neighboring cities of Wuchang and Hanyang, is the largest center of population in China, having 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 inhabitants. It is on the Yangtze River, six hundred miles from the sea, at the head of navigation for ocean steamers. Rev. J. S. Adams, Mrs. J. S. Adams, Rev. W. F. Gray, Mrs. W. F. Gray, Miss Lydia J. Wyckoff, M. D.

CHUNGKING.—The exchange center for Western China. Rev. W. G. Silke, Mrs. W. G. Silke, C. A. Salquist.

Japan.

Excellent work had been done amid great disadvantages. The force had become depleted. The country is in a condition of ferment, and now war exists with China. A strong anti-foreign element has sprung up in political councils. Progress has been made toward the establishment of a theological seminary at Yokohama, and it was expected that the institution would be opened in October. Two other schools seem to be imperatively called for. The following are now at work at the stations designated:

YOKOHAMA.—The most important port of Japan, on the west shore of Yeddo Bay, seventeen miles south of Tokyo. The city has more than half the foreign trade of the empire. The population numbers 139,058, of whom 3,010 are Chinese. Rev. A. A. Bennett, Mrs. A. A. Bennett, Rev. C. K. Harrington, Mrs. C. K. Harrington, Rev. J. L. Dearing, Mrs. J. L. Dearing, Rev. F. G. Harrington, Mrs. F. G. Harrington, Miss E. L. Rolman, Miss N. J. Wilson, Miss C. A. Converse.

TOKYO.—The capital of the Japanese Empire, on both sides of the Ogara River at its mouth, and has a larger area than any European or American capital, comprising about sixty square miles. The population numbers 1,400,000. It is the seat of the Imperial University, with nearly one hundred instructors, and has a large number of schools. Rev. C. H. D. Fisher, Mrs. C. H. D. Fisher, Rev. G. W. Taft, Mrs. G. W. Taft, Rev. J. C. Brand, Mrs. J. C. Brand, Miss A. H. Kidder, Miss M. A. Whitman, Miss A. M. Clagett.

KOBE.—The foreign settlement of the city of Hiogo on the Inland Sea. It is well built, has a fine harbor, and a large tea trade. The population of Hiogo and Kobe is 117,000. H. H. Rhees, D. D., Mrs. H. H. Rhees, Rev. R. A. Thomson, Mrs. R. A. Thomson, Miss Ella R. Church.

SENDAI.—The next important city in the north of Japan. It has 85,600 inhabitants and a railroad to Tokyo. Rev. E. H. Jones, Mrs. E. H. Jones, Rev. S. W. Hamblen, Mrs. S. W. Hamblen, Miss Nellie E. Fife, Miss Lavinia Mead, Miss Annie S. Buzzell.

SHIMONOSEKI.—A city of 33,725 population, on the strait which connects the Inland Sea with the Yellow Sea. It has a large commerce. It is the port for Chofu. Rev. Richard L. Halsey, Mrs. R. L. Halsey, Miss Olive M. Blunt, Miss Harriet M. Brown, Mrs. Ellen Sharland, Miss F. A Duffield.

MORIOKA.—About 100 miles north of Sendai, with which it is connected by railroad, and has 32,646 population. Rev. S. W. Hamblen has charge.

NEMURO.—In the eastern part of Yesso, the most northern of the large islands of Japan. It has 8,000 people. Rev. W. B. Parshley, Mrs. W. B. Parshley, Mrs. C. H. Carpenter, Mrs. E. L. Cummings.

OSAKA.—The second largest city in Japan, having nearly 1,000,000 inhabitants, and is a little east of Kobe on the railroad to Yokohama. Rev. J. H. Scott, Mrs. J. H. Scott, Rev. Wm. Wynd, Mrs. Wm. Wynd, Miss Mattie Walton.

Africa.

The year was a trying one. Death had reduced the number of the workers. Serious uprisings of natives against imposition of State officials was a cause of embarrassment. The ravages of the rum traffic are deplorable. The advantages of civilization are however reaching more and more into the interior, and the spirit of the missionaries is cheerful and hopeful. The workers and stations occupied are:

MUKIMVIKA.—At the mouth of the Congo River, on the south side. As it is a healthful place, it is resorted to as a sanitarium by missionaries from the interior. Franklin P. Lynch, M. D., Mrs. F. P. Lynch, Rev. A. L. Bain, Mr. John S. Burns, Mr. Wesley M. Biggs.

PALABALA.—110 miles from the mouth of the Congo River. For a healthful location the station is placed 12 miles back from the south bank of the river. Rev. Isaac Cadman, Miss L. C. Fleming, Rev. J. C. Dawes.

BANZA MANTEKE.—40 miles beyond Palabala, a fine location in a fertile and populous country. Rev. Henry Richards, Mrs. Henry Richards, W. M. Leslie, M. D., Mr. Thomas Hill, Miss F. A. Cole.

LUKUNGA.—69 miles above Banza Manteke, between that station and Stanley Pool. Rev. T. H. Hoste, Rev. C. B. Antisdel, Rev. George H. Jackson, M. D., Mrs. G. H. Jackson, Rev. Lyman H. Morse, Mrs. L. H. Morse, Miss C. A. Howard, Mrs. Bella Claflin, Miss Nora A. Gordon, Miss Bessie E. Gardiner.

LEOPOLDVILLE.—At the head of Livingstone Falls, on Stanley Pool, destined to become a place of great importance in the growth of the Congo Valley in commerce and civilization. Rev. A. Sims, M. D., Mr. J. H. Camp, engineer of the "Henry Reed," Rev. Thomas Adams.

BWEMBA.—In the populous district of Chumbiri, on the east bank of the Congo, 170 miles above Stanley Pool, and just below the marshy regions of the great central valley. Rev. A. Billington, Mrs. A. Billington, Rev. C. B. Glenesk, Mrs. C. B. Glenesk.

BOLENGI.—On the left bank of the Congo River, at the lower crossing of the equator, among a numerous and very vigorous tribe of people called Balolo. The language of this people is spoken over an extensive territory in the great southern bend of the Congo. Rev. C. B. Banks, Mrs. C. B. Banks, Rev. J. B. Murphy, Mrs. J. B. Murphy, Mr. E. V. Sjoblom.

KINJILA.—70 miles southwest of Leopoldville, on the road to Lukunga. Rev. P. Frederickson, Mrs. P. Frederickson, Rev. Christian Nelson, Mrs. C. Nelson.

IKEBU.—60 miles below Bolengi, and at the entrance of the stream connecting with Lake Mantumba. Rev. Joseph Clark, Mrs. Joseph Clark, Rev. Thomas Moody, Mrs Thomas Moody, Mr. James A. Finch, Mrs. James A. Finch, Miss Gertrude Milne.

MATADI.—At the head of navigation on the Lower Congo, and the starting point for the railroad now being built to Stanley Pool. The river is navigable to this point for ocean vessels. Rev. C. H Harvey, Rev. Wm. A. Hall, Mrs. Wm. A. Hall, Rev. F. A. Agar, Mrs. F. A. Agar.

Europe.

FRANCE.—The work is most encouraging; the movement attending the labors of missionary pastors is marked; an increased interest among evangelical Protestants in the position occupied by Baptists is noted; nightly services are held in crowded centers; an entire body of believers at Neuchatel had been added to the Baptist ranks; all the stations report prosperity. The work has been directed from the rooms at Boston without the intervention of a French committee. The time seems near for the organization of the churches in France and Switzerland into Associations after the American plan.

GERMANY.—The aid rendered is subject to home control. Great prosperity had attended the work. Over 1,900 had been baptized in Germany and progress noted in Hungary, where one missionary reported 999 baptisms. In Vienna the accommodations are too small for the people. There are demands for preaching in Bohemia. Only in Eastern Europe do there come complaints that the work lags. In many German cities new churches have been organized, noticeably at Strasburg and Basle. The tract distribution had reached 11,622,748 pages. A large increase of sales of books is reported. There had been $12,000 raised for a fund for building a publication house. There had been printed, bound, and circulated 16,848 Bibles, 17,401 Testaments, and 2,067 parts of Scripture. The weekly paper had a list of 8,000 subscribers.

SWEDEN.—The work here is also under native control, and aided by the Missionary Union. There had been 1,847 baptisms. The number of preaching stations had been increased and now number 286. Much village work by volunteers is carried on. The ministers sustained by the Union now number 34. The number of pupils in Sunday-schools exceeds the reported membership, being 37,254. The activity of Baptists has aroused a corresponding activity in the established church. There are in the Theological Seminary 42 pupils, 11 being in the graduating class.

DENMARK.—The statistics reported are 70 ministers, 25 churches, 239 baptized, 3,165 members, and 3,880 pupils in Sunday-schools.

FINLAND.—Baptisms reported, 108. Ten men are at work. Two chapels built during the year. There are difficulties to contend with arising from the oppression of the laws which are not friendly to the Baptists.

NORWAY.—The Union aided four churches and missionaries. From Tromsoe, seven churches have been sent out into points north of the polar circle. The work progresses finely at many points where there are evidences of much self-sacrifice. A deep religious movement is noted by students of the situation on the ground.

SPAIN.—There have been larger opportunities for preaching and meetings have been well attended. There are now 13 villages where evangelical labors are constant. The Union supports six preachers, and there are ten others who are in the work. The baptisms reported were five.

Summary.

The number of stations in heathen lands is 84, missionaries 474, native pastors and helpers 2,138, churches 1,612, baptisms reported in 1893, 11,450; members 185,228. For missions in European lands, reference should be made to the general table of Baptists in the world, as the relation of the Union to them is co-operative, the work being controlled generally by local authorities.

Institutions of Learning.

The institutions for higher education under control of the Missionary Union, wholly or in part, are: The Baptist Theological Seminary, Insein, near Rangoon, Burma; Rangoon Baptist College, Burma; Brownson Telugu Theological Seminary, Ramapatam, India; American Baptist Mission College, Ongole, India; Biblical School, Shaohing, China; Baptist Theological Seminary, Yokohama, Japan; Baptist Theological Seminary, Stockholm, Sweden; Baptist Theological School, Hamburg, Germany.

Anniversary.

The Seventieth Anniversary was held at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 25–27, 1894. The Committee on Enrollment reported the attendance of 470 persons of all classes of delegates. The Annual Sermon was delivered by W. T. Chase, D. D., Pennsylvania.

The programme of exercises consisted of a memorial service of the late Secretary, Dr. Benjamin Griffith, when addresses were made by Warren Randolph, D. D., Rhode Island, and P. S. Henson, D. D., Illinois. The dedication of Chapel Car "Glad Tidings," with an address by W. C. Bitting, D. D., New York; and platform addresses by Rev. W. W. Dawley, on "Work in the West"; W. C. Bitting, D.D., on "Colporter Work in Cities"; B. D. Thomas, D. D., Ontario, on "Colportage"; Henry McDonald, D.D., on "The Work of the Society in the South"; R. G. Seymour, D D., on "Tract Work"; and representations of their work by the following appointees of the Society: Mr. Charles Rhoades, Ohio; Rev. S. N. Vass, Virginia; Rev. E. B. Edmonds, Wisconsin; and Rev. L. E. Peters, West Virginia.

In addition to the routine business of the meeting, a resolution prevailed recommending the revival of the "Baptist Quarterly"; as were also resolutions expressive of the sense of bereavement in the death of Dr. Griffith and of hope in the selection of his successor.

The Annual Report.

In the Bible Department, the receipts had been $21,236.47, of which $2,261.11 were paid to the American Baptist Missionary Union, and $1,000 to the Southern Baptist Convention, for Bible work on foreign fields. The balance on hand for Bible work until the next November was $7,515.49. The work of completing the revision of the Old Testament was progressing as rapidly as practicable. The number of copies of Scripture distributed by grant in this department had been 32,518.

In the Missionary Department, the receipts had been $127,649.91, of which $49,768.66 came from contributions of churches, Sunday-schools, and individuals, being $7,782.60 less than the preceding year. The importunate appeals for help were as large, and effort made to answer these calls rather than retrench; the result had not been gratifying, since a deficiency of $14,533.81 had resulted, but it was hoped that early donations would supply this need. The demand for an increased work among a half million Swedes, 133,000 Danes, and 323,000 Norwegians, the 70,000 Hungarians, 148,000 Poles, 107,000 Chinese, 300,000 French Canadians, and 190,000 Italians is painfully apparent. Two Chapel Cars had been at work continuously, one in Minnesota and west of the Mississippi, and the other on the Pacific coast. These cars had traveled 17,834 miles, and among other work accomplished, had distributed 681 Bibles and 74,945 pages of tracts; there had been 1,313 sermons and addresses delivered, and 207 prayer meetings held in them; 589 families had been visited; there were 18 baptisms, 7 church organizations, 11 Sunday-school organizations, and 4 Sunday-school institutes reported. A third Chapel Car was dedicated at the meeting of the Society, which was given by Mr. Wm. Hills, of New York, on condition that another car, being the fourth, should be early in operation.

The summary of missionary work of the year is as follows:

Number of missionaries and workers, 116; days of service, 26,116; miles traveled, 512,548; books sold, 28,878; books given away, 1,788; pages of tracts distributed, 566,744; sermons and addresses, 18,927; prayer meetings held 5,837; families visited, 43,445; persons baptized, 704; churches constituted, 48; Sunday-schools organized, 285; institutes held and addressed, 628; Sunday-schools aided by donations of Scriptures, books, periodicals, etc., 332; pastors and ministerial students aided with grants for their libraries, 330.

Business Department.

The sales in the Book Department amounted to $497,807 48. This is a decrease, owing to the financial depression. The receipts in the department, other than sales, had been $17,432.05; these include rents, income from investments, etc. The Book Department has paid as usual the salaries of the Secretaries and their assistants in the Missionary Department. The book business, as all other mercantile adventures, is subject to variation in the value of its assets, owing to fluctuations in markets, expiration of copyrights, cessation of popularity in books, some of which become obsolete through the appearance of other works on the same themes; so that a new appraisement of assets was thought to be needful. The new appraisement of stereotype plates, based on probable demand for future use, resulted in a reduction from $149,703 67, at which they had been held for many years, to $35,042.80.

The publications issued were 49 in number, of which 737,000 copies had been printed. The entire number of books, pamphlets, periodicals, and tracts, new and old, printed was 35,762,950 copies. The issue of the periodicals for the year was as follows:

Baptist Superintendent, monthly	87,500
Baptist Teacher, monthly	722,000
Our Young People, fortnightly	1,219,000
The Worker, monthly	392,700
Young Reaper, semi-monthly	3,180,000
Sunlight, semi-monthly	2,518,000
Our Little Ones, weekly	6,951,000
Picture Lessons, weekly	9,300,000
Bible Lessons, weekly	5,372,000
Senior Quarterly	458,000
Senior Inductive Studies, quarterly,	124,000
Junior Inductive Studies, quarterly,	138,000
Advanced Quarterly	1,865,000
Intermediate Quarterly	885,000
Two Years with Jesus, quarterly	154,000
Primary Quarterly	990,000
The Colporter, monthly	70,300
Picture and Question, weekly	195,000

Among these publications will be noted the new "alternative series," ordered by the Society. There had not been sufficient time to test the success of these new periodicals.

The issue of new publications includes 11 standard works, 15 Sunday-school volumes, and 16 books in paper or leatherette covers.

Financial.

Sales and receipts for merchandise and periodicals were: Philadelphia House, $160,261.88; New York, $55,777.16; Boston, $69,972.69; Chicago, $83,574.37; St. Louis, $57,253.93; Dallas, $31,101.33; Atlanta, $39,866.12; total, $497,807.48. Including sales of previous year since collected, rents in building, the Cassiday estate, and other items of interest and income, the total receipts of this department were $556,847.76, of which the cash balance from preceding year was $45,181.02.

There had been paid on account merchandise and periodicals, $340,440.36; expenses, $35,921.77; salaries and wages of Book Department, $50,121.12; and of Missionary and Bible Department, $7,660.83; Branch Houses, rent and expense, $50,854.72; machinery and fixtures, $7,959.79; interest on conditional donations, $2,704.00; grants, $2,213.63; Cassiday estate, $3,939.94; increase of reserved fund, invested temporarily for enlargement, $35,126.51; worthless and open accounts, $1,784.89; cash balances, $16,393.69. The present assets after new appraisement amounted to $912,893.36, and the liabilities were $20,831.16.

The Missionary Department received in contributions from churches, schools, and persons, $25,751.84; Children's Day, 1893, $24,017.82; legacies, $3,815.75; sales by missionaries, $14,092.28; income from various funds and contributions for specific purposes, $53,272.91; special contributions for Chapel Cars and other gifts, $6,499.31; cash, designated funds, not then used, $17,041.80; bills payable, $14,533.84; a total of $159,225.55. The payments were, for general missionary work, $74,411.80; stock for missionaries, $9,183.23; grants of Children's Day exercises, $4,177.13; grants of publications, $5,960.65; invested on conditional funds, $10,341.06; invested in securities, permanent funds, $31,395.00; interest, expense, Chapel Car, and other items, $24,756.68.

The Bible Department received from contributions on Bible Day, 1893, $11,077.74, from churches and individuals, $2,630.59; sales by missionaries, $284.76; income from permanent funds, $597.46; revision fund, ncome and contributions, $1,327.14; invested Bible fund, $1,568.78; same transferred, $3,750.00; cash balance, $8,060.76; total, $29,297.23. The payments were, for Scriptures, printed, granted, and sold, $4,336.03; to the Missionary Union, $2,261.11; Southern Convention, $1,000; grants of Bible Day exercises, $1,971.40; expense account, $1,904.91; invested and transferred on various accounts, $8,428.38. The cash balances were $9,415.40.

The securities held in trust by the Missionary and Bible Departments amounted to $475,800.00 at a par value, or $487,256.25 at market value. To this is added securities received by donations, $35,100.00.

Branch Houses.

These are located as follows: Boston, 256 Washington Street; New York, 149 and 151 Fifth Avenue; Chicago, 177 Wabash Avenue; St. Louis, 1109 Olive Street; Atlanta, 93 Whitehall Street; Dallas, 345 Main Street.

Anniversary.

The Sixty-second Annual Meeting was held at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 23, 24, 1894. There were in attendance 173 life members, 272 delegates, from twenty-eight States, the District of Columbia and Quebec; a total of 465. There did not appear to be any Annual Sermon.

The several prepared addresses were by H.W. Tilden, D.D., Ia., on "Our Western Work Just Begun"; R. S. McArthur, D. D., N. Y., on "The Regeneration of a Race"; Alex Blackburn, D. D., Mass., on "Our Church Edifice Work"; President B. L. Whitman, Me., on "College Culture for Negroes"; Wayland Hoyt, D. D., Minn., on "What the Society Stands For"; P. S. Henson, D. D., Ill., on "Our Cities"; and three addresses on the Sabbath on the general topic of the work of the Society, by H. L. Morehouse, D. D., on its Philanthropic Work; T. J. Morgan, D. D., on its Patriotic Work; and Rev. W. H. P. Faunce, on its Evangelical Work. In addition a number of representatives of the work spoke concerning the peculiar features of the fields in which they were engaged. There was also an interesting occasion at which the representatives of the Presbyterian General Assembly, then in session in the same town, were presented to the Society.

Apart from the routine business, action was taken looking to the appointment of a Committee of Conference with representatives of the Southern Baptist Convention, looking toward co-operation in work for the colored race; and resolutions were adopted protesting against the admission of Utah as a State in the American Union, concerning arbitration and the purposes of the Universal Peace Congress, co-operating with the United Christian Commission, and declaring the need of an advanced movement to secure broader endowments for schools established for the education of colored youth. A committee previously appointed upon the question of the care of dependent needy Baptist ministers reported a number of facts upon the subject, but no definite plan of action, and concluded with an invitation for suggestions for the solution of this problem. The committee was continued.

The Annual Report.

The total receipts of the year, including conditional and permanent trust funds (not including Church Edifice Loans repaid), had been $405,213.45.

These had come from fifty States and Territories; also from British Columbia, Ontario, Nova Scotia, Mexico, Japan, and England.

The receipts were classified as follows:

1. From contributions of churches, Sunday-schools, and individuals, including $15,992.53 trust funds, $301,094.09. 2. From legacies, $45,559.32. 3. Income from Church Edifice Loans and invested funds, $43,367.14. 4. From the schools of the Society, $6,530.04. 5. Miscellaneous, including receipts for "The Baptist Home Mission Monthly," $8,662.86.

A further analysis showing to what purposes these receipts were applicable, gives the following results: For General Purposes (i. e., for salaries of missionaries, teachers, officers, and expenses of administration).—From general contributions, $206,128.40; from legacies, $39,975.48; from all other sources, $21,652.97; total, $267,756 85. Designated Funds.—1. For Church Edifice Work: (a) Benevolent Fund, Contributions from churches, individuals, and Sunday-schools, $13,982 16; legacies, $2,447.88; from income of invested funds, $9,493.52; gifts returned, $25; total, $25,948.96. (b) Loan Fund. From income from loans, etc., $5,493.54. (c) Legacies for Church Edifice Investment Fund, $2,135.96. Total for Church Edifice work, $33,578.46. 2. For school buildings and other objects, $63,990.60. Permanent Funds (other than Church Edifice Funds).—From income to be added to principal, $950; contributions, $2,592.53; legacies, $2,000. Conditional or Annuity Funds (donors receiving annuities during their lives).—From individuals, $13,400.

The total expenditures for the year were $524,155.58. For missionaries' salaries, $229,198.13; for teachers' salaries, $93,933.76; school buildings, grounds, etc., $71,417.92; gifts to churches, $28,922.41; loans to churches, $8,020; expenses of schools, $5,571.64; annuities, $19,003.51; expenses of administration at the Rooms, $14,451.98; general expense and publication account, $18,302.07; Superintendents and District Secretaries, $27,810.31. The amount of the deficit of the year's work was $101,456.66; an indebtedness being reported for the first time in eight years.

Missions.

The Society's operations had been conducted during the year in forty-nine States and Territories, also in Manitoba, Northwest Territory, British Columbia, Alaska, and in six States of the Mexican Republic. The whole number of laborers supported, wholly or in part, had been 1,111, being the largest number ever reported.

They had been distributed as follows: In the New England States, 37; in the Middle and Central States, 48; in the Southern States, 215; in the Western States and Territories, including 66 in Indian Territory, 777; in the Canadian Dominion, 6; in Mexico, 26; and in Alaska, 2. French missionaries wrought in 7 States; Scandinavian missionaries in 21 States; German missionaries in 19 States, Manitoba and British Columbia; colored missionaries in 19 States and Territories.

Among the foreign population there had been 252 laborers; among the colored people, 215; the Indians, 35; the Mexicans, 26; and among Americans, 583.

Sixty-six churches had become self-supporting; 59 asked for reduced appropriations. One hundred and nine new mission stations had been taken up.

The Society aided in the maintenance of 36 established schools for the colored people, the Indians, and the Mexicans. There are 16 day schools for the Chinese; and other day schools as follows: 2 in Utah and 3 in Mexico.

The missionaries represented fourteen nationalities or peoples, viz.: Americans, Germans, French, Portuguese, Swedes, Danes, Norwegians, Finns, Welsh, Bohemians, Poles, Indians, Negroes, Chinese, Mexicans.

The summary of the year's work is as follows: Number of laborers, 1,111; weeks of labor, 35,467; churches and out-stations supplied, 2,221; sermons preached, 86,940; prayer meetings attended, 47,700; religious visits made, 250,581; Bibles and Testaments distributed, 10,826; pages of tracts distributed, 1,482,136; received by baptism, 5,998; received by letter and experience, 4,927; total church-membership, 50,791; churches organized, 149; Sunday-schools under care of missionaries, 1,162; attendance at Sunday-schools, 72,071; benevolent contributions reported, $11,052.82.

The great work of the Society continues to be the West, where there are yet in the newer States vast portions of territory which are without adequate gospel privileges. This section of the country is divided into general districts, under the supervision of effective men. The Mississippi Division, comprising the Northwest eastward of the Rocky Mountains, has W. M. Haigh, D. D., Chicago, as its Superintendent. In spite of troublous times, the year had been one of crowning mercy; the increase of the churches in efficiency and membership is reported. The Rocky Mountain Division extends from Kansas and Nebraska to the Pacific coast, and H. C. Woods, D. D., Colorado Springs, Col., is Superintendent. The newly settled lands in Oklahoma and the Cherokee Strip afforded new fields for active effort. In the vast territory of some of the States, additional conventions had been organized. The Missouri River District, has been organized with Rev. N. B. Rairden, Omaha, Neb., as Superintendent, to divide the work of the division of the Rocky Mountains. In all the States of these divisions are general missionaries who have oversight of the work within their bounds.

In addition to these superintendents of mission work, there are the following District Secretaries for the cultivation of the benevolence of the churches and the distribution of information concerning the work. The New England District, with F. T. Haslewood, D. D., Boston, Mass., as Secretary; New York and Northern New Jersey, Halsey Moore, D. D., New York; Philadelphia District, extending as far as the District of Columbia, with E. B. Palmer, D. D., Philadelphia, as Secretary; the Lake District, including Michigan and Ohio, E. H. E. Jameson, D. D., Detroit, Secretary; the Wabash District, including Indiana and southern Illinois, Rev. Dwight Spencer, Indianapolis, Secretary; the Chicago District, under charge of Dr. Haigh, General Superintendent; the Red River District, including Minnesota and the Dakotas, to which O. A. Williams, D. D., of Minneapolis, has been appointed; and the Missouri River District, which is under the supervision of Mr. Rairden.

The work among the Indians is under special oversight and includes an active evangelical work with a broad and effective educational work; there is one university and four tributary schools in the Indian Territory. New missions had been established among the tribes.

The nineteen missionaries among the French had been laboring in New England with the exception of one in Kansas. The force is to be strengthened by the addition of several students preparing at seminaries. New methods had been employed, noticeably in the adoption of a Gospel Wagon. All the reports were hopeful of early harvesting.

Among the German population continued work has been wrought in connection with the established German Conferences; there is a Superintendent of this work under the Society, but reference might be made to the special review of the German Baptists on a following page. The influx of Scandinavian population continues into the Northwest, and the work among this people is very satisfactory in its results. The Portuguese and Finns in New England have been the objects of active work, and the Poles and Bohemians in the larger cities have had the benefit of consecrated missionaries. The Society is now anxious to add to these foreign populations the Italians, of which people there has been a steady immigration for many years.

Chinese work is confined to California, Oregon, and Washington, and the work has been richly blessed, especially in the latter State. There are minor interests in isolated spots from which no hopeful reports seem to come.

The work in Mexico had been conducted by seven English-speaking missionaries, and eighteen native workers, who maintained seventeen principal points besides out-stations. The headquarters in the city of Mexico is well established and endowed with many of the valuable accessories of permanent work. The relations of the Society with the Southern Baptist Convention enables a division of the work in this Republic which operates efficiently in its evangelization, but there is a steady call for more laborers from both organizations.

Among the Negroes there are now general missionaries in eleven States and in Oklahoma Territory. There are not many destitute mission fields, but the demand is for the transformation of the vast multitudes on the plantations of the rural sections into efficient and consecrated churches. There is a need of institutes for ministers and other educational movements. In the States where there are general missionaries a system of co-operation with their State conventions exists and promises well. The interest of these conventions in educational institutions continues, there being a college of ambitious grade in each of the States. A difficulty presents itself in the lawless destruction of educational property in some portions by persons suspected as being inimical to negro education, which is as much deplored by the Christian element of the South as well as by the large body of intelligent and upright citizens there.

For a recapitulation of the educational work of the Society reference may be made to the usual educational table, which contains a list of the institutions supported wholly or in part by the Society. These are the high grade schools located at Washington City, Richmond, Va., Raleigh, N. C., Columbia, S. C., Atlanta, Ga., Nashville, Tenn., Selma, Ala., Jackson, Miss., New Orleans, La., Marshall, Tex., Little Rock, Ark., and Louisville, Ky. The secondary schools are scattered throughout the Southern States, and many of these are sustained altogether by the contributions of the colored churches.

Church Edifice Work.

The whole number of churches aided by gifts and loans during the year was 84; churches aided by gifts only, 63; by loans only, 5; by both gifts and loans, 16. The total number of grants, therefore, from the loan fund was 21, and from the gift fund, 79. The location of the churches receiving aid was in the following 25 States and Territories. By gift only:

Alabama, 1; California, 6; Colorado, 3; Delaware, 1; Illinois, 1; Indian Territory, 11; Iowa, 4; Kansas, 2; Maryland, 1; Massachusetts, 1; Michigan, 5; Minnesota, 5; North Carolina, 3; New Mexico, 1; Nebraska, 9; Oklahoma, 4; South Carolina, 2; South Dakota, 3; Texas, 1; West Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 6; Washington, 4; Wyoming, 2.

Those receiving loans, as follows:

Colorado, 2; California, 1; Delaware, 1; Indian Territory, 3; Iowa, 1; Kansas, 1; Minnesota, 1; Michigan, 2; Montana, 1; Nebraska, 1; New Mexico, 1; South Dakota, 1; Washington, 2; Wisconsin, 2; Wyoming, 1.

American churches, 75; Scandinavian, 8; German, 4; Colored, 7; Indian, 4; French, 1; Welsh, 1.

Receipts from interest on loans have been $5,493.54. The principal of this fund is $121,021.94. Nearly the entire amount is loaned to churches, the balance in the treasury being only $2,752.54. The loans to twenty-one churches aggregated $8,020.00, or an average of $381.90 to each church. Grants made to six churches, but not yet called for, amount to $3,050. Eighteen churches paid off their loans during the year. The number of outstanding loans is 282.

Receipts for the gift fund had been as follows: From contributions, $13,982.56; from legacies, for current uses, $2,447.88, and for the permanent fund, $2,135.96; income of permanent funds, $9,211.47; other sources, $282.05. Total, $28,059.72.

The treasury showed a balance on hand of $21,746.46, of which, however, $16,656.87 was appropriated to 22 churches, leaving for new work the coming year, $5,089.

The aggregate amount of gifts to 63 churches had been $26,862.41, being an average of $426.38 to each church.

Next Anniversary.

The Board of Managers are to determine the place and time of the next annual meeting, for which due announcements will be made.

Anniversary.

The Thirty-ninth Session (forty-ninth year) was held in the city of Dallas, Texas, May 11-15, 1894. There were entitled to seats upon a money basis 775, and 400 Associational delegates had been elected; there were present on the money basis 559, and 196 Associational delegates, which with 17 enrolled visitors made an attendance of 772. The representation by States was: Alabama, 61; Arkansas, 22; Western Arkansas and Indian Territory, 8; Florida, 12; Georgia, 108; Kentucky, 105; Louisiana, 32; Maryland, 8; Mississippi, 53; Missouri, 48; North Carolina, 28; South Carolina, 54; Tennessee, 57; Texas, 137; Virginia, 23.

The Annual Sermon was delivered by F. H. Kerfoot, D. D., from John 16: 7.

In addition to the reports of the three Boards, which were considered in detail by committees appointed to report upon their various phases, with the incidental discussions, the time of the Convention was occupied in the consideration of the following measures: The committee sitting in the interim to consider plans of reduction of representation reported two measures, either of which would have had the desired effect, but after protracted discussion the report was laid upon the table; however, subsequent motions to amend the Constitution prevailed, by which the representation of co-operative funds was stricken out and the election of Associational representatives made necessary at annual meetings of their Associations; the appointment of a Conference with the American Baptist Home Mission Society looking toward co-operation in work among the colored race and the rearrangement of territorial limits; instructing the Home Board to enter New Mexico as a mission field; and a prolonged discussion of the relations of the Convention to the Young People's movement, in which the action of the body commendatory of it was favorable and a suggestion unfavorable to a general organization of the young people was not acceded to. The reports of the committees on the work of the Boards and plans for further eliciting the co-operation of the churches were able and exhaustive and provoked valuable discussion, which in this body is entirely free and from the floor.

The printed proceedings contain besides the journal of the session and the reports of the three Boards, portraits of E. Calvin Williams, Esq., formerly a secretary, Rev. and Hon. John D. Stewart, M. C., formerly president of the Home Mission Board, and W. H. Williams, D. D., editor of the "Central Baptist," all of whom had passed away during the year. The appended tables of statistics show 17 State bodies in the constituency of the Convention. In these bounds there are 684 Associations, 9,610 ordained ministers, 17,346 churches, with a membership of 1,383,351; there had been 93,842 baptisms in these churches during the year, 1893; there were 20 colleges of high grade, 29 female seminaries and 24 academies, which combined had 782 instructors and 10,138 pupils, and a value of property, including endowment funds, of $6,110,581; the reported valuation of church property in addition was $17,361,794; in State mission work apart from the work of the Convention there had been 800 laborers, who had baptized 2,289 persons and organized 169 churches; the money for this work aggregated $141,489.07. There are also in the bounds of this Convention, but not connected therewith, a colored Baptist constituency of 12,154 churches, and 1,291,046 members; so that the Baptists in the Southern States number 2,651,397.

The Annual Session of the Southern Baptist Educational Conference, which is always held in connection with this Convention, elected W. R. Rothwell, D. D., Mo., as President, and Prof. P. H. Eager, Texas, as Secretary. Thirty-five educators were enrolled. The topics discussed were: "The Education of Girls, including the question of Co-education," with papers by Prof. P. H. Eager, Texas, and J. D. Robnett, D. D., Texas; "The Proper Curriculum for Secondary Schools," on which Prof. W. A. Harris, Texas, Prof. O. C. Charlton, Texas, and H. H. Harris, D. D., Va., made addresses; and "Shall the Denominational College Supply a Theological Course for those who do not attend the Seminary?" with a paper by W. R. Rothwell, D. D., Mo., and followed by a general discussion. The closing address was by J. B. Gambrell, D. D., on "Some Democratic Tendencies of Higher Education."

The Foreign Work.

R. J. Willingham, D. D., had succeeded Dr. H. A. Tupper in charge of this work and presented his first report. The office of Assistant Corresponding Secretary had been left vacant. The number of new missionaries sent out had been 12 and 7 others were under appointment to go in the fall of the year. Others still are applying for appointment, but there are no funds to send them. One of the laborers had died on the field. Seven had returned to work and seven had been granted a furlough for rest; the feeble health of one had required a regretful cessation of the work. The missionaries who have been resting in this country had given valuable aid in visiting the churches and cultivating the spirit of missions. The circulation of the "Foreign Mission Journal" had greatly increased; about 15,000 copies per month are issued, and it has become a source of small income to the Board. The "Sunbeams," or organization of children, now number 516 societies, which had contributed $2,253.44 during the year.

The financial statement shows a balance from year preceding, $13,387.33; receipts from Alabama, $7,147.74; Arkansas, $1,435.70; West Arkansas and Indian Territory, $332.89; District of Columbia, $501.75; Florida, $1,229.20; Georgia, $12,971.89; Kentucky, $13,461.93; Louisiana, $1,953.42; Maryland, $7,793.55; Missouri, $5,452.83; Mississippi, $1,165.55; North Carolina, $6,364.14; Western North Carolina, $61.08; South Carolina, $9,377.27; Tennessee, $5,029.19; Texas, $6,797.34; Virginia, $19,107.64; other sources, $3,109.58; making $106,332.69; adding the balance from previous year, matured bonds, call and time loans, the treasurer received $179,732.41. The disbursements were: For African mission, $6,966.80; China missions, including Japan, $37,659.95; European missions, $18,161.08; Brazilian missions, $25,270.11; Mexican missions, $28,448.42; applicants for appointment, $205.80; salaries of administration, $3,405.00; expense account, $9,253.99; reinvested funds and payment of time and call loans, $49,600; balance to new account, $4,165 26. The liabilities, including certain funds specified and loans not due, were $30,823.78. During the sessions of the Convention about one-half of this indebtedness was provided for by cash and pledges.

Campos.—Rev. J. L. Downing, Mrs. J. L. Downing, Rev. S. L. Ginsburg, Mrs. S. L. Ginsburg, native assistant. Address, Campos, Rio de Janeiro.

There are 11 stations in four districts and 6 out-stations; the organized churches are 11 with 529 members, of whom 159 had been baptized during the year; the contributions amounted to $1,230.00. The war had much hindered the work, necessitating the giving up temporarily of the work at Nichtheroy. The mission was reinforced by four laborers. Ineffectual persecution had been endured. A building is to be erected at Rio and a printing outfit has been commenced; new stations had been opened with promise of harvest; an industrial school had been established at Bahia; 126,900 copies of religious publications had been issued; there is much interest expressed by the missionaries in itinerant work.

Mexico.

Toluca, State of Mexico.—W. D. Powell, D. D., Mrs. W. D. Powell, Rev. F. de P. Stephenson.

Musquiz, State of Coahuila.—Rev. A. C. Watkins, Mrs. A. C. Watkins, native assistant.

Saltillo, State of Coahuila.—Rev. H. R. Moseley, Mrs. H. R. Moseley, Miss L. A. McDavid, Miss L. C. Cabaniss, Miss Addie Barton, Rev. A. B. Rudd, Mrs. A. B. Rudd, Miss Ida Hayes, José M. Cardenas.

SAN PEDRO.—E. Barocio.

DOCTOR ARROYO, State of Nuevo Leon.—Rev. J. G. Chastain, Mrs. J. G. Chastain, Porfirio Rodriguez, Eliseo Recio.

ZACATECAS, State of Zacatecas.—Rev. M. Gassaway, Rev. Benj. Müller.

SILAO, State of Guanajuato.—Rev. D. A. Wilson, Mrs. D. A. Wilson, Miss Smelser.

MORELIA, State of Michoacan.—Rev. H. P. McCormick, Mrs. H. P. McCormick.

GUADALAJARA, State of Jalisco.—Rev. P. H. Goldsmith, Mrs. P. H. Goldsmith, Samuel Dominguez.

ORIZABA, State of Vera Cruz.—Rev. I. N. Steelman, Mrs. I. N. Steelman, native assistant.

The main stations are 9, and there are 30 other stations; there are 37 organized churches, with a membership of 1,163, the baptisms being 277; the Sunday-school pupils number 375, and the contributions amounted to $2,600.25. There had been 6 new churches organized by Dr. Powell, and there are prospects for an early organization of others. Since the Convention, persecution has retarded Mr. Moseley's work. At the Madero Institute 74 had matriculated, of whom 46 boarded in the school; there are 7 teachers; much free tuition is given to poor girls. The city of Leon had been entered, and a great amount of traveling evangelization had been accomplished.

Japan.

MOJI.—Rev. J. W. McCollum, Mrs. J. W. McCollum.

FUKUOKA.—Rev. E. N. Walne, Mrs. E. N. Walne.

There are 2 stations and 4 out-stations; one church with 31 members, 9 of whom had been baptized during the year; there are 1,500 pupils in schools. The church reported had been organized during the year, with a membership widely scattered, which may not be a hindrance to future work. There is a good organization of native workers, including Bible women, and aid in the practical work had been rendered by appointees of other societies. There is a great demand for reinforcement.

Africa.

LAGOS.—Rev. C. C. Newton, Mrs. C. C. Newton, Miss Alberta Newton, with three native assistants and teachers.

ABBEOKUTA.—Rev. W. T. Lumbley, Mrs. W. T. Lumbley, Rev. M. L. Stone, and L. O. Murray, native assistant.

AWYAW.—Rev. S. G. Pinnock, Mrs. S. G. Pinnock.

OGBOMOSHAW.—Rev. C. E. Smith (Henry Patterson, missionary), Mrs. C. E. Smith, and one native teacher.

HAUSSER FARM.—Albert Eli, native evangelist.

There are 4 main and 4 out-stations; five churches, with 166 members, and 24 baptisms are reported; 170 pupils are in Sunday-schools, and the contributions amounted to $123.50. The reports of the missionaries indicate steady progress in a field admittedly difficult, and many occasions of cheer are reported in connection with their labors. Since the Convention Mr. and Mrs. Newton have both died. There was reported by the missionaries a dreadful increase of the West African fever, and to this these devoted missionaries succumbed. In addition to the work of the missionaries there is another independent church at Lagos.

CANTON AND VICINITY.—R. H. Graves, D. D., Mrs. R. H. Graves, Miss Lula Whildin, Rev. E. Z. Simmons, Mrs. E. Z. Simmons, Rev. Thos. McCloy, Mrs. Thos. McCloy, G. W Greene, Mrs. G. W. Greene, Miss H. F. North, Miss Mollie McMinn, Miss C. J. White, Miss Anna B. Hartwell, and twenty-two native assistants and Bible women.

In all China there are 9 main stations and 46 other stations; there are 13 organized churches; the membership is 1,077, and 123 baptisms are reported, 109 of these in the South China work; there are 335 pupils in schools, and the contributions amounted to $1,580.52. The veteran missionary, Dr. J. B. Hartwell, had entered the North China field. There had been some difficulty arising from the withdrawal of several of the Board's efficient missionaries into independent work entirely separated from the supervision of the Board, but no evil results upon the native work had been visible. The organized work at the main stations had been continued with fidelity, and the work of street preaching is constantly pressed to advantage. Translation work had been engaged in by Dr. Graves; in some of the districts of Southern China, more preaching than usual was reported, with blessed results in many conversions; the workers in all their reports speak encouragingly.

The summary of operations is as follows: 6 countries entered; 50 main stations, 161 other stations, 42 male, and 38 female missionaries, married, and 14 unmarried female missionaries, 25 ordained native helpers, 57 male and 9 female unordained native helpers, 84 organized churches, with 3,328 members, of whom 629 had been baptized during the year, 2,271 Sunday-school pupils, only a partial report, and $5,944.27 contributed upon the fields for the work.

The Home Work.

The Home Mission Board had employed 381 missionaries whose work is thus summarized: Weeks of labor, 16,289; churches and stations, 1,229; sermons and addresses, 34,024; prayer meetings, 3,917; baptisms, 4,470; received by letter, 4,039; total additions

8,509; Sunday-schools, 429; pupils and teachers, 19,381; religious visits, 52,197; churches constituted, 133; houses of worship built, 67; Bibles and Testaments distributed, 1,150; tracts distributed, 390,750.

The relations of the Board with State organizations is one of helpful co-operation save in three of the Southern States, in which there is a full provision made for work within their bounds. This plan of co-operation is declared to be beneficial in the highest degree to the State Boards. The work of the Board is fourfold.

Among foreign populations, it has missions among Germans in four States and among French in two States. At Baltimore attention is paid to the large immigration which enters that port, second in quantity only to New York. The Mexicans in Texas are also recipients of the labors of the Board. The work among the Indians is confined to the Territory, where there are six men giving their entire time to the work. The work in Cuba was never so prosperous, 150 baptisms being reported, and the missionaries toiling with much zeal; a congregation of English-speaking people had been gathered. Many features of institutional work are in the immediate future, a hospital for women being one of them, in connection with a medical school already established.

Among the negroes effective work had been wrought, not only in practical aid to missionaries of their own color, but in the maintenance of Ministers' Institutes; in two of the larger States, effective men have been engaged for all their time in this valuable work.

The native white population is considered the greatest field for effort. The majority of the missionaries are engaged in evangelization among this class. Work had been done in such cities as Washington, Nashville, Memphis, and New Orleans, and houses of worship had been aided in their erection at other important centers. The work at New Orleans had been vigorously pressed and strong men had been sustained in that great city. Under the fostering care of the Board eight Baptist high schools had been established in the vast mountain region of North Georgia, and a corresponding work had been done in the mountains of North Carolina, and in the Kentucky mountains. Much attention had been given to the evangelization of these mountain regions.

The fourth division of the work was church erection, in which the Board had been crippled for want of the necessary funds for this purpose, although aid in various ways had been extended where feeble churches were hampered by the needs of adequate accommodations.

The receipts of the Board were: Balance from previous year, $2,784.41; from States—Alabama, $3,753.75; Arkansas, $649.67; Florida, $1 820.47; Georgia, $11,192.33; Kentucky, $9,567.43; Louisiana, $865.51; Maryland, $6,909.69; Mississippi, $1,809.07; Missouri, $5,243.58; North Carolina, $2,489; South Carolina, $1,365.79; Tennessee, $3,576.44; Texas, $3,707.37; Virginia, $8,223.24; other States, $584.51; centennial funds, $11,145.69; interest and other items, $5,552.40; bills payable, $17,827.44; total, $91,148.35. The disbursements were: On salaries of American missionaries, $37,578.07; merchandise to frontier missionaries, $11,327.95; Maryland German work, $196.50; Cuban work, including payments on building, $12,463.71; salaries of administration, $5,524 98; "Home Field," $1,577.79; centennial and traveling expenses, $3,146.95; expenses at rooms, publication, etc., $2,419; State agencies, $2,360.77; interest, $314.99; bills payable, $12,339; cash balance to next year, $217.73. In addition to these funds, there had been received in amounts raised and expended for work by co-operative bodies as per vouchers sent, $54,809.83, and there had been raised and expended on church building, under co-operation of the Board, $52,734.90. The present assets, including buildings at New Orleans, Havana, and Key West, and the interest in the Cuban Cemetery, are $93,930. Including all kinds of work the consolidated report shows $187,629.18 expended in Home Mission effort.

The Sunday-school Work.

With a balance on hand of $1,887.76 the Sunday-school Board reported $48,539.16 resulting from sale of periodicals, merchandise, etc., a total in hand of $50,426.92. The payments were: For appropriations to Sunday-school missions, $2,620.83; periodicals, including cost of publishing, $28,682.30; merchandise and fixtures, $2,283 43; salaries of officers and editors, $8,244.67; expense account, postage, express, stationery, etc., $5,127.52; a total of $46,958.75; leaving a balance in hand of $3,468.17. The assets of the Board were $10,082.71, with liabilities of open accounts, $204.20. Included in the receipts are $15.66 for Bible fund from various contributors. Included in disbursements are appropriations from earnings to various State Mission Boards for Sunday-school work conducted by them.

The circulation of the Convention series of Sunday-school periodicals had steadily increased, and this had enabled the Board to improve the general mechanical appearance of the issues, and in some instances to reduce the price of them. Attention had been given to the feature of missionary training of pupils through the several publications. The papers now issued are the "Teacher," three classes of Quarterlies, the weekly, semi-monthly, and monthly issue of "Kind Words," Lesson Leaflets, "Child's Gem" for primary pupils, Lesson Cards, Bible Lesson Pictures, and the "Young People's Leader," for young people, a monthly publication. Sunday-school supplies are also furnished with the smallest possible margin of profit to the Board.

The Sunday-school statistics of the South have never been collected, and the editor of the YEAR-BOOK can appreciate the difficulty which the Board has to contend with in this desirable work. Attention is being given to this feature, with what results have yet to appear.

Next Anniversary.

The next session, which will be the jubilee or semi-centennial of the organization of the Convention, is to be held at a place to be determined upon and announced by the Boards, and the Annual Discourse is to be preached by G. B. Eager, D. D., Alabama. An Historical Discourse is also to be delivered by W. H. Whitsitt, D. D., Kentucky.

The Sixth Annual Meeting was held at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 22, 23, 1894. There were enrolled 194 names, representing 35 States and the Indian Territory.

The papers and addresses on the occasion were by S. S. Hatt, New York, on "Constitutional Protection of the Public School"; D. E. Thomson, Q. C., Canada, on "Common and Separate Schools in Canada"; and Wayland Hoyt, D. D., Minnesota, on "The Faribault Plan—its Failure." A memorial to the State Convention of New York, concerning a constitutional amendment prohibiting appropriations of public money to sectarian or denominational institutions was ordered. An address by E. B. Andrews, D.D., on "The Duty of Baptists to Highest Education," was made; and a paper by N. E. Wood, D. D., Massachusetts, on "Obligations of Baptist Institutions to the Denomination" was read. These papers and addresses are reproduced in the published proceedings, as is also a paper on "Denominational Schools," by H. H. Harris, D. D., Virginia, which was appointed to be delivered on the occasion, but was not on account of the absence of the author.

The annual report refers to the retirement of Dr. Gates, who had been the Corresponding Secretary from the beginning, and the appointment of H. L. Morehouse, D. D., in the interim. Attention is drawn to the financial problem, which requires a contribution of $5,000 for the expenses, which now are met mainly by the beneficiaries of the Society, which have paid a small per cent. on grants made to them. The work outlined as required by the necessities of the day would demand gifts aggregating an annual sum of $50,000. The history of the Society shows that 32 institutions in 23 States had been the recipients of needed gifts. Of this number 8 had collected their pledges and received the full amount of their grants, and to many others payments had been made on the pro rata basis of their collections. The outstanding obligations on this account now amount to $142,357.72, which would be paid when the collections made on the promise of help are realized. To this anniversary the Society had appropriated $336,516.66 on conditions which when fulfilled, will give the institutions $1,618,816.66.

During the past year 10 institutions to which the Society had made conditional grants had reported $92,965.70 collected on their pledges for endowment. These were the South Jersey Institute, New Jersey, $7,000; Williamsburg Institute, Kentucky, $2,440.60; Carson Newman College, Tennessee, $7,175.29; Bucknell University, Pennsylvania, $16,000; William Jewell College, Missouri, $3,000; Ottawa University, Kansas, $8,829.03; Mercer University, Georgia, $10,000; Shurtleff College, Illinois, $8,100; Kalamazoo College, Michigan, $20,668 13; and Franklin College, Indiana, $9,748.65. Baylor University, Texas, had also completed its undertaking for the payment of an indebtedness. To these institutions the Society had paid $34,017.32. Grand Island College, Nebraska, had completed its undertaking to secure $15,000 as the condition of a grant of $5,000. Other institutions are progressing in the matter of soliciting funds. The Society had received in trust certain educational properties which had been in jeopardy for deferred payments. A final payment of $11,000 for the erection of a building for normal work at Spelman Seminary, Atlanta, Georgia, had been made.

The prize essays obtained the previous year on "The Duty of Christian Parents Concerning the Higher Education of their Children," and "On the Duty of Young People to Obtain the Best Education Possible," had been stereotyped for future use, and many copies had been distributed gratuitously. The main body of the report is a survey of the educational situation and a discussion of the future work of the Society.

The financial statement shows balance from previous report, $1,632.01; contributions from churches and individuals, $268.95; received from Mr. J. D. Rockefeller on account of pledges, $51,074.82; interest on deposit, $391.89; a total of $53,366.77. There had been paid direct to institutions, upon their endowments, $48,017.32; to various accounts of interest on funds, $391,89; Des Moines College, for various purposes, $2,232 50; to Grace Seminary, $467.16; for salaries and expenses, $2,251 37; balance to new account, $6.53.

Appended to the report is a list of educational societies and institutions of learning in the United States and Canada, in which are reported 205 such institutions, of all classes and grades. Some of these are purely individual enterprises, and some of them have suspended operations, possibly without the ability to resume at any future time. Secondary schools are also included as separate institutions, because doing an academical or special work. There are 17 societies engaged in providing aid to students for the ministry.

The policy of the Society has been to alternate its annual meetings between the anniversaries of the General Societies and the Southern Baptist Convention; and the Executive Board determines this question. If the policy should prevail for 1895, the annual meeting will be held in connection with that of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The Baptist Union.

A young people's weekly religious paper, published at 122 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Frank L. Wilkins, Editor.

Principles and History.

This new organization is designed to provide a fraternal union for all young people's organizations in the Baptist churches of North America. It was effected in the city of Chicago, Ill., at a convention called for the purpose which met July 7, 1891. It holds a yearly meeting. The cities that have entertained the convention are in their order: Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis, Toronto. Delegates to these annual meetings are appointed by regular Baptist churches, directly where such churches have no regular young people's organizations, or indirectly where the churches have authorized departments for young people's work—in which case, the young people's societies name representatives, whose credentials must be certified by an officer of the church. It is, therefore, a strictly representative body, closely related to the local Baptist churches sending representatives to meet in this convention. The convention is purely for conference and inspiration in this line of work. It has no legislative function; it does not, therefore, undertake to determine under what particular name or method the local church shall conduct its work for young people. No special form of young people's organization is imposed as a condition of representation. Any church can send as many visitors to the annual meeting as it may desire, but delegates must be according to the ratio of one delegate to every twenty members or major fraction thereof in the young people's society, and one delegate to every fifty members or major fraction thereof in the church where no young people's organization exists.

The Fourth International Convention.

This was held in the Massey Music Hall, Toronto, Ontario, July 19–22, 1894. There were 5,714 enrolled delegates and visitors, the largest total recorded at an annual meeting of the Union. Forty-four States were represented, seven provinces of Canada, and four foreign countries, viz: China, India, England and Palestine. A chorus of 500 voices led the singing. Although the auditory held 5,500 persons, on two evenings there were still enough attendants to make an overflow meeting of a thousand each in a neighboring church, and on the evening of the Sabbath, the immense pavilion in the Agricultural Gardens, seating 2,500, was thronged, as well as the Music Hall.

The exercises consisted of an address of welcome by D. E. Thompson, Q. C., and Rev. Elmore Harris, representing respectively the Baptist Young People's Societies and the Baptist Churches of the city. Response was made by President B. L. Whitman, of Colby University, Maine. The Annual Report of the Board of Managers was presented by F. L. Wilkins, D. D., General Secretary. It was moved by Henry C. Vedder, New York, who spoke upon the "Christian Culture Courses, a Prophecy," and seconded by Rev. Chas. A. Reese, Minnesota, who spoke upon "The F. F. V's.—Are You One of Them?" Other addresses given during the Convention were as follows: "Possibilities of the Junior Society," by Rev. C. R. Robbins, Ohio; "B. Y. P. U. on the Sea," by Rev. J. K. Wilson, Massachusetts; "The Church and the Young Men," by W. M. Lawrence, D. D., Illinois; "The Elements of True Success," by R. S. MacArthur, D. D., New York; "The Anglo-Saxon, and the Evangelization of the World," by H. L. Morehouse, D. D., New York; "The Church of the Future—What?" by J. B. Gambrell, D. D., Georgia; "The Relation of Our Young People to Missions," by F. M. Ellis, D. D., Maryland; "Christ in Young Manhood," by Gov. W. J. Northen, Georgia; "Popular Amusements," by J. L. Johnson, D. D., Mississippi; "The Consecration We Need," by R. B. Hull, D. D., New York; and sermons were preached by H. M. Wharton, D. D., Maryland, and Henry McDonald, D. D., Georgia. Parliaments for free discussion were conducted as follows: "What is Your Society Doing for the Boys and Girls?" by A. M. Brinckle, Pennsylvania; "What Evangelistic Work is your Society Doing?" by Rev. Walter Calley, Massachusetts. Papers were read on the First M.—the Prayer Meeting," by J. W. Baker, Rhode Island; "Uniform Topics—Why?" by Dr. Smith L. Walker, Nova Scotia; "An Honest Pledge—Who?" by Rev. R. E. Manning, Michigan; "Winning the Associate Member—When?" by Rev. W. H. Geistweit, Minnesota; on the "Second M.—the Conquest Meeting," led by Rev. F. S. Dobbins, Pennsylvania; "Raising Money for Missions—How?" Z. Grenell, D. D., Michigan. President Chapman delivered an address on the new year. Special features of the Convention were the "Salutation of the Flags," participated in by the representatives of 26 States and 2 provincial unions; the spontaneous raising of $7,917.62 in cash and pledges for the Founding Fund, and the presentation of the Educational Banners, including a banner for excellence in the Junior course. Side conferences were held in various churches after adjournment on Thursday, and seven others at the same hour on Friday.

The inauguration of the Junior Christian Culture Courses, three in number, was announced to occur October 1, 1894, thus providing as complete educational plans for the boys and girls as are already enjoyed by the young people. Four meetings were held on the evening of Saturday, known as the meetings of the colors, no main session being held that evening. These meetings were of the Red, presided over by Prof. T. Trotter; the Blue, by Rev. J. W. Conley, Minnesota; the Green, by Col. J. A. Hoyt, S. C.; and the Gold, by Rev. D. D. MacLaurin, Michigan; each of these meetings was occupied with reviews of general denominational work as represented in each section. A Junior rally was held Sunday afternoon which was attended by eight hundred Juniors and a throng of their friends; Rev. R. F. Y. Peirce, Illinois, was in charge. The adoption of a full code of by-laws for the Board of Managers was one of the particular results accomplished by the Convention.

Christian Culture Courses.

The educational plans of the Union contemplate eight years of training in three lines, known as the Christian Culture Courses, four years in the Junior and four years in the Senior Departments. The courses are known as the Bible Readers' Course, the Conquest Missionary Course, and the Sacred Literature Course, and may be briefly described as follows:

Junior Department.—Bible Readers' Course: First year, Matthew; second year, Mark; third year, Luke; fourth year, John. Conquest Missionary Course: First year, Convictions and Beginnings; second year, Organization and Methods; third year, Fields and Operations; fourth year, Leaders and Triumphs. Sacred Literature Course: First year, Old Testament Biography; second year, the Life of Jesus; third year, The Acts of the Apostles; fourth year, New Testament Biography. The first course consists of daily reading in the Bible, the second and third courses are a series of questions, answers to which are to be sought in the missionary readings of the Senior Department, or in the Bible. Mrs. F. L. Wilkins is the conductor of the department, to whom correspondence may be addressed, at 122 Wabash Avenue, Chicago. The calendars for the Bible Readers' Course and the questions for the other courses are published weekly in the Junior Department of the Baptist Union. An examination for the Juniors is provided in May of each year; certificates are given to the successful examinees and three prize banners to three State or provincial Unions showing respectively the best record in each of the three courses, no competitor to receive more than one banner at the same Convention.

Senior Department.—Bible Readers' Course: First year, Historical Books; second year, Poetical Books; third year, Epistolary Books; fourth year, Prophetical Books. Conquest Missionary Course: First year, Convictions and Beginnings; second year, Organization and Methods; third year, Fields and Operations; fourth year, Leaders and Triumphs. Sacred Literature Course: First year, Preparations for Messiah; second year, the Life of Jesus; third year, the Dawn of Christianity; fourth year, Struggles for Distinctive Principles. The conductors for 1894–95 are: Bible Readers' Course, Prof. Ira M. Price, Ph. D., of the University of Chicago; Conquest Missionary Course, Mrs. Sophie Bronson Titterington, a well-known missionary author; Sacred Literature Course, Henry C. Vedder, author of a popular history of the Baptists. The object of these courses is training for Christian service; twenty minutes a day devoted to them will compass their requirements, which are simply a chapter a day in the Bible, and the reading of about 1,200 words per week in missionary lines, and the same amount per week in sacred literature. Side-light readings in general literature are suggested, but not required. Examinations occur in May each year, open to all who desire to enter; certificates will be given to the successful examinees, and three prize banners to those State and provincial Unions showing the best record respectively in the three courses, no competitor to receive more than one banner at the same Convention. All material for the prosecution of the work of the Senior Department will be found in the "Baptist Union" each week.

Financial.

The total receipts for the year were $53,461.43. Some of the principal sources of these receipts were as follows: Subscriptions to the paper, $18,360.16; advertising, $3,704.93; badges, $1,509.15; general printed supplies, $2,514.91; Founding Fund $6,149.43.

The Founding Fund was originally planned for the purpose of raising $25,000 to cover necessary loans incident to the purchase of the "Young People's Union," now the "Baptist Union," from the American Baptist Publication Society, which cost $14,000, and also to provide necessary funds to open a headquarters at Chicago, and put forth a literature of agitation to bring the movement to the attention of Baptist churches; also to cover immediate expenses of officers' salaries, etc. The expense, however, which the continental breadth of the movement has involved has proven that $25,000 is an insufficient basis for so broad a work; the plans were accordingly enlarged and the present purpose is to raise $50,000 for the founding of the Union. It is not the purpose of the Union to make its work another dependency upon the stated benevolence of the denomination. Hence, the Founding Fund is used so as to develop sources of self-support as rapidly as possible. It is used not simply to cover present expenses, but to provide for future expenses; hence the term Founding Fund. The three general sources from which it is hoped to derive self-support in the near future are: (a) subscriptions and advertising of the "Baptist Union"; (b) sale of badges, and (c) sales of printed supplies, the technical literature of organization, and also commissions made upon books, maps, etc., which the supply department may handle for general publishers or the general denominational publishing boards. It seems entirely feasible to make the work in the near future cover its own expenses It should be noted that the Founding Fund is not an endowment placed at interest and only the interest used; it is a working capital; every dollar is put to use as soon as received and so used that its earning power is very much greater than the simple interest would be. It would require $100 000 at interest rates to do the work which $50,000 will accomplish in the lines above indicated; but the result cannot be attained without the $50,000 is promptly raised to provide the necessary working machinery. Great efforts are therefore being made to secure the entire amount within the year 1894–95. In order to encourage the raising of this necessary amount to found the organization a beautiful certificate will be given to the individuals and societies contributing to the Founding Fund. These mementoes will one day constitute noble monuments to the faith of those who stood together in the founding of this important branch of our denominational work.

The Next Convention.

The Fifth International Convention will be held at Baltimore, Md., July 18–21, 1895.

balance, $45.17. The endowment fund amounts to $2,484.87.

Home Department.

The statistics for Eastern and Middle States show 36,199 contributors in 1,471 churches, besides 217 circles of young ladies with 4,144 members, and 525 children's bands with 11,137 members. The Board had held twenty-four meetings. Eight missionaries had been sent out, and one had resigned. Four young women had spent a part of the year in the Candidates' Home in preparation for the foreign field. Eighteen children of missionaries were in the Home at Newton Center, Mass. Thirteen new leaflets had been issued, and there had been 54 reprints. Twelve hundred packages of literature, containing the "Farther Light" studies had been sent out, and 30,000 copies of the Children's Letter had gone to bands and Sunday-schools. The circulation of the "Helping Hand" is 20,780, a decrease of 2,000. "King's Messengers," had 15,067 subscribers. A day of special prayer was held in January.

Foreign Department.

There were reported 64 missionaries and 4 under appointment, 133 Bible women, 295 schools with 9,235 pupils and 551 baptisms. The names of the missionaries of this Society are included in the list of the American Baptist Missionary Union. The details of the work are:

Anniversary.

The Twenty-third Anniversary was held in the First Church, Kansas City, Mo., April 18, 19, 1894. The reports of the Secretaries and Treasurer were adopted. A paper was read upon "The Work Undone," presenting the fields which are still unoccupied by the Society. Another was read on the topic, "As One for Whom Christ Died." Missionary addresses were made by Mrs. W. W. Campbell, of the Telugu mission; and Mrs. W. I. Price, of the Karen mission, and elicited great interest. K. B. Tupper, D. D., delivered an address at an evening session, on "A Woman's Loving Tribute and an Unsympathetic Protest Against It." Another evening was given entirely to the consideration of the work of young ladies connected with the Society, the Temple Builders and the Farther Lights. An interesting programme was carried out by the young people, and an address made by Josephine Bixby, M. D., under appointment to China. Great interest was awakened in the recent establishment of a Children's Home at Morgan Park, near Chicago, the matter being presented by the Secretary and an appeal made for its support. The subject of Systematic and Proportionate Giving, was also generally discussed and methods for collecting funds recommended.

Home Department.

Twenty States have organizations auxiliary to the Board of the Society. The contributions during the year came from 1,847 auxiliaries. These are made up of Circles, Young People's Societies, and Children's Bands. All were reported in active operation, yet there is opportunity for increase of effort in all the States which are constituents of the Society.

The total receipts for the year were $50,485.63; $5.000 in legacies, and $1,290.66 for specific purposes. It was resolved to raise for all purposes for the coming year, $62,000, with an additional $2,000 for the Children's Home.

Foreign Department.

Two new missionaries had been sent out and two had returned. The financial stringency made it impossible to supply the demands made. The number of missionaries sustained were 47, of whom 7 were in this country for restoration of health. There are 17 missionaries in Burma, 10 in India, 11 in China, 7 in Japan, and 2 in Africa. The number of schools supported is 61, with 94 native teachers, and 2,094 pupils. The Bible women were 60; 103 baptisms are reported in connection with the work, with a large number of additional conversions.

Anniversary.

The Seventeenth Annual Meeting was held at Saratoga Springs, N. Y, May 21, 22, 1894, in six consecutive sessions devoted to conferences of workers, address of the president, reports of corresponding secretary and treasurer, addresses and discussions concerning the enlisting of children and young people; a symposium on the work of the Society in Training Christian Workers, with special prominence to the Baptist Missionary Training School located at Chicago, and the Department for Training Colored Workers at Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C.; reports of committees; addresses of missionaries and others representing the work of the Society among foreign populations, colored people, and Indians, and in the West; and closing with an address by the treasurer, on "Christian Giving."

The Annual Report.

The number of auxiliaries reported was 2,086, of which 1,648 were adult, and 438 were children's societies. Besides other contributions the children collected in envelopes, $680.91 for the purpose of building Chapel Immanuel for the Kiowa Indians, at Rainy Mountain Mission in Oklahoma. Missionary Gardeners enrolled 157 members, who had given $30.48, and Baby Band, as it marched along with 2,724 members, dropped $325.48 into the treasury. The whole number of life members was 1,700, of which 122 were newly made. The value of goods sent to missionaries for distribution among the poor, and for use in industrial schools, and supplies to families of missionary pastors, was estimated at $12,765.29. "Tidings" had reached a monthly circulation of 12,141.

The Field Work.

The total number of missionaries employed during the whole or part of the year, was 104. Of these 4 were students from the Missionary Training Department at Raleigh, six months' service on the field being a part of the prescribed course, and for which a salary of $20.00 per month was paid. The 104 missionaries had been distributed as follows: Among Americans on the frontier, 6; Afro-Americans, 40; Chinese, 4; Bohemians, 1; Germans, 16; Jews, 1; Danes and Norwegians, 4; Swedes, 8; Indians, 13; Mexicans, 7; Mormons, 4; detailed for special service, 3. Owing to transfers three of these are twice counted. A summary of their work shows: Religious visits, 53,417; religious conversations otherwise than visits, 28,536; Bible and teachers' meetings, 3,234; industrial schools and children's meetings, 4,481; Sunday-schools labored in, 2,852; Sunday-schools organized, 43; young people's meetings conducted, 2,410; women's meetings conducted, 2,196; missionary meetings conducted, 1,656; temperance meetings conducted, 488; temperance societies organized, 27; signatures to temperance pledge, 550; other meetings unclassified, 9,375; days spent in work at Ellis Island, New York Harbor, 340.

The Training School.

This institution is located at Chicago. Twenty graduates received diplomas at the last commencement. Of these 18 are now laboring in the work of the Society in the various fields; two on account of home claims were not candidates for appointment. Since the opening for the current year, 58 are enrolled, the seniors being 24, and the juniors, 34. The missionary training department at Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C., graduated four students at its last commencement.

Financial.

The total receipts during the year, including balances at the beginning, were $81,334.48, and the balance at the close of the year, was $1,465.79.

Next Anniversary.

The time and place of the the next annual meeting will be arranged by the Executive Board, and announced as usual through the denominational press.

Anniversary.

The Sixteenth Annual Meeting was held in the Warren Avenue Church, Boston, Mass., May 3, 4, 1894. There were 593 in attendance. Reports of State vice-presidents told of faithful work and that churches and circles in most cases merited words of praise. Interesting papers were read by Mrs. E. H. Moxley, Rhode Island, on "Early Home Missions"; Miss Nellie Hinds, Rhode Island, on "Missions from Christ's Standpoint"; Miss Helen Bedee, Maine, "The Breath of Life," and Miss Margaret McWhinnie, Massachusetts, on "The Relation of Mission Work in America to the Whole World." Rev. J. S. Murrow presented a picture of life in the Indian Territory, and Miss Bryders an account of her work among the Blanket Indians, Caddos, Kiowas, and Wichitas. Miss Abercrombie also spoke of work among the colored people. Addresses were made by Mrs. J. K. Wilson, Massachusetts, upon "Individual Responsibility to our Treasury"; Mrs. G. W. Peckham, Massachusetts, on "Individual Responsibility to Our Literary Department"; Mrs. E. D. Burr, Massachusetts, on "Our Conduct of Meetings"; and Mrs. Guy Wheeler, Massachusetts, on a rapid visit to all the schools aided by the Society. A poem on "The Final Triumph of Christ's Kingdom," was read by Mrs. N. E. Wood, Massachusetts. A tribute to the memory of Mrs. G. S. Harwood, was read by Mrs. Reynolds, the corresponding secretary. At the young people's meeting, Mrs. A. B. Coleman emphasized the making of Christ as the center of all work. The closing address was by N. E. Wood, D. D., and was of great interest.

The Work.

The report told of much anxiety because of prevailing business depressions. The receipts in the early part of the year were seriously affected. In response to a statement of the needs the Circles had given gen erous aid, and so the year closed with a small balance in the treasury. Though compelled to turn away from new fields and new opportunities, the regular work had been well sustained. Nineteen thousand dollars had passed from the treasury of the Society to that of the New York Society. Mrs. James McWhinnie had been appointed superintendent of the work in Alaska and also as general assistant. Fifty-seven teachers had been supported by the Society: Among Freedmen, 37; Chinese, 4; Mormons, 2; Indians, 8; poor whites, 1; Mexicans, 4; and Alaskans, 1.

Alaska.

In 1891 the Society voted to establish an Orphanage in the Kadiak District of Alaska. In 1892 the frame of the building was taken thither from San Francisco. In 1893, Rev. W. E. Rosen was sent to Kadiak to superintend the erection of the building and assume care of the school. July 4, 1894, the first scholar was admitted. The Orphanage is now a real home, with a day school of twenty-two, a Sunday-school of nineteen, and there are sixteen children in the Home with two teachers. Three thousand dollars per annum are appropriated by this Society for the work, passing directly from its treasury to Alaska.

Financial.

The receipts for the general fund were $36,241.68, and the disbursements were $34,766. By States, the receipts were: Maine, $2,598.63; New Hampshire, $3,329.90; Vermont, $1,162.05; Massachusetts, $15,980.69, Connecticut, $2,829.14; Rhode Island, $2,550.13; for Alaska, $1,591.47. The latter sum added to the general fund makes a total of $37,732.65.

Publications.

"The Home Mission Echo" has had a large circulation. "Home Mission Lessons" have been printed. The condensed history of the Society had been published and many new leaflets added.

Next Anniversary.

The time and place of the annual meetings are arranged by the Executive Board, and announcements made through the religious press.

Anniversary.

The Sixth Annual Meeting was held at Dallas, Texas, May 11-14, 1894. There were present 50 representatives from 14 States and the Indian Territory, besides seven officers. The address of the former president, Miss Heck, was read, failing health requiring her to retire from the position. The annual reports of the various State organizations were read. A number of missionaries of the Southern Baptist Convention were introduced and made addresses concerning their fields of work. The three Boards of the Convention personally presented the recommendations which they had to make for the prospective work of the women's societies and these were acceded to. A number of practical subjects and questions were elicited in the informal discussions of the sessions.

The Annual Report.

The work of the corresponding secretary had included the writing of 15,255 letters and 734 postals; distributing 72,757 leaflets, pamphlets, etc., 64,527 Christmas envelopes, 19,115 prayer cards, 52,368 mite barrels and boxes, 2,134 chapel cards, 46,504 programs, and 39,729 circulars. The reported contributions to Foreign Missions through this Society were $23,514.93, and to Home Missions, $21,613.60, a total of $45,128.59. For the regular expenses in printing, postage, expressage, type-writing and stationery, $1,226.24 had been paid by the Boards of the Convention. An additional expense of $197.81 for Christmas offerings was paid by the Foreign Board. The officers receive no salaries nor their traveling expenses. To frontier missionaries, 211 boxes valued at $11,327, had been sent by various societies. The bulk of undesignated funds coming into this Society had been devoted to female missionaries under the Foreign Board. Contributions for schools in Cuba had been encouraged with good results. In all these schools there were 13 teachers and 448 pupils. The report calls attention to pressing need of work among foreign and colored populations. In addition to the distribution of missionary literature, such departments have been maintained in the denominational journals, and by means of a printed schedule concert of prayer is possible among all the constituents of the Society.

The societies now in union are: Alabama, 291, of which 11 are new; Arkansas, 38, Florida, 59; Georgia, 355, of which 74 are new; Kentucky, 70, 16 being new; Louisiana, 40, 12 being new; Maryland, 38; Mississippi, 290, 5 being new; Missouri, no report; North Carolina, 152; South Carolina, 284, 48 being new; Tennessee, no report; Texas, 216, 22 being new; Virginia, 251; West North Carolina, 9, of which 7 are new. These do not include organizations of bands among children. These societies raised: Alabama, $5,782.27; Arkansas, $5,457.73; Florida, $1,577.11; Georgia, $18,884.88; Kentucky, $2,921.86; Louisiana, $1,698.60; Maryland, $6,074.67; Mississippi, $6,678.61; Missouri, $4,019.84; North Carolina, $4,119.14; South Carolina, $5,174.84; Tennessee, $6,705.31; "Young South," $357.55; Texas, $19,503 17; Virginia, $7,251.06; West North Carolina, $139.70. This includes all sums for all purposes, and not simply Home and Foreign Missions. The total is $92,346.34.

The meetings of this body are triennial. All the German Baptists in the United States are represented in it. It is the General Missionary Society, the Publication Society, and the Education Society of the German Baptists. The tenth session was held in Chicago, Ill., in October, 1892, and a full account was given in the Year-Book for 1893. The next meeting is to be held in 1895, but the time and place will be provided for and announced by the Executive Board.

Rev. H. W. Geil, Rochester, N. Y.

The Forty-fourth Annual Session was held with the First German Church, of Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 12–17, 1894. An unusually large representation was gathered. The number of baptisms reported was 564, and four new churches were added to the roll. The contributions reported were: Home missions, $5,792.73; foreign missions, $1,450 93; education, $2,066.46. The meetings throughout were very inspiring. The next session is to be held at Hanover, Ont., in September, 1895.

The Central Conference.

OFFICERS.

Moderator.

Rev. J. Meier, Chicago, Ill.

Clerk.

Rev. A. Vogel, Peoria, Ill.

The Fourteenth Annual Session was held at Peoria, Ill., Sept. 19-24, 1894. The number of baptisms reported was 472. A Doctrinal Sermon was preached by Rev. W. Pfeiffer, on the "Creation." Papers were read on "Faith Cure," by Rev. R. T. Wegener; "America's Conflict with Rome," by Rev. C. F. Tiemann; "Modern Evangelists," by Rev. J. Meier. The sessions were marked by a deep spiritual interest. We have not been informed as to the reported contributions. The next session is to be held at Cleveland, O., in September, 1895.

The Northwestern Conference.

OFFICERS.

Moderator.

Rev. H. Schulz, St. Joseph, Mich.

Clerk.

Rev. A. Stern, Wayne, Wis.

The Fourteenth Annual Session was held at Hampton, Minn., Sept. 12–17, 1894. The baptisms reported numbered 484. The total membership was 5,030. This is an increase of 556 over the previous year. Rev. R. Hasik had labored as a general missionary in the large northwestern territory, and had been permitted to contribute to this gratifying increase. Notwithstanding a failure of harvests in many sections the contributions for missions and education show no decrease over the previous year. We have not had reported these contributions. The outlook is declared to be hopeful. The next session, which will be in September, 1895, is to be announced at a later date.

REV. D. FRANCHEL, Beatrice, Neb.

Clerk.

REV. J. H. PASTORET, Lorraine, Kan.

The Fourteenth Annual Session was held at Ellenwood, Kan., October 9–15, 1894. The Conference covers the German Baptists of Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, and thence westward indefinitely. There is a membership of over 2,000 gathered in about 50 churches, many being pioneer bodies and needing missionary aid. They were all represented at the annual meeting. The time was filled with sermons and inspiring addresses. A collection of $300 was made for the Home Mission Society. The baptisms reported were 264. Our information is from the newspaper press, and does not include time and place of the next meeting.

Moderator.

REV. F. A. PETEREIT, Waco, Tex.

Clerk

REV. H. C. GLEISS, Houston, Tex.

The Eleventh Annual Session was held at Kyle, Coryell County, Texas, Aug. 8–12, 1894. Encouraging reports were received from all the churches, and 51 had been added by baptism. By a resolution unanimously adopted at this session these churches united with the Southern Baptist Convention in co-operative work, they having up to this time been so related to the American Baptist Home Mission Society. We are without any definite reports of the last meeting.

The Fifteenth Annual Meeting was held with the First Swedish Church, St. Paul, Minn., Sept 20-23, 1894. There were present ninety-five ministerial and lay delegates, and a large number of visitors. The Annual Sermon was delivered by Rev. E. Rosen, Illinois.

The features of the work were: The reports from the different State Conferences, numbering twelve, which, considering the past year's financial and material depression were quite encouraging. There had been upward of 3,000 additions to the churches during the year. The amount of money raised for all purposes was $183,228.00 The number of churches is 275; of these 250 reported a membership of 16,000.

It was decided to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Swedish Divinity School, in 1896, in an appropriate manner, and a committee was appointed to prepare for that cheering event. To continue the work already begun among the Swedish population in Texas, it was recommended to the churches to strive to secure adequate means. The Divinity School was the main topic of discussion, and it was determined to attempt the raising from among the Swedish Baptists, $100,000 during the year, co-operating through the Chicago Baptist Theological Union. Work among Swedes in Oregon received attention, and the encouraging work there was given a new impetus. The Conference was remarked for enthusiasm and zeal, being pronounced one of the best as well as the largest in its history. The principal addresses were by Rev. Frank Petersen, Minnesota; Prof. H. A. Ostergren, Minnesota; Prof. E. Sandell, Illinois; Rev. P. A. Englund, Massachusetts; Rev. L. J. Ahlstrom, Minnesota; Rev. L. Johansen, Nebraska; and Rev. E. Wingren, and were ordered to be printed for distribution among the people.

The Executive Committee is located at Morgan Park, Ill., with Prof. C. H. Lagergren as chairman, and Rev. C A. Johnson, of Chicago, as secretary. The time and place with other arrangements for the next meeting, are left in the hands of this committee

The Fifteenth Annual Meeting was held in Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 14, 15, 1894. From the report of the Board it was seen that but one missionary is under commission, Rev. S. O. Hayes, laboring in Africa, although there are three others in the same field, one of whom is upon his own responsibility. The total receipts for the year were $2,109.62; the disbursements being $1,745.40. The sessions were interspersed with sermons and addresses, but our reports, gleaned from the newspaper press, are very meagre and unsatisfactory. The next meeting is to be held in Atlanta, Ga., the time being September, 1895.

This is the general body of African Baptists. The Annual Meeting for 1894 was held in Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 15–17, and was largely attended from all portions of the country. The accounts given in the newspaper press state simply unimportant details and omit the facts which are desired. The general interests of the Negro churches were considered. Resolutions and discussion concerning lynching and other lawlessness in the country occupied considerable time. So also did the question of discrimination in public conveyances. Several sermons were preached during the sessions and many volunteer addresses were made. The statistical report conveyed no information that the Year-Book does not give. The next annual meeting is to be held in Atlanta, Ga., September, 1895.

Anniversary.

The Annual Meeting of the Society was held in the meeting house of the First Baptist Church, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 26, 1894.

The Forty-first Annual Report of the Board of Managers was read by the secretary. The increase to the library showed: Associational minutes, 3,363; magazines and Society reports, 108; bound volumes, 31; volumes bound by the Society, 12; total number of bound volumes, 7,513; total receipts, $582 74; total expenditure, $498.85. The report said: "The value of the Society's collection of materials for history is being constantly tested by visitors and inquirers, who in most cases receive the information desired. The scope of the Society embraces the collection and preservation of church history in its widest possible sense. The motives that incite to the prosecution of its mission are honor to ancestors, love to truth, the good of present and future generations, the unity of the church, and the glory of God."

The Committee on Program submitted a printed order. Rev. Henry C. Vedder, who was to have made an address, sent a communication expressing his thanks for the honor conferred on him by the Society in requesting him to speak at its Anniversary and regretting his inability to do so.

Rev. Dr. Henry S. Burrage, Maine, kindly took the place of Mr. Vedder.

Among other things he said: "If we as Baptists are to have a history, we as Baptists must write it." There is a deplorable ignorance among writers of general intelligence in reference to the history of Baptists and of their position in respect to religious liberty. He most forcefully illustrated this by the story of the long struggle through which religious liberty was gained in Massachusetts in spite of persistent opposition.

Dr. Lemuel Moss, New Jersey, delivered an address from the same theme from which he spoke at the meeting in the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa., during the year 1893, his theme being "The Historical Value of Contemporary Documents."

Samuel Colgate spoke on the subject, "An Effort to Collect and Preserve Historical Documents." Among other things he said: "The collection of historical documents is no easy matter. These do not come to us as the rain. We have to seek them out and oftentimes they are found in strange places." The speaker then told of his experience in collecting the materials which he has deposited in the library building at Colgate University. He said we do not preserve reports as we should. There is need for a fire-proof building for this Society. Put into execution the resolution you have so often passed. The matter has been thought of on too large a scale. A small building costing $15,000 will be sufficient. It should be done by the city where the Society is located. We should gather all; we should preserve all; we should treasure all that is now appearing in relation to the Anabaptists. If Philadelphia will not act, let some other city make an offer of a building for the library now in Philadelphia. In the free discussion that followed, President Whitman, of Colby, spoke of the beginning that is being made at Colby. He strongly urged the necessity of a complete record. President Stott, of Franklin College, Indiana, said our college is not in possession of a complete set of catalogues. This is also true of the Indiana State Convention. Dr. W. N. Wyeth, Philadelphia, Pa., said: "We always get our eyes open, but oftentimes too late. There always comes a time when documents are wanted, and when they will be wanted badly."

General Committee.

J. B. Thomas, D. D., Chairman.
Rev. Walter Rauschenbusch, Secretary.

The General Committee comprises about 150 names of contributing members—Baptist ministers and laymen.

Plan of Organization.

The object of the Congress is to promote a healthful sentiment among Baptists through free and courteous discussion of current questions by suitable persons. The work of the Congress is subject to the control of the General Committee, which is composed of persons who have consented to contribute $5 or more annually toward the expenses of the Congress. The General Committee elects a permanent Executive Committee of 15 persons residing in or near the city of New York, and to this Executive Committee is entrusted entire control over the public meetings, and the securing of a full stenographic report of the proceedings. The General Committee meets in connection with the public meetings, and when called together by the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee secures the appointment of a Local Committee in the city or town where the public meeting is to be held, which is to provide a suitable place for the Congress, entertainment for the officers and appointees of the Congress. Any member of a Baptist congregation may become an annual member of this Congress, and thus be entitled to all its privileges, and to a copy of the published proceedings, by the payment of the sum of $2.

Rules of Discussion.

The chairman of the Congress is appointed by the Executive Committee, and on all points of order his decision is final. Any member of a Baptist congregation who, by sending his card to the secretary shall signify his willingness to speak on the topic under discussion, may be called upon by the chairman. All writers and speakers take the platform, address only the chair, and confine themselves to the subject assigned for the occasion. No person speaks twice on the same subject. Readers of papers are allowed 25 minutes, appointed speakers 25 minutes, and volunteer speakers 10 minutes. The secretary notifies all participants by stroke of bell 3 minutes before, and also at the expiration of their time, beyond which no one is allowed to proceed. No resolutions or motions are entertained at the public conferences.

Twelfth Annual Session.

The Twelfth Annual Congress was held in the Woodward Avenue Church, Detroit, Mich., November 13–15, 1894. The themes discussed were: "Tradition as a Formative Force in Baptist Doctrine and Church Life," by Rev. Augustine S. Carman, Ohio; Lansing Burrows, D. D., Georgia; and Rev. L. D. Temple, Michigan. "What does the Denomination owe to its Colleges, and What do its Colleges owe to the Denomination?" by President B. L. Whitman, Maine; A. S. Hobart, D. D., New York; and President E. B. Andrews, Rhode Island. "The Formation of Criminal Classes: its Cause and Cure," by C. R. Henderson, D. D., Illinois; Rev. George H. Hickox, Michigan; and a paper read for him by Mornay Williams, Esq., New York. "What is the Kingdom of God?" by Rev. S. Z. Batten, New York; a paper read for him by Prof. J. M. Stifler, D. D., Pennsylvania; and E. M. Poteat, D. D., Connecticut. "The Interpretation of the Old Testament as affected by Modern Scholarship," by Prof. J. R. Sampey, of the Louisville Seminary; Prof. W. R. Harper, LL. D., of the University of Chicago; Prof. Chas. R. Brown, D. D., of the Newton Institution; and Prof. Howard Osgood, D. D., of the Rochester Seminary. "Christ the Liberator; Christ the Unifier," by Z. Grenell, D. D., Michigan; and C. J. Baldwin, D. D., Ohio.

Publications.

The proceedings of the Baptist Congress are published annually, giving in pamphlet form the papers, discussions, and addresses. Price, 50 cents. Copies may be obtained from the corresponding secretary, or from the branch offices of the Publication Society.

Superintendent of Missions.

Rev. W. B. CRUMPTON, Montgomery.

The Seventy-third Annual Session was held at Marion, July 4–6, 1894. There were present 33 delegates from 17 Associations, and 90 representing 63 churches, in all 123 enrolled. The Annual Sermon was delivered by P. T. Hale, D. D., from Prov. 11 : 30.

The missionary operations were conducted by 45 men, including 11 missionary colporters, who had rendered 4,233 days of service, traveled 25,063 miles, delivered 1,792 sermons, made 449 addresses, constituted 4 churches, baptized 186 persons, and 147 others were baptized in connection with their labors, organized 27 Sunday-schools and 4 women's societies, held 418 prayer meetings, distributed 23,010 pages of tracts, commenced building of 9 meeting houses, and finished 3 others; the number of churches visited was 646, and there had been 515 regular preaching stations without churches; the pastoral visits were 5,053; collections for benevolent objects on the fields had amounted to $3,812 15. The colporters had sold 1,116 books, valued at $547.32; 539 Bibles and Testaments, valued at $176.01; and donated 142 copies of Scripture, of a value of $15.27; this was only a partial report. The missionary and colportage work had been consolidated with excellent results. The same Board has committed to it, also, the cause of ministerial education, all the interests now of the denominational work being brought together in one central office. This office is in the city of Montgomery, which is denominational headquarters for the State.

There had been 19 ministerial students at Howard College, 16 receiving aid, two at high schools, and five at the Louisville Seminary, one of whom had been aided. The amounts contributed did not meet the obligations incurred by about $200. The general interests of home and foreign missions is committed to this same agency. The report contains painful allusions to the extreme difficulty in securing ample means for the prosecution of all kinds of missionary work, a condition which doubtless will appear as the review of the States continues.

Including small balances, the receipts for the various causes by the Board were as follows: State missions, $5,200.76; home missions, including specific work in Cuba, $1,585.67; foreign missions, including various special contributions, $3,285.99; ministerial education, $1,892.56; for Howard College, $17.00; aged and infirm ministers, $387.72; contributions to general church erection, $42.84; orphanage, $226.06; total, $12,255.03. All of this was distributed according to the character of the donations. For the book department, there had been received $3,287.47, including previous balance. The stock on hand, and accounts due, together with cash on hand amount to $1,329.24, with a present indebtedness of $1,564.84.

The trustees of Howard College reported a successful year so far as attendance and progress of students was concerned, there having been 152 students enrolled, and 19 who had graduated with credit. A new feature had been introduced in the course by which a systematic study of the Bible was accomplished. The religious interest had been marked, almost all the students in the barracks becoming converted. The financial condition remains embarrassing. The income was sufficient to meet the expenditures, but the payment of arrearages that had accumulated added to the indebtedness. The receipts had been from all sources in operating the college, $13,373.44, and the expenditures, $13,380.12. The mortgage debt on main building is $40,000; notes hypothecated, $17,000. The dormitory debt is $16,272.65. As against these items there are subscriptions which if paid would enable the corporation to carry the funded debt with comparative ease; but there is a complaint of slow collections upon these obligations. The claim seems apparent that if the building debt was discharged great prosperity would ensue. The plan of co-education is urged by the Board in its report. The Convention ordered measures to be taken to fund and extend the mortgage debt.

The trustees of Judson Institute, also controlled by this body, reported an enlargement of the faculty, the presence of 103 pupils and 61 boarders in the institution. The stringent times had also affected this college, but strenuous efforts had been made by its friends and the students themselves to relieve its necessities. The expenses exceeded the income; the floating debt was reported to be $6,746.65, against which good assets were claimed amounting to $2,186.29. There is a large bonded debt, which is not given in detail, but the interest paid upon it seems to have been $9,308.41, but whether for one year or several is not stated; either construction is possible from the report. After hearing the report the Convention made subscriptions to the floating debt of about $4,500.

The Baptist Orphanage is now an estab-

ished fact, having been located at Evergreen, where a residence of ten rooms, and outbuildings, has been obtained; there were 31 children in the home. Of course, the new enterprise is in need of substantial help toward the carrying out of its charitable plans. Gifts of clothing and furniture are reported. With the balance on hand the receipts had been $3,493.15; there had been paid on the building $1,667.00, and for current expense, $1,693.35. The outlook is promising, since it is stated that the property will in a few years be the most desirable of that class in the State of any denomination.

Usual reports on such topics as "Education," "Temperance," "Sunday-schools," "Missions," and "Women's Work," were attended with discussions, and a resolution regarding with satisfaction the growth of the young people's movement, was adopted.

The next meeting is to be held at Selma, beginning Wednesday, November 13, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by Rev. A. W. McGaha.

The Annual Meeting for 1894, was held at Marion, July 2. The Introductory Sermon was preached by J. J. Taylor, D. D., from Luke 17: 20, 21, on the "Inner Kingdom." A paper was read by Rev. A. J. Dickinson, on "Why are the Scriptures the Sole and Sufficient Rule of Faith and Practice?" A paper on "Baptist Pioneers," was read by E. B. Teague, D. D. R. H. Harris, D. D., made an address on "The Duties of the Ministry of Alabama toward the Evangelization of the State." A paper by J. A. French, D. D., was read on "The Relation of the Pulpit to Politics." It was resolved to provide for meetings of ministers in several sections of the State, and to provide for a continuation of this annual meeting; consequently it will be held at Selma, in November, 1895, in connection with the State Convention.

The Second Annual Meeting was held at Marion, in connection with the meeting of the State Convention. The work done included 988 letters and 67 postal cards written, 132 packages of literature sent out, about 5,000 pages in all, 6,000 Christmas envelopes, and 400 barrels for mite collections. The new societies numbered 11, which make now 217 in the State; there were two new young people's societies reported, making in all 72. The collections were: for foreign missions, $621 87; home missions, $716.63; State missions, $270.45; church aid, $1,203.56; a total of $2,812.51. The meetings were inspiring and interesting, being filled with numbers of addresses.

The Twenty-seventh Annual Meeting was held at Anniston, November 21–25, 1894. The Introductory Sermon was preached by Rev. J. T. Simpson.

The report of the Board of Trustees of Selma University showed 200 scholars. President C. S. Dinkins had made every department of the institution to support itself. A religious influence had pervaded the school, and many conversions were reported. One teacher gives his services free. The effort to increase the financial power had virtually failed on account of the prevailing distress; the financial agent was retained as an expression of confidence. There is great embarrassment because of an urgent debt of over $3,000.00.

The Board of Missions reported only one missionary in the field, and his support is chiefly met by the Publication Society. The missionary under appointment of the Home Mission Society had resigned the work, and undertaken the presidency of an institution in another State. A brother was recommended to the Society to take up this work.

The secretary, who has charge of statistics, reported only partial returns; there were 68 Associations in the State, but he had received reports from but 32 of them. In these Associations there were 85,259 communicants, and those not heard from would report probably as many more. It will be understood that others besides the editor of the Year-Book experience insuperable difficulties in gathering the statistics of the colored churches.

The next session is to be held at Opelika beginning Wednesday, November 20, 1895.

ARIZONA.

In this Territory, there is an Association of 7 churches, the statistics of which appear in the tables following. There is only one self-sustaining church in the Territory. The recording and corresponding secretary is Rev. S. C. Davis, Phœnix. At the Annual Meeting in April, 1894, a Board of Missions, a Sunday-school Institute, and a Board of Education were organized. Of course the work is in its inception and must be of modest proportions. The Home Mission Society operates in a small way in aid of the work.

The Forty-sixth Annual Meeting was held at Lonoke, November 2–6, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. J. H. Peay, from Hosea 11: 5-7, on "God's Method of Drawing Men."

The report of the State Board shows 19 missionaries employed, who had labored 5,087 days, added 623 persons to the church, made 2,327 religious visits, held 1,768 services, and organized 10 churches. The field contributed $1,262 16; the total amount received for the work came from only 18 Associations and 112 churches. There is also co-operation with the Home Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. In the department of Sunday-school and Bible work there had been a number of colporters employed at various times, the aggregate of their work being 1,396 days of labor, 18,018 miles traveled, 777 sermons preached, 828 addresses, 295 conversions, 155 baptisms, 340 accessions to the churches, 6 churches and 58 Sunday-schools organized, 2,172 families visited, 195 copies of Scripture sold and 500 donated, 519 religious books sold and 21 donated, 51,080 pages of tracts distributed, 4 Sunday-school institutes and 4 missionary meetings held, $54.65 collected for missions, and a total received for the work $2,303 54. A State Sunday-school evangelist had been maintained during the year. In the coming year one of the Chapel Cars, under the control of the Publication Society, is to travel in the State in co-operation with the State Board. While the organization of women in this State, in missionary effort, meets with strong opposition, the work accomplished by them seems to be exceedingly valuable, and we regret that we are without the figures which convey a practical idea of the worth of their labors. The relation of women's work was the occasion of a strong report and a considerable discussion. There are now three educational institutions which report to this body, Ouachita College, at Arkadelphia; Central College, at Conway; and the Mountain Home College, in the northern part of the State. In the former there had been eight ministerial students; and about $2,000 was secured at this meeting toward liquidating the debt on the institutions, and $800 for the support of young ministers preparing there for the ministry. The Central College was reported to be in excellent condition, with a full faculty and an encouraging patronage. The last named institution had a larger matriculation in its first year than any other college in the State had in its first year's work. In the 3 institutions there are about 700 students, and the real estate of them is worth $150,000. The interests of the Theological Seminary at Louisville were represented by Prof. E. C. Dargan, D. D., whose address was followed by a contribution of $314.10 for the students' fund.

The claims of the home and foreign missions were presented in full reports, and in addresses by Rev. R. E Chambers and I. T. Tichenor, D D. The Committee on Publications presented strong arguments in favor of the patronage of denominational and missionary journals, laying special emphasis upon the Sunday-school literature of the Southern Baptist Convention. The report on temperance elicited a forcible discussion. Steps were taken for the establishment of a Baptist Orphans' Home, a young woman having donated a farm near Monticello for that purpose, and money is being secured for the erection of suitable buildings. Arrangements are to be made to begin this charity at once. It was decided also to establish a fund for the aid of aged and destitute ministers, the Board of trustees being located at Fort Smith. The State Mission, Sunday-school, and Bible Boards were consolidated at this meeting, each of these works continuing along distinctive lines as before, but under one Board and superintendent. The general evangelist was continued in his work for the year to come, and another evangelist was appointed to travel on the Chapel Car under the direction of the State Board. The work of the young people elicited considerable discussion, and it was thought that a better understanding was arrived at concerning this movement. A resolution looking to the holding of a State Young People's Union in connection with the meeting of the Convention was adopted and a time appointed to report plans of co-operation. Resolutions were adopted condemning the action of Congress in making grants to sectarian schools.

The next meeting is to be held at Monticello during the third week in November, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by Rev. E. B. Miller.

Three hundred churches were represented by letter and delegates. In the meeting $1,006 were raised for educational and missionary work in the State, and $68.00 for African missions. The reports of the secretary and treasurer showed that over $4.000 had been collected and expended in the educational and mission work during the year. The central object of the Convention is the building and maintenance of the Arkansas Baptist College, which was founded by the Convention in 1884; the College is managed by a Board of trustees, 15 in number; $18,000 worth of valuable property has been accumulated in the past ten years. See our tables for latest facts. The Convention co-operates with the American Baptist Home Mission Society in the support of one general missionary, whose labors are incorporated in the summary of that body. The Thirteenth Anniversary was held at California College, Highland Park, East Oakland, May 15-20, 1894. There were present 165 representatives of 57 churches and 5 life members. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. A. M. Russell, from Psalm 68 : 11.

The territory of this Convention is Northern and Central California. The system employed is one of co-operation with the American Baptist Home Mission Society. This Society gives dollar for dollar raised on the field. Under this arrangement $9,190.85 had been apportioned to the support of 19 missionary pastors, who had served 30 churches, and held 30 other important points; they labored 897 weeks, preached 2,569 sermons, held 1,220 prayer meetings, made 8,154 religious visits, baptized 141 persons, and received 184 otherwise; the total membership of aided churches was 1.427, and of Sunday-school pupils, 1,600. This work was not only among native populations, but also colored race, Swedes, Danes, Norwegians, and Germans. Four churches had become self-supporting. To four churches gifts for church building were made, aggregating $1,150 and one loan of $300 was made. The aggregate value of this property is $8,600. There were also in employ several general or district missionaries seeking destitute fields. The work of the corresponding secretary, in diligent oversight of the work, is not included in the summary above. As a part of his work valuable properties were secured to the Convention for future use.

The treasurer's report shows that the contributions from California churches and Sunday-schools to the Missionary Fund, were $3.334.30, and to the Church Edifice Fund, $325.91.

Committees reported on various phases of denominational endeavor. That on Foreign Missions showed contributions amounting to $2,115.79; that on Chinese Missions reveals work maintained at eight important points, where schools are sustained with general reports of prosperity; that on the Publication Society spoke of institutes being held at two points and a large colportage work and valuable aid granted to 13 schools.

During the sessions, addresses were made on the work of foreign missions: by Rev. C. M. Hill, "As to the Principles that Need Emphasis"; Rev. J. Sunderland, "As to Improvements in Methods"; Rev. Bunyan Spencer, "In the Present Emergency in the Work at Home"; and Rev. F. M. Mitchell, "From the Fields." Several of the missionaries spoke on the work of their respective fields.

At a general meeting during an evening session, addresses were made by Rev. W. V. Gray, on "Our Belief"; Rev. W. T. Jordan, on "Our Polity"; and Rev. Robert Whittaker, on "Our History." The treasurer reported receipts, including a balance of $4.83, amounting to $58 93, and disbursements, $83.61. The Nineteenth Annual Meeting was held in the First Church, San Francisco, April 12, 1894. The enrollment committee reported 131 in attendance from 13 churches. The exercises consisted in reports of the officers and the various departments of effort under the constitution of the Society.

The report of the corresponding secretary shows the detailed work of a busy year and outlined the movements of the officers in frequent visitations and other consecrated efforts for unifying the Baptist women of the entire State in the foreign work. Numbers of new circles had been organized. Special attention had been given to the work in Japan sustained by this body. Appended are full tables, showing that there are 65 circles now in operation, with 646 members. The superintendent of mission bands and junior societies received reports from 26 of these societies; and there were 16 others which did not report. The publishing committee had sent out 1,000 "Annual Reports" and 5,250 copies of other literature. The Bureau of Intelligence had distributed 1,900 tracts and maps, pictures, mite boxes, and other informing matter. A public reception committee is part of the work, as San Francisco is the port from whence many workers depart to their fields. Eight returning missionaries had been welcomed and 17 had sailed after Christian courtesies had been extended them. The year had witnessed four of these pleasant receptions.

The statement of the treasurer shows: Receipts from church circles, $1,429.83; young people's societies, $115.25; mission bands, $77 63; Junior Societies of Christian Endeavor, $36 70; Sunday-schools, $7.80; churches, $15.60; collections, $80.87; miscellaneous, $163.41; special contributions, $54.10; a total of $2,281.19, and with cash on hand at beginning of year, $1,440.43. The disbursements were: On account of missionaries, $2,591.75; and itemized expenses and sundries, $289.24; total, $2,880.99; leaving balance in treasury, $1,559.44.

The Thirteenth Annual Meeting was held at California College, Oakland, May 16, 1894. There were present 103 delegates.

There had been aided during the year, 4 missionaries at important centers; one student for the ministry had received help; and a great amount of work had been accomplished in distributing information and creating interest and enthusiasm. The receipts for the Missionary Fund amounted to $470.26, all of which had been turned over to the treasurer of the General Convention; in the Expense Fund, the receipts were $142.64, of which $120.10 had been expended in the furtherance of the work. The Students' Aid Fund had received $86.45, and $83.50 had been spent on this account; the Edifice Fund had received $1.70, and the Baby Band Fund, $1.50. The Bureau of Supplies reported 12 boxes of goods sent out, valued at $142.95. There had been 300 leaflets and 184 copies of other literature distributed. The sessions were interspersed with papers and addresses on practical topics and special reports from the fields cultivated. The annual meetings are always held in connection with those of the General Convention.

The Twelfth Annual Meeting was held at Pueblo, October 22–25, 1894.

There had been employed 36 missionaries, who had occupied 61 fields and out-stations, which is 4 more missionaries and 10 more fields than ever occupied; these rendered 1,218 weeks of service; preached 3,368 sermons; held 1,984 prayer meetings; made 11,005 religious visits; baptized 337 persons, and received otherwise, 241. The contributions of the mission churches for missions amounted to $1,566.60, and most encouraging reports come from all portions of the State, showing that the time of depression had been an occasion of revival, and over 1,000 conversions had been reported, and nearly 700 baptisms in the churches of the State. The general missionary had been very active, having traveled 27,764 miles, and had delivered 228 sermons and addresses, organized 3 churches, baptized 14 persons, and written 3,077 letters; 4 other churches had been organized and 2 chapels had been erected. The plan of operations includes co-operation with the Home Mission Society; in the State $3,597.77 had been raised, which had paid the State's proportion of the missionaries' salaries, and reduced the indebtedness, which now amounts to $3,591.47, having been reduced in two years $2,727.76. The demands in this State are very great, over 200 towns having no church organization, and no preaching except by Roman priests, and yet one of the new organizations of the year had already become self-sustaining. Twelve pastors had closed their work and removed from the State, and 11 new pastors had taken up work in the State, and 3 others had changed their field of labor within the State.

Home Missions was the topic of the report of a committee, as was the work of the Publication Society, which was attended by a paper by Rev. H. F. Wilkinson. Foreign Missions and Bible Schools were the topics of reports, which elicited general discussion. A committee reported on Systematic Beneficence, outlining the New Testament method as one to be earnestly recommended to the individual churches. The resolutions adopted comprised commendations of the Christian Culture Courses of the B. Y. P. U., and the legal suppression of intemperance, besides the routine subjects.

The next meeting is to be held at a place to be determined by the Board, beginning October 22, 1895, and Rev. D. Baldwin was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

The Seventy-first Anniversary was held with the Central Church, Norwich, October 16, 17, 1894. There were enrolled 300 representatives of 77 churches. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. J. B. Lemon, from Jonah 3 : 2.

There had been 31 churches or mission fields aided, in which there had been 199 baptisms, making now a constituency of 2,133 members. The missionaries had delivered 2,731 sermons; raised on the fields, $13,677.11 for the work of the Convention, and $1,096.89 for benevolent objects. In addition, an evangelist had been put in the field a portion of the year; he had devoted 82 days to the work; preached 74 sermons; given 50 Bible readings, and made 12 other addresses; there had been 206 inquirers in connection with the work. The additions to the churches in connection with his meetings were 122. The French mission, which had been abandoned, was resumed, and an evangelist had labored in two towns. The feasibility of adding to this work efforts among Swedes and Germans is being considered. During the summer opportunity was given to students, who rendered acceptable work under the Board. The whole summary of work shows appropriations to 36 churches and missions, and 28 pastors and missionaries.

The report of the treasurer contained the following items: Balance from old account, $65 39; received from the churches, $3,400.59; from Sunday-schools, $148.71; from interest, $1,151.02; for evangelistic work in special contributions, $550.00; for minutes, $75.55; from individuals for specified purposes, $1,135.00; miscellaneous sources, $518.00; from bequests, $2,200.00; a total of $9,244.26. The payments to the churches had been $3,012.81, and $2,000 special gifts to churches specified. There are belonging to the Convention sums of $14,900, the income of which is payable to specified churches; $8,570, the income of which belongs to the Convention, and $1,171.43 the interest of which accrues. The titles of seven church properties rests in the Convention, and there are two mortgages of $1,000 each held by it. Against these assets are liabilities of $2,700.

The discussions of the annual meeting were upon the routine work of the Convention. Funds were secured for a continuation of evangelistic labor. Temperance and Sunday-school work were reported upon at length by committees.

The next meeting is to be held with the First Church, Bridgeport, beginning October 15, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by J. D. Herr, D. D.

The Seventy-fifth Annual Meeting was held at Norwich, October 17, 1894. The report reviews the work of three-quarters of a century, and the establishment and growth of the Literary Institution at Suffield, in which there had been 200 students aided during its career. During the past year 17 young men had been aided—4 in seminaries, 4 in colleges, and 9 in preparatory schools. The treasurer reported balance on hand at beginning of year, $132.72; receipts, $2,305.19; a total of $2,437.91. The expenditures had been $2,181.78, leaving a balance in hand of $250.13. An address was made by N. E. Wood, D. D., of Mass., and Rev. Walter Scott reported upon the gratifying condition of the institution at Suffield. The annual meetings are held in connection with those of the State Convention.

The Third Annual Convention was held at Norwich, October 15, 16, 1894. In the 137 churches of the State, 102 reported societies of young people, and 90 churches reported a total gain of 358 members. This is all the statistical information gathered from the report of the secretary. It would be interesting to know the total number of societies and constituents. The treasurer had received $127.02, and expended $128.67. The addresses on the occasion were by Miss May E. Bentley, on "Selfishness in the Christian Life": Rev. Archibald Wheaton, on "Mighty Folks"; Miss May F. McKean, on "The Junior Work"; Rev. F. G. McKeever, on "Human Instrumentalities in Revival Work"; Rev. C. L. Rhoades, on "The Value of a High Purpose"; and Rev. Frank Dixon, on "Pledges by the Win-One Members." The next convention is to be held with the other societies at Bridgeport.

DELAWARE.

The Baptist Union.

The Sixteenth Semi-annual Meeting of the Delaware Baptist Union was held May 8, 9, 1894, with the First Church, Chester, Pa., Rev. S. S. Woodward, pastor. Prof. B. C. Taylor, of Crozer Seminary, extended a word of welcome. The Committee on Organization of a new Association, as an outgrowth of the Delaware Baptist Union, reported through the chairman, Harry Emmons, Esq., of Delaware, that the most of the churches had expressed a desire for such an organization, and recommended that the necessary final steps be taken to "merge the Union" into an Association. The committee was continued to prepare charter, constitution, and by-laws for the new body, and the churches recommended to formally withdraw from the Philadelphia Association and appoint delegates to the new Association to meet in the fall. The committee, consisting of Harry Emmons, S. B. Meeser, S. S. Woodward, O. G. Buddington, T. E. Levis, and R. B. Cook, was continued to complete the work of organization they had begun. The Rev. S. S. Woodward, of Chester, Pa., presided at this meeting, and Rev. D. T. Firor was clerk. After the usual discussion of practical and doctrinal questions, the Union adjourned.

The Union Association.

The First Meeting of the Delaware Baptist Union Association (the Seventeenth Annual Meeting of the Delaware Baptist Union) was held with the Baptist Church at Dover, Del., Rev. A. D. Carpenter, pastor. Rev. Frank Howes, of Harrington, was elected moderator, Rev. D. T. Firor, clerk, and Rev. O. G. Buddington, treasurer. The statistics showed that there were in the new Association 19 churches, 22 ordained ministers, 17 pastors, and 11 students for the ministry, and 3,514 members and 193 baptisms, showing a net gain of 111. Total contributions for the year for all purposes $40,367.33; value of church property $263,238. Also, 29 Sunday-schools, 536 teachers and officers, 3,741 scholars; total 4,327. Baptisms of scholars 76, and contributions, $4,166.42.

The usual discussions were held and business transacted. Sermons were preached by Rev. W. A. Walling, Rev. R. H. Middleditch, Rev. Dr. O. F. Flippo, and Prof. A. W Reynolds, of Crozer Seminary. The agents of the Missionary Societies were received and heard, and delegates appointed to the Pennsylvania General Association. The Rev. O. G. Buddington presented the report of the Missionary Committee, which considered the needs of the field of the new Association, and recommended plans of work. R. B. Cook, D. D., was appointed delegate to the American Baptist Education Society, and Rev. A. J. Furman to represent the Association at the State meetings in Pennsylvania. The next meeting of the Association will be with the Delaware Avenue Church, Wilmington, and the Committee of Arrangement: W. A. Walling, S. B. Meeser, and R. B. Cook.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The Columbia Association comprises all the white churches in the District, and held its Seventeenth Annual Meeting with the Second Church, Washington, November 19–22, 1894. The moderator is C. C. Meador, D. D., and the clerk, D. M. Yeatman, both of Washington.

The work in the District is conducted in co-operation with the Home Mission Society to the amount of $100, and the Home Board of the Southern Convention to the amount of $500. The churches contributed $2,576, and with these funds 4 churches had been aided in the support of their pastors to the amount of $1,703.29, and one field had been aided in supporting a missionary to the amount of $150, and sundry items of rent, repairs, interest, etc., swelling the total to $2,434.89, leaving a balance of $837.05.

The financial statement of the Baptist Home was: Balance from previous year, $96.31; contributions from churches, $1,463.33; special and miscellaneous items, $568.33; rents, loans, and notes, $4,976.28; a total of $7,104.25. There had been disbursements for expenses of the Home, $1,869.96; interest, insurance, loans, etc., $3,813.43; leaving a balance on hand of $2,420.86. The work of securing suitable property for the permanent establishment of this enterprise is in progress. There were 7 inmates in the Home during the year.

Other items of interest in connection with the anniversary are: An increase of over 1,000 in the attendance of the Sunday-schools, which now report 544 officers and teachers, and 5,402 enrolled pupils; the contributions sent by the women's circles for foreign missions amounted to $656.57; the consideration of the Columbian University and the Wayland Seminary in reports and addresses.

While there is no organized Young People's Union, special attention is always given in the annual meeting of this body to their work. The number of young people's societies reported was 37, with a total membership of over 1,500. There was a symposium by superintendents of various Sunday-schools: on "Young People in Christian Work"; an address by F. M. Ellis, D. D., of Maryland, on "Aims to be Sought by Our Young People in their Work"; and a consecration meeting, which was said to be very profitable.

The statistics of this body are contained in the appropriate table. There are 2 colored Associations in the District, and 1 Virginia Association is composed in part of churches in the District, the statistics of which are very hard to obtain. The next meeting is to be held with the Queenstown Church, November 18, 1895.

The Thirty-ninth Annual Meeting was held at Plant City, January 10–13, 1894. There were enrolled 55 representatives of 15 Associations, 85 representatives of 55 churches, and 20 representatives of 13 women's societies, in all 160. The Convention Sermon was delivered by Rev. C. S. Farriss, from John 17 : 3.

The report for the year showed more gratifying results than ever before. There had been 50 men in commission, a partial report of whose labors is: Churches supplied, 81 stations cultivated, 52; sermons preached, 3,670; other addresses, 605; received by baptism, 447, and otherwise, 355; Sunday-schools maintained, 66; schools organized, 33; 87 pupils were baptized; churches organized, 16; missionary societies organized, 17; meeting houses commenced, 12, and finished, 8; Bibles distributed, 276; religious books, 151; pages of tracts, 26 943; number of religious visits, 5,957; miles traveled, 40,140. Help to the amount of $1,749.93 had been rendered to 32 churches for the purpose of building, and by this aid a number of houses had been finished and dedicated.

In ministerial education, $1,002.70 had been expended, in which 12 young men shared, part receiving entire aid in their expenses and others supplemented as occasion required. Three were at the Seminary at Louisville, one at Mercer University, and the others at Stetson University. Some of them were doing much for their own expenses in rendering valuable aid in supply of pulpits.

The relations of the work are co-operative with the Home Board of the Southern Convention, and the Board of the State Convention is the agent for all the different departments of beneficence. The treasurer's report shows therefore the contributions for all purposes. These were $10,160.98; to this should be added $3,000 contributed by the Home Board of the Southern Convention. The expenditures were $14,390.27; among which are salaries of missionaries, $7,330.45; for foreign missions, $1,334.29; home missions, $341.35; Theological Seminary and Stetson University, $125.00; Publication Society, $32.22; Cuban Hospital, $20 00; expense account, $524.37; deficit of preceding year, $508.96. The debt for the year was $1,229.29. A supplemental report, which is not easily understood, shows that there was raised for endowment, $1,208.82; "Baptist Witness" Benevolent Fund, $308.52; Ministers' Relief, $300.00; mission boxes, communion sets, etc., $452.98; and for Girls' School, $30.00; making a total of $15,462.30, after the regular work of the missionaries has been added. The women's societies and bands contributed $1,346.72 to this work; and there were $453.98 value of missionary boxes, and $2,292.56 of Centennial funds; but it is not easy to understand if these items are included in the report above alluded to.

Appended to the report of the Board is a full statement of the woman's mission work, which is under the control of the Convention. Reference is made to the death of Mrs. L. B. Telford, who had given herself to this work. Before her death, she had written 68 letters, distributed 1,133 leaflets, and supplied 3 churches with communion sets; her successor is Miss J. L. Spalding, DeLand, who reported 253 letters written, and a large number of various kinds of missionary literature distributed. The number of missionary bands was 31, of which 3 were new, and 2 had been reorganized. The whole amount raised through these societies was $1,135.31; some of the items being those referred to in the preceding paragraph as occasioning some difficulty of understanding, and it is probable this work has not been added to the work of the Board as reported by it.

The trustees of Stetson University presented a report full of encouragement; there had been an enrollment of 202; 14 States were represented; 10 had been graduated at the previous commencement; the new buildings had added to the general efficiency of the institution; and grateful acknowledgment is made of valuable gifts from interested friends The schedule of the property showed $207,000; of this, $79,000 is endowment, and $75,000 is in new buildings. The receipts for the fiscal year had been $54,-280.01; balance in hand, $748 57; in this report, $28,908 79 represents the new Chaudoin Hall; and $4,316 for the new Dormitory.

Home and foreign missions, Sunday-school work, education and publication interests were represented, and addresses made by brethren in charge of those matters; and $207.00 was contributed for Theological Seminary Students' Fund; $5,054.00 pledged for home and State missions; and the new interest at St. Augustine was heartily commended to the churches. The rest of the proceedings were of routine character.

The next session was ordered to be held at Leesburg, to begin Wednesday, January 10, 1895; and Rev. A. P. Pugh was selected to deliver the Convention Sermon.

The Annual Meeting for 1894 was held at Plant City, January 12. The number of mem bers was reported to be 198, which is an increase of 51; of these 93 are beneficiary, and 105 are honorary members. The method employed is that beneficiaries pay an annual fee of 50 cents and an assessment of $1.00 on the death of a member; the honorary members pay the annual dues for the purpose of aiding the work of the Association. Two deaths had occurred during the year. The treasurer's report does not include the payments for them as the collections were still in progress The financial report was: Balance on hand, $5.00; dues collected, $34 50; the expenditures were $14.65. The annual meetings are held in conjunction with those of the State Convention.

The Seventy-second Annual Meeting was held at Macon, April 3-5, 1894. There were 49 Associations represented by 352 delegates, and 71 churches and missionary societies by 93 delegates, a total of 445 in attendance. The Convention Sermon was preached by Rev. G. S. Tomlin, from Matthew 16 : 18.

There had been employed 45 missionaries, including evangelists and instructors of colored ministers, for a shorter or longer time during the year. The missionaries had rendered 920 weeks of labor, occupied 144 stations, preached 3,558 sermons, made 788 addresses, baptized 694 persons, received otherwise 386, traveled 44,095 miles, made 8,089 religious visits, organized 10 churches, distributed 38,262 tracts, and 268 Bibles and Testaments, organized 19 Sunday-schools. collected for church building $1,901.85, and for benevolent purposes, $671.52. The Sunday-school evangelist had preached 148 sermons, made 204 addresses, traveled 9,511 miles, distributed 1,250 tracts, organized 32 Sunday-schools and 4 Sunday-school conventions, and held 22 institutes. The theological instructor of colored ministers and deacons had held 38 institutes, delivered 214 lectures and 67 sermons, traveled 6,057 miles, and distributed 1,500 tracts and 465 theological books. There had been also a general missionary employed, who had traveled 6,727 miles, and delivered 155 sermons and 8 addresses. The superintendent of missions had traveled 18,433 miles, and delivered 80 sermons and 102 addresses.

The Board receives and accounts for all the benevolent funds raised in the State for all purposes. The receipts for foreign missions had been $19,325.47; for home missions, $16,406 97; for State missions, $22,657.33. And there had been received also by the Board, as a channel of transmission to the respective objects, $2,521.31 for indigent ministers; $340.65 for the DeVotie Fund, for the same purpose; $2,075.32 for church building purposes; $14.42 for designated weak churches; $32.39 for miscellaneous items; $4,835 03 for the Orphans' Home; $79 for Sunday-school work; $531 for the Seminary at Louisville; and $2 for the Gibson Institute. In addition to these items there were reported to the Board $6,772.79 for purposes other than missions; from the women's societies, $2,605.78 for pastoral support on mission fields; $2,503 95 for ministerial education; $500 for other denominational education; $5,174.85 to the endowment for Mercer University; and $408.50 for the theological chair of the same institution, and $517.95 for the Hearn School. Thus there had been contributed for missions and education in the State, as reported by this Board, $88,334.90, of which $9,638 35 was for education simply. All of these funds had been expended for purposes named, except that there had been small cash balances already appropriated.

The treasurer of the Convention reported the permanent funds to be $27,674.75 devoted to educational purposes; $3,076.81 for the Hearn School Fund; and $279.60 for the Permanent Fund. The total invested funds now amount to $32,741.86, invested in interest-bearing bonds, save a cash balance of $11.86.

The report of the trustees of Mercer University, which institution is controlled by this Convention, indicated a reorganization of the faculty of the institution, by which it was greatly strengthened. Much enthusiasm attended the entrance upon their duties of 5 new professors. There had been received in all the departments 195 students, of whom 30 were preparing for the ministry, and 13 were in the law department. There are 6 funds devoted to the sustentation of this institution now aggregating $154,030.60. The Executive Committee has in charge the work of support of ministerial students. There had been 14 of these young men aided and partial assistance rendered to one other. The amount expended in their support was $1,1o7, only a small amount being contributed directly by the churches. This however, does not include the instances where young men are supported by Associations, or their own home churches directly without any call upon the denomination at large.

General denominational interests were presented to the consideration of the body in previously prepared reports; that on foreign missions was attended by an address by R. J. Willingham, D. D.; other reports were presented and discussed, on temperance, deceased ministers (which mentioned the names of 14 who had passed away during the year), Sunday-schools, education, and religious literature. A special committee reported upon the young peoples' movement, recommending the organization of young people for Christian training under control of the local churches, and where the trend should not be interdenominational. Considerable time was taken in the consideration of somewhat tangled relations existing between the Convention and the institution known as the Hearn School. This question had agitated the meetings of the brethren for several years, but in the light of the reports submitted, it is understood that a satisfactory solution of the problem had been reached.

Appended to the printed proceedings are the statistical tables for the conventional year, in which it appeared that there are now 54 Associations affiliated with the body, and 12 friendly to its purposes In the Convention proper there were 1,402 churches, with a membership of 124,311, including the anti-missionary churches, which are not included in the tables of the YEAR-BOOK. There were reported 340.095 Baptists, white and colored, in the State. Our tables being made up at a later period in the year, will show a variation from these figures.

The next meeting is to be held at Waycross, beginning Tuesday, April 9, 1895, and Rev. S. W. Jameson was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

The Eighteenth Annual Meeting was held at Lawrenceville, July 19–22, 1894. There was a representation from 4 Associations and 24 churches. These lie in the Northern portion of the State where there are 13 Associations which are not out of harmony with the larger State Convention, but which have formed themselves into this body in order to accomplish a better work through the unification of their membership in such a large territory. By request of the appointee, the Introductory Sermon was preached by J. B. Hawthorne, D. D., from Matthew 21 : 19.

Perhaps one of the main causes of the organization of this body was the consecration of one of their ministers, some years ago, to the work in China, since which time efforts have been made to secure funds for his support; and one of the interesting incidents of this meeting was an extended communication from this brother. The report of the secretary and treasurer seems to be for only a portion of the year, being less than six months. In this time there had been received $339.84, out of which the necessary printing expenses, and some small items of specified benefactions were paid, and the rest devoted to the cause of missions. The question of sustaining a corresponding secretary to do general evangelistic work throughout the territory of this Convention, was discussed at length and finally decided upon, if satisfactory arrangements could be made with the State Convention for this purpose. The educational institutions of Mercer University and the Seminary at Louisville were warmly appreciated; and the increasing number and liberal support of various high schools in their own territory was noted as an indication of gratifying progress. There is progress also in the line of Sunday-school work, some of the important Associations having active Sunday-school conventions. The death during the year of the honored president of this body gave rise to the proposition to form the Osborne Memorial Fund, the interest to be applied to the education of students for the ministry. The Orphans' Home, at Atlanta, also received a sympathetic support.

The next session is to be held with the Yellow Creek Church, north of Gainesville, beginning Tuesday, July 23, 1895, and Rev. G. H. Carter was appointed to preach the Introductory Sermon.

The Twenty-third Annual Session was held with the Metropolitan Church, Columbus, June 6–11, 1894. The Introductory Sermon was preached by Rev. R. J. Jackson, from Nehemiah 4 : 19. Other sermons were preached at the evening services, and on the Sabbath the Missionary Sermon was preached by Rev. G. H. Washington, the Doctrinal Sermon by Rev. E. Forrest, and the closing sermon by E. G. Love, D. D.

There had been an unfortunate division among the colored churches of the State, by which the work of the Convention had been impeded, in the withdrawal of some to form another body, which is not recognized by the general body of Baptists in the State. On account of this division there had been no contributions made to their missionary work by the Convention of whites, and the general scarcity of money had operated to restrict the progressive work, so that, after the first quarter, it was necessary to retrench, and many of the missionaries were suspended, and for a time the work entirely ceased.

The treasurer reported that he had received $598.18, which had been expended in the maintenance of the work of the Board, and the necessary publications. At this meeting there were received from the various sources $516.06, of which $268 was paid for the expenses of the Executive Board, $25 for foreign missions, $142 76 on account of missionary labor, and the remainder in miscellaneous items, including small sums to widows of deceased ministers. From the report of the corresponding secretary it would appear that the total missionary collections amounted to $348.43, and that he himself had collected $545.35, a total of $893.78, but there were obligations outstanding to missionaries and the secretary of $1,654.06.

In educational work the Atlanta Seminary had received $72.44 from the churches, and $7,567.55 from the Home Mission Society and special friends. The Spelman Seminary, for women, had received from sources in Georgia $285.79, and from friends without the State, including the Home Mission Society, $22,429.75. In the Atlanta Seminary the largest class in the history of the school had been graduated, 6 entering the ministry and 2 entering upon other professions.

The discussions in this body are entirely free, upon themes as they are presented by reports or resolutions. Rev. L. N. Luke represented the interests of foreign missions in an address upon the work of the General Convention of the Colored Baptists. Rev. S. A. McNeal read a paper on "How to Organize and Systematize our State Work," and Rev. J. B. Davis one on "How to Conduct Our Mission Work." A commission was appointed, consisting of 12 members, to treat with those who had withdrawn from this body, with a view of adjusting differences and reconciling them.

The next meeting is to be held at Brunswick, beginning Wednesday, June 6, 1895, and Rev. G. S. Bird was appointed to preach the Introductory Sermon.

IDAHO.

In this State there are now 2 Associations; there having been organized during the year a second body, in the eastern part of the State, from such churches as had been in association with those of Utah. The principal Association is known as the First Idaho, of which Rev. R. Pearse, Payette, is moderator, and Rev. L. W. Gowen, Caldwell, is clerk. There were 13 churches represented at the Fifteenth Session at Weiser, September 20–23, 1894. These report 69 baptisms and a membership of 515; 11 Sunday-schools with 753 enrolled pupils, and church property valued at $27,000. The total contributions, including home church expenses, was $5,526.77. There is close co-operation with the Home Mission Society. The outlook is highly encouraging and the prospect is good for a complete unification of the Baptist work within State lines.

The Thirty-fifth Anniversary was held at Pontiac, October 16–19, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. R. F. Y. Pierce, from Revelation 11: 1.

The number of missionaries under appointment had been 34; partial reports of their labors were made to the annual meeting, showing 1,360 weeks of labor, 3,487 sermons preached, 458 persons baptized, and 279 received otherwise. A legacy of $1,000 had become available during the year The total receipts amounted to $9,685 50, and the disbursements were $9,409.31, leaving a cash balance of $476.19. The invested funds now amount to $10,378.54, which is a slight decrease from the preceding year. In considering the report 6 missionaries were heard in brief addresses indicating the interest which prevails in the mission points scattered through the State. Rev. C. Perren, Ph.D., made an address on "The Duty of the Larger Cities and Churches to the Evangelization of the Rural Districts."

L. A. Abbott, D. D., presented the report of the committee on the state of religion, in which large accessions, organization of new churches, general harmony prevailing, and the bringing in of new evangelical forces, were mentioned as the encouraging aspects of the work. In connection with this report an address was made by Rev. R. H. Austin, on "The Relation of the Churches of the Rural Districts to the Evangelization of the Cities." The various phases of denominational effort were represented by Rev. H. C. First, for State Missions; Rev. J. J. Porter and C. F. Tolman, D. D., for Foreign Missions; and W. N. Haigh, D. D., for Home Missions.

The Sunday-school commission engaged attention at two sessions, reports were heard from district Sunday-school missionaries, Rev. G. W. Danbury, and E. A. Stone, D. D. The Publication Society appropriates $1,500 each year for this work, and the labor of these district missionaries lies in the direction of indoctrination and training, as well as in the organization of new enterprises, and valuable discussion on the practical side of this question occupied the hour. The subsequent report showed disbursements on account of Sunday-school work, $2,919.53, and receipts, including the donation of the Publication Society, $2,542.88, showing a deficit of $376.68. The complete enrollment of Sunday-schools in the State is 803 which is 184 less than the number of churches, the deficiency being in Southern Illinois. An address on primary work, by Miss Mabel Hall, followed the reading of the report.

Educational interests are confided to the fostering care of an Educational Commission which refers to the flattering outlook of Shurtleff College, over which a new president had been placed, and reference is made to the other institutions of the State as fulfilling well the purposes for which they were established. All of these institutions had been visited, and the result of observation is embraced in the report, but no reference is made to any work accomplished by the churches, either in contributions for endowments or aid in ministerial education. Addresses were made by J. A. Leavitt, D. D., president of Ewing College; A. K. Deblois, Ph.D., the new president of Shurtleff College; W. F Harper, D. D., of the University of Chicago; and C. E. Hewitt, D. D.

Among other interesting exercises was an address by P. S. Henson, D. D., on "Our Bible." New pastors to the number of 13 were formally presented to the Convention. Some slight amendments to the constitution were adopted, and the usual vigorous resolutions were passed, including the expression of opinion against appropriations of public moneys for sectarian purposes.

The next meeting is to be held at Quincy, in October, 1895, and President A. K. Deblois, Ph.D., was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

The Forty-ninth Annual Meeting was held at Pontiac, October 15, 16, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. J. J. Porter, from John 3:15. The exercises consisted of an exposition of John 16:13, by Rev. S. H. Bowyer; an essay on "The Symbolism of Christian Ordinances," by E. L. Scofield, D. D., which was followed by a general discussion; a discussion on "The Relation of Ministers to the So-called Advanced Thought of the Times," opened by Professor E. C. Hewitt, which was an interesting and profitable occasion. In this body appropriate recognition is made of those ministers who have passed away during the year. Dr. J. L. Bulkley has been chairman of this committee on obituaries for 43 years. The list for this session comprises 16 ministers, whose services were appropriately noted in biographical sketches.

The Third Annual Meeting was held at Pontiac, October 19, 1894. There were reported 456 organizations of young people in the State, with 16,902 members, a gain of 4,664 members during the year. There had been contributed to the various funds for local and general work, $4,853.02, and $1,608.46 was given to benevolent objects through the regular church channels. The State Union had received $484.20, and the disbursements were $295.24. A number of papers illustrative of practical work were read. The principal addresses were by Rev. A. K. Deblois, on "Do Baptists Believe in Education?" Rev. Martin W. Buck, on the "Christian Culture Courses"; Rev. F. R. Swartwout, on "Lecture Courses in Associations"; Rev. H. W. Reed, on "The Founding Fund"; and Rev. C. E. Taylor, Ph.D., on "Denominational Union Necessary for Educational Work." The Sixty-second Annual Meeting was held at LaFayette, October 9–11, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. Gilbert Dobbs, on "John the Baptist."

The consideration of the Annual Report was attended by an address by Rev. R. E. Neighbor, giving valuable statistics as to the contributing and non-contributing churches, the latter of which contained 14,000 members, and the former giving an average of ten and a half cents per member; Rev. William Thomas, on "The Influences of State Missions on World-Wide Missions"; and other addresses on special objects of State benevolence. Other addresses during the sessions were made by G. M. Leonard, D D., who had been invited to present the methods used by the Ohio Convention; A. E. Mather, D. D., on the Ministers' Aid Society; C. E. W. Dobbs, D. D., on Home Missions; and O. A. Cook, who wrote a paper on "The New Crisis." One evening was set apart to the hearing of an address by T. J. Morgan, D. D., Secretary of the Home Mission Society, on "The Ideal Republic." An address was also made by E. P. Hulbert, D. D., of the University of Chicago.

The report on education showed $345 raised for ministerial education, 2,000 volumes added to the library of Franklin College, a suit involving $1,500 having been decided in favor of the college, two new professors elected, and educational accomodations provided in the college buildings. The religious life of Franklin College was markedly gratifying on account of revival influences which had prevailed. Addresses bearing upon this feature of work were made by Prof. C. D. Hall, Lycurgus Kirtley, D. D., and others.

The sessions of the women's societies were largely attended and reports were received from all the organized associations. Much interest attached to addresses of returned missionaries giving details of their work and exhibiting curiosities from heathen lands. The results of the work in this State are contained in the summaries of the general societies of women. In connection with the reports of the women's work, Rev. J. A. Knowlton spoke on "The Relation of the Pastor to Foreign Missions"; and Rev. J. W. Kendall, on "The Incentives to Foreign Missions."

A committee was appointed to revise the constitution, which has proven to be unsatisfactory, tending to separate the Convention from the churches. Another important matter was the adjustment of evangelistic aid to smaller churches by which a number of pastors are to give a certain time in the conducting of meetings in the weaker churches under the direction of the superintendent of missions, as well as the engagement of evangelists to devote themselves exclusively to this work.

The place recommended by the committee for the next meeting was Washington, with a certain proviso, the time being October, 1895, and Rev. W. T. Van Cleve was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

The Sixth Annual Meeting was held at La Fayette, October 9, 1894. The report shows a gratifying increase, the number of pupils in the schools nearly equaling that of the members of the churches, and that it is a rare thing to find a Sunday-school using anything but Baptist literature. The total Sunday-school attendance is 45,329. The consideration of the report was attended by a general discussion in which the progress of the past ten years was noted, and addresses were made by Rev. W. W. Hicks on the inductive method of instruction; W. B. Johnson on "Building up the Local School"; Prof. C. H. Hall on "The Sunday-school Worker and the Word of God"; and Miss Francis Foster on primary class work. The district secretary, Rev. J. W. Harris, presented detailed reports of the work of the Publication Society, which co-operates with this Convention in the maintenance of its colporter and Sunday-school missionary work. The meetings are held in connection with those of the State Convention.

The Fourth Annual Meeting was held at LaFayette, October 11, 1894. The secretary's report showed: Number of societies organized during the year, 23; total numbers B. Y. P. U., 133; Christian Endeavor societies, 20; junior societies, 32; with a membership in all of 7,142, the majority being in Baptist Young People's Unions. There had been $73.00 received during the year, and a balance on hand exists of $25.00. The exercises consisted of open conferences on subjects of practical work, and the special features were an address oy the president, on "Baptist Young People and International Union"; and A. L. Clark, on "Our Junior Work"; and the display of banners with attendant reports from the various organized associational unions. The meeting was one of marked interest. The next Convention is to be held at the same time and place as the State Convention.

The Twelfth Annual Meeting of this body, which comprises Oklahoma as well as the Indian Territory, was held at Ardmore, June 21–23, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. H. H. Cordell, from Romans 1 : 14.

The report of the corresponding secretary states that there are 13,000 Baptists in the two Territories. The Convention had sustained 9 missionaries, who had served 244 weeks; preached 731 sermons; held 206 prayer meetings; made 1,476 religious visits; baptized 61 persons; added 170 otherwise; organized 14 churches and 4 Sunday-schools. The treasurer had received for territorial missions $492 16, and expended $431.15; the books were kept open, however, inasmuch as a number had brought up the contributions of their brethren with them to the annual meeting. Work is being done within the bounds of this body by the Home Mission Society and the Home Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. For the next year's work pledges were made aggregating over $600.

One of the features of this meeting was the presence of a number of "blanket" Indians, who had been recently converted, and who were visiting their civilized brethren for the first time. The report on education indicated over 700 pupils in the schools sustained in the Territory during the previous year, and was followed by a discussion which proved of great value in the eliciting of encouraging facts. Foreign and home missions received attention in reports and addresses. The principal addresses were made by Rev. N. B. Rairden, and I. N. Clark, D. D. The resolutions adopted embraced protests against government aid to sectarian schools. The rest of the exercises were of a routine character.

The Fifty-third Anniversary was held at Webster City, October 24–26, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. A. H. Ballard, from 2 Timothy 1 : 7.

Forty missionaries were under appointment through the year, though not all at the same time. Their service aggregates: Weeks in service, 1,570; sermons preached, 5,130; religious visits, 11,713; prayer meetings, 2,774; persons baptized, 443; received otherwise, 296. The missionary churches raised for salaries, $8,965; buildings and improvements, $5,900; other expenses, $2,642; missions and benevolence, $1,318. Rev. E. P. Bartlett had been chosen to succeed the efficient secretary and general missionary, who had gone into other work. Special features of the work of the Convention had been evangelizing labors among the Swedes; among whom 6 missionaries had been sustained, 4 new churches organized, and 80 baptisms reported; another missionary had been called to this work. Similar work has been maintained among Norwegians and Danes, and among the 11 German churches. District missionaries had been very efficient, and 28 churches had been supplied by student laborers; 13 new churches had been erected or were near completion. The report shows a gratifying increase in denominational missions throughout the State. The treasurer's report showed total receipts for all purposes, $8,295.43. The system of co-operation with the Home Mission Society prevails in this State.

In the consideration of the report addresses were made by Rev. G. F. Holt, and Rev. W. J. Watson on "The Gospel Method of Evangelization"; these were followed by platform addresses by various missionaries reporting the phases of their work.

The Sunday-school missionary reported the year as fruitful in demands. He had traveled 17,828 miles; distributed 134 copies of Scripture and 4,112 religious books; delivered 384 sermons and addresses; held 209 prayer meetings; made 278 religious visits; organized 14 Sunday-schools, and held 22 institutes. His report was attended by addresses by Rev. G. H. Bisby on "The Sunday-school as an Auxiliary to the Church"; by Rev. L. M. Waterman on "The Living Energy of Scripture"; and Rev. J. W. Harris on the general work of the Publication Society.

Other formal addresses before the Convention were made by H. L. Stetson, D. D., on "State Evangelization Essential to Denominational Growth"; and Rev. S. E. Wilcox on "Trial the Test of Consecration"; following which about $600 was secured upon the Convention's debt of $1,600.

The remaining exercises were principally of a routine character, the ordinary resolutions on denominational missions, publications, education, and temperance being supplemented by recommendations of plans of systematic beneficence. An interesting occasion was the presence of native Indian converts, present in the interest of the Home Mission Society.

The Sixth Annual Meeting was held at Webster City, October 23, 1894. The Annual Sermon was delivered by C. H. Strickland, D. D., from Isaiah 9 : 6. Addresses were made by Rev. H. C. Nash on "The Functions of Baptist Academies"; and Franklin Johnson, D. D., of the University of Chicago, on "The Baptists Then and Now."

The notable event of the year was the securing of a fine educational plant at Sac City, and the establishment of an advanced grade of a preparatory school. The buildings erected for this purpose are new and commodious and well adapted for the purpose, standing in expansive grounds. This school was opened on the thirtieth of September, preceding the meeting, with 29 pupils. The institutions at Des Moines, and Pella, and the Osage Academy, were represented to be in a flourishing condition, the former having now taken rank as a first-class college in the State. Reference should be made to the educational tables for latest statistics. During the year there had been 78 students for the ministry in six different schools. We are without details of the financial report. The next meeting is to be held in connection with that of the State Convention.

The Thirty-fifth Annual Meeting was held at Winfield, October 16–19, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. C. J. Pope, from Mark 9: 28, 29, on "Faith's Two Arms."

The Board reported 41 missionaries who had been under employment, who had served 45 churches and 49 out-stations, preached 4,830 sermons, made 14,088 religious visits, and received 1,035 members, of whom 509 had been baptized; the membership of the missions is now 3,151, and the gifts for benevolence were $1,460.21; the total amount raised for all purposes on these fields was $14,429.70, and the value of mission churches $126,220. The missionary secretary had traveled 24 000 miles, delivered 190 sermons and addresses, attended 28 general meetings, collected for Convention work $3,407.69, and performed the usual clerical work of his office. Two district missionaries had been at work, who added to the membership by baptism 119, and organized 5 new churches; special attention had been given to the Swedes, French, and colored people; the whole amount raised in the State for this purpose was $5,126.79, to which the Home Mission Society added $5,500; the debt of the Convention had been reduced to $488.63. Pending the adoption of the report there were addresses by Rev. R. L. Davidson, Rev. J. F. Wells, and other missionaries laboring in the fields of the Convention.

The report of the Sunday-school secretary showed a gratifying increase in the attendance upon Sunday-schools in the State; he had traveled 15,878 miles; sold 159 copies of Scripture, and 584 religious books, besides donating 249 copies of Scripture, distributed 3,778 pages of tracts, delivered 835 sermons and addresses, and visited 849 families. On the Sunday-school topic addresses were made by Dr. F. O. Hetrick, on "How to Bring Young Men into the Sunday-school and Keep Them There"; Rev. F. C. Lasiett, on "How to Teach Bible Doctrines"; Rev. L. H. Holt, on "The Home Department"; and Rev. Geo. D. Rogers, on "The Baptist Boys' Brigade." The report of the educational secretary showed 18 students aided in their preparation for the work of the ministry, and a gratifying condition of affairs in the Ottawa University, which is the educational institution of this Convention. There had been raised for ministerial education $876.74; for current expenses, $13,255.71; and collected on endowment notes, $3,790.41. Rev. R. Atkinson spoke on the topic of ministerial education, and President F. W. Colgrove, of Ottawa University, also addressed the body.

Reports of standing committees were read touching the subjects of temperance, systematic benevolence, and home and foreign missions. Among the interesting points was the presence of a Kiowa Indian, who spoke through an interpreter touching the work of the Home Mission Society. An address was also made by Rev. N B. Rairden, on the same subject. On foreign missions the Convention was addressed by I. N. Clark, D. D., and Rev. George Campbell, missionary in China. Among the resolutions passed were protests against the continuance of contract Indian schools under sectarian control, a declaration in favor of more strict observance of the Sabbath, and commendation of educational and publication interests in the State.

There were gatherings of the women interested in both foreign and home mission work. Papers were read by Mrs. W. A. Cain, on "What Our Missionaries are Doing on Foreign Fields," and Mrs. Bliss, on "Children's Work." In home missions, 18 of the 25 Associations are well organized, and there are 16 associational conferences, 5 being organized during the year. For State work the Kansas women had given $607.93, and they engaged to raise $1,000 for the coming year.

The next anniversary is to be held at Hiawatha, in October, 1895, and Rev. Geo. D. Rogers was selected as the preacher of the Annual Sermon.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. H. G. Fraser, from John 9: 4, on "The Theory of Christian Work, Its Proper Position, Its True Ideal." Rev. C. J. Pope read a paper on "Up-to-date Preaching," followed by discussion; Rev. W. B. Hutchinson read a paper on "Distinctions Between the Unregenerate Moral Man and the Christian"; Rev. George Brown presented a paper on "Cause and Cure of the Paralysis of Kansas Baptists"; "Expository Preaching," was the theme of a paper read by Rev. W. B. Bradshaw; Rev. J. D. Matthews spoke on "The Pastor's Duty Under Our System of Benevolence"; and Rev. J. B. Thomas, on "Signs of the Times as Seen by a Pastor." Thirteen new pastors, who had recently settled in the State, were introduced.

The Fourth Annual Meeting was held at Winfield, October 17, 1894. There were reported 159 societies in the State, most of which are Baptist Unions, with a membership of about 6,000; there had been expended $125 in carrying on the work through the State, the results being the accession of many new societies of young people. An address was made by Miss Ida C. Clothier, on "Increased Spiritual Life, How Secured"; three addresses on the duties of Christian young people were made, by Mr. D. S. Lawrence, "In Business Life"; M. R. Holt, "In Social Life"; and E. E. Trowbridge, "As Citizens"; Rev. R. Davidson spoke on "Our Denominational Societies, and the Relation of Our Young People to Them"; and Mr. F. E. A. Smith on "Bible Study and Training for Personal Work"; papers by Mrs. W. B. J. W. WARDER, D. D., Louisville.

The Fifty-seventh Annual Meeting was held at Carlisle, June 2–4, 1894. There were 30 Associations, and 88 churches represented by 126 messengers. The Annual Sermon was preached by W. W. Gardner, D. D., from Mark 16: 14, 15.

The annual report indicated the employment of 39 missionaries, who had served 24 churches, and 45 out-stations, rendered 3,165 days of labor, preached 1,805 sermons, held 685 prayer meetings, visited 4,653 families, baptized 345 persons, and added 321 otherwise. There had been 5 Sunday-schools organized on the fields, 6,277 pages of tracts distributed; they had raised for church building and improvements, $4,120.58; secured on the field, $3,170.51 for support; collected for missions and benevolence, $871.80. There were also 14 Sunday-school colporters, who had served 1,764 days, preached 1,054 sermons, supplied 35 churches and 34 out-stations, held 439 prayer meetings, visited 3,813 families, reported 535 conversions and 237 baptisms, with 161 added otherwise; raised $1,206.10 for church buildings; secured from the field for self-support, $310.56; for benevolence, $192.75; organized 21 Sunday-schools; distributed 36,989 pages of tracts. There were also 7 colored missionaries sustained, who had rendered 280 days of labor, preached 191 sermons, supplied 23 churches and 6 out-stations, held 145 prayer meetings, made 250 religious visits, reported 194 conversions, 37 baptisms, and 48 added otherwise; raised on the field, $126.55, and $212.56 for missions and benevolence, and organized 4 Sunday-schools. The appended tables to the report show receipts from all sources, for the part of the year (inasmuch as the associational year was condensed between October and June), to be for State missions, $2,310.80; State Sunday-school and colportage work, $993.99; for foreign missions, $8,338.02; home missions, $4,050.17; for amount expended in district missions, $2,872.96 was estimated and $900 for Sunday-school and colportage work in the same districts.

The Sixth report of the Ministers' Aid Society indicates no large contributions during the year, and receipts not sufficient to make that provision for beneficiaries actually needed. There had been received on the bond account, $2,011, and cash for Permanent Fund, $823.90, while the contributions for immediate use were $2,704.06. The bond account now stands at $14,616, of which there had been paid in $5,388 48, leaving on hand bonds to the amount of $9,257.52. The Permanent Invested Fund is now $17,278.63, with cash $461.43 to be when occasion offers invested, so that this fund is now $17,740.06. There are being assisted 14 preachers and their dependent families, and 8 widows with their families, for whom $1,143.85 had been expended. The assets, including the funds before mentioned, with $2,000 in bequests, and $400 in real estate, amounts to $29,397.58.

In educational work the special interests are the Georgetown and Bethel Colleges, the Theological Seminary at Louisville, and 10 other institutions of lower grade. Effort is being made to secure $10,000 for Georgetown College, as a memorial fund. The reports from all of the institutions were particularly encouraging. There were reports upon the general phases of missions—home, foreign, and State. In the Orphan's Home, which is fostered by this body, there are now 100 children, 37 of whom had been received during the year. So great was the interest in this charity that a pledged collection of $1,600 was made for it.

The Central Committee of women's missions made their thirteenth report, which is for the seven months of the associational year. There were reports from 72 societies which had contributed $2,990.11 for missions, and $1,202 21 for miscellaneous objects of benevolence. There are flourishing societies of young people, principally in the churches of the large cities and towns, under the control of the churches; their work in training and arousing the energies of young people was recognized as expedient and helpful.

The committee on Baptist History reported the collection constantly of valuable materials, and the pressing of the work of further collections, which are placed in the library of the Theological Seminary, at Louisville.

The next meeting is to be held at Paducah, beginning Saturday, June 15, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by W. L. Pickard, D. D.

The Annual Meeting for 1894 was held at Carlisle, May 31, June 1. The Annual Sermon for criticism was preached by Rev. C. H. Nash, from Rom. 12 : 1, 2.

The following topics were discussed: "The Use of the Bible in Public Worship," led by Rev. W. J. Holtzclaw; "Does the Holy Spirit Act as a Sovereign in Regeneration, or Does He Act Subordinately?" led by I. W. Brunner; a paper on "Systematic Giving," by Rev. A. V. Sizemore; one by W. H. Felix, D. D., on "Ought Instruments of Music to be Used in Worship, and If So, To What Extent?" an exegesis of John 17 : 22, by Rev. J. N. Prestridge; "To What Extent Should Our Preaching be Doctrinal?" led by Rev. T. J. Z. Cody; a paper by Rev. Jno. O. Rust, on "What is Objectionable in Sensational Preaching?" "The Bible Doctrine of Eternal Punishment," led by J. N. Weaver, D. D.; "Amusements: To What Extent Are They Admissible, or Inadmissible?" led by W. W. Gardner, D. D.; and the interesting exercises peculiar to this body, by which Rev. C. D. Mitchell, and Rev. Cleon Keyes, the youngest and the oldest ministers present, related their Christian experience and call to the ministry.

The next meeting is to be held at Paducah, on the day preceding the meeting of the General Association, in June, 1895, and Rev. Preston Blake was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

The Forty-sixth Anniversary was held at Amite City, August 17–21, 1894. There were present 142 delegates, representing 61 churches and 7 Associations. The Convention Sermon was preached by Rev. W. C. Brown, from 2 Peter 3 : 18.

There had been 22 missionaries steadily employed, and 2 others who had performed colportage work during a part of the year; in all there had been 25 employed including the corresponding secretary, but some had been partially engaged. The aggregate of labor was: 27,232 miles traveled, 3,262 days of labor, 7 churches organized, 1,527 sermons preached, 378 addresses delivered, 482 prayer meetings held, and 40 protracted meetings, 3,942 religious visits, 212 persons baptized, and 191 received otherwise; 210 copies of Scripture, 214 religious books, and 14,798 pages of tracts distributed; 32 Sunday-schools organized, and 3 buildings in process of erection. They had collected for missions, $1,208.03; for church building and repairs, $2,812.01; for support from fields, $3,271.84, and for ministerial education, $172. Increase in the work had been hindered because of the presence of debt, and yet new fields had been entered at important points, and at some others work had been resumed where it had formerly been abandoned. The debt of the Board has been reduced to $1,904.50. The work in the French population has been peculiarly encouraging, and the cause in New Orleans has moved steadily forward. There is a Permanent Fund for colportage amounting to $304.74, which is inadequate for the demands of the work.

The receipts of the treasurer, which doubtless include amounts received from without the State, inasmuch as the Home Board of the Southern Convention contributes to State work, were: Balance on hand, $213 93; State missions, $4,265; foreign missions, $1,509.09; home missions, $478.93; ministerial education, $145.40; church building, $10; conventional funds, $128.55; all these amounts had been disbursed save a balance of $291.57. In addition to the work done by the Southern Baptist Convention Home Board there had been co-operation with the Sunday-school Board of the same Convention, especially in the distribution of Bibles, and the supplying of literature for new and weak Sunday-schools. During the sessions of the body there were collections and subscriptions taken for the State mission work, amounting to $526.70; foreign missions, $508.65; the Seminary at Louisville, $201; and for ministerial education within the State, $294.

There are 2 schools of high grade in the State, which had matriculated respectively 185 and 163 pupils; of the former 19, and of the latter 7 were preparing for the ministry. It appeared that there was due on the support of these young men $806.42, but there did not seem to be any specified financial report on the subject. An effort is being made to canvass the educational situation among the Baptists of the State, to discover the advisability of combining these two institutions. A committee of 15 was appointed to report on this matter the next year.

The Women's Missionary Societies held meetings in conjunction with the Convention. Out of 40 societies only 22 made regular and full reports. This partial statement includes $86.28 for education, $478.07 for foreign missions, $521.43 for home missions, $314.15 for State missions, $1,143.25 for church building, and $168.01 for benevolence.

Among the routine matters of interest there was a comprehensive report on the subject of tithing. There were reports on publications, in which their State paper was earnestly commended; and also upon the training of young people, in which the churches were urged to enter heartily into the work of organizing this element. Vigorous resolutions on temperance were adopted.

The next session is to be held at Monroe, beginning Friday, August 16, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by W. S. Penick, D. D.

We are without definite information of the annual meeting for 1894. An extensive missionary work is done under the direction of the Executive Board composed of the above mentioned officers. There is also co-operation with the Home Mission Society and the Publication Society, both of which have efficent men employed, the results of whose labors are incorporated in the summaries of those bodies. There is a weekly publication for the colored churches, although at present it is temporarily suspended. The annual meeting of 1895 is to be held with the Plymouth Rock Church, New Orleans, in September.

The Seventieth Anniversary was held in the First Church, Portland, October 2, 3, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. T. F. Samson, from Matthew 25: 26, 27.

There had been aided 66 churches during the year, either by direct appropriation or extended services of missionary or pastor assisted by the Convention, and increase in the ability and purpose of the churches to assist themselves was noted. All the churches aided showed substantial gain; 43 of them reported baptisms to the number of 367. There had been employed several general missionaries, the results of whose evangelistic work had been gratifying, and the state of religion was reported to be better than it had been at any other time previous. The receipts for the year had been $13,788.67, and the disbursements $12,332.41, leaving a balance on hand of $1,456.26. The Convention has a Special Trust Fund of $13,513.17, a Special Fund of $12,330, and a Permanent Fund of $40,422.54, making a total of such funds, $62,226.26. For missionary purposes the appropriations had been, $1,834.44; to 46 churches in aid of their general work, $4,032.72; and a special appropriation of $148.50; making total in this department, $4,181.22. A noticeable record was that no church applying for aid in the support of its ministry had been denied; no church or parsonage building had been undertaken.

The anniversaries were opened by a sermon by Rev. A. S. Gumbart, Mass., on "The Divinity of Christ"; other prepared addresses were made by Rev. C. A. Towne, in presenting the report on the state of religion; Rev. E. C. Whittemore on "Grouping of Churches for Work"; Rev. C. E. Young, on "Missionary Service"; Rev. A. N. Dary, on "Evangelistic Service"; these latter addresses being followed by reports of practical work in volunteer addresses by several. Wm. Ashmore, D. D., of China, addressed the Convention on foreign missions.

The committee on obituaries noted the departure of 12 ministers and 14 friends of the cause. Seven new pastors, who had entered the State during the year, were formally welcomed; and a pleasing exercise was the presentation of greetings from representatives of other religious bodies in the State.

In considering the question of the young people's work, Rev. J. H. Parshley spoke on "The Importance and Function of the Associational Union," Rev. J. T. Tilton, on "Work for Juniors," and Rev. G. B. Ilsley, on "The Christian Culture Courses." An extended discussion resulted in a decision to call the representatives of young people's societies together for the formation of a State Baptist Young People's Union; this was done, with Rev. G. B. Ilsley presiding, and Rev. H. B. Woods, secretary. There seemed to be a manifest division of sentiment still existing and the completion of the organization was postponed, pending the action of a committee to whom the matter was referred for future action.

The next meeting is to be held at a place to be selected by the corresponding secretary, and duly announced, and Rev. W. S. Ayres was appointed as the preacher of the Annual Sermon. The constitutional time of meeting is the first Tuesday in October of each year.

The Seventy-fifth Anniversary was held at Portland, October 3, 1894. There did not appear to be any Annual Sermon preached.

The Annual Report revealed that 12 students had been aided to the amount of $1,000. For the lack of contributions the Permanent Funds had been drawn upon to the amount of $261; the contributions from the churches were smaller than for many years, only 67 churches having contributed. The Board was therefore unable to supply the demands of all applicants. The treasurer had received $1,015.25, which includes the amount drawn from the invested funds, and a small balance from the preceding year; the expenditures were, $1,014.41; the invested funds are now, $4,442.20. The condition of affairs provoked an earnest and thoughtful discussion which was generally participated in by volunteer speakers. The prepared papers and addresses were: by Geo. Bullen, D. D., of the Newton Seminary, on the general topic of ministerial education; A. R. Crane, D. D., on "The Duty of the Churches to Our Educational Institutions"; Rev. W. S. Ayres, on "The Dignity of Christian Service"; G. D. B. Pepper, D. D., on "Our Educational Work as Related to the Christian Ministry"; and Pres. B. L. Whitman, on "Our Educational Outlook." In addition there were reports from the various educational institutions in the State by the principals, and also by committees that had been previously appointed.

The Fifty-ninth Annual Meeting was held with the Fulton Avenue Church, Baltimore, October 30, November 1, 1894. There were 50 white churches and 15 colored churches represented by 497 delegates. There was an addition of 3 new churches to the organization. The Annual Sermon was preached by F. N. Ellis, D. D., from 2 Cor. 5 : 18, 21.

The statement of work done by 30 missionaries was: Weeks of labor, 1,212; sermons, 3,067; addresses, 1,333; prayer meetings held, 3,340; miles traveled, 20,277; religious visits made, 10,875; persons baptized, 302; pages of tracts distributed, 29,127; copies of Scripture distributed, 470. An attempt had been made to employ a State evangelist, but application having been made for the necessary funds to sustain this work without accomplishing the desired result, no such appointment was made. In the regular work 42 churches and stations had been supplied by 21 white and 9 colored missionaries. In addition to the aiding of work among weak churches, there had been special attention given to German and Chinese populations; among the former 72 persons had been baptized, and an emigrant mission had proved an important factor in the work; in the Chinese work a large increase of pupils was reported, and a greater interest on the part of both scholars and teachers. The Home Board of the Southern Baptist Convention had co-operated, especially in the German and colored work, aiding in the support of 3 of the missionary pastors and supplying the funds for the work for the German emigrants. The Publication Society had aided in liberal grants of Bibles, Testaments, and religious tracts, besides aiding in colportage work among the colored people. A valuable auxiliary to the work was the Home Mission Society of women in the State. The relations of the colored Baptists to this body have been peculiar; during the year it was deemed wise to organize them into a separate Association, yet having organic connection with the State Union, and this work seems now arranged without danger of ultimate friction.

The treasurer reported receipts from white churches, $4,893.30; white Sunday-schools, $375.25; colored churches, $251 03; colored Sunday-schools, $44.50; Women's Home Mission Society, $171.28; dividends and interest, $995.70; ground rents $904; sundry items, $10.00; a total of $7,645.06. This had been disbursed: On account of missionaries of white churches and fields, $5,420.88; colored churches, $797.76; sundries, including rents, Chinese school, etc., $1,042.72; miscellaneous items, $999.20; showing a deficit of $925.21. In the Education Fund the treasurer had received from churches and individuals and Thanksgiving collections, $981.48; and there had been paid to 15 beneficiaries of the fund and necessary expenses, $1,175.02; showing a deficit of $362.44. The treasurer reported also having been the channel of communication for $76.43 for home missions; $76.51 for foreign missions; and $19.69 for miscellaneous objects. There are also 5 funds in process of collection which stand at this time as follows: Investment account, $1,749.06; Emergency Fund, $21 29; Entertainment Fund, $115.17; Alice Webster Fund, $139.74; Building Loan and Gift Fund, $1,167.48; there are securities belonging to the Association in stocks, bonds, mortgages, and notes, $18,120.56, and the W. G. Rider Fund, amounting to $19,312.50 making the Permanent Fund $37,433.06. The Widows' and Superannuated Ministers' Fund, for which there is a separate treasurer, reported $3,681.86, and disbursements of $1,300 loaned to one church, and $225 paid to beneficiaries. It would seem that there are securities held by this fund amounting to $6,636.86, but it is difficult to determine whether this is in addition to the above items or a separate account.

In ministerial education 38 churches had contributed $741.21, which is a gratifying increase over previous years. The number of young men aided was 15, at an outlay of $1,175.02; of these two had finished their course and entered on their work, leaving 13 for whose support $1,250 was demanded. Six churches had contributed to the Building Loan Fund a total of $81 10. The Baptist Orphanage had been prospered to the extent of purchasing a house and lot valued at $8,000, for which cash payment had been made. During the year 16 orphans had been received and 11 dismissed, and there are now on hand 26, with several applications to be acted upon. The house expenses were $587.24, and the receipts $588.80.

The organizations of women for missions reported for foreign missions total receipts, $2,245.96, all of which was expended in the work with the exception of $16.50, necessary expense. The church societies throughout the State were admirably organized, and there is close co-operation with the general organization of women auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention. For home missions there had been received $4,231.61. The number of auxiliaries reporting was 32, bands, 30; number of churches and Sunday-schools assisting, 42. The disbursements were for the general work of the Home Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, $4,056.04, and for the State Mission work, $175.47. In addition to this work the Baptist Mission Rooms, located at No. 9 West Lexington Street, Baltimore, were maintained with the usual efficiency which has prevailed for many years past. Through this agency there had been 231,500 copies of 56 original leaflets printed; 57,500 sheaf cards; 23,000 mission cards; and 11,167 purchased leaflets distributed; all this at an expense of $2,767.77, less balance to new account of $370 18.

The general denominational interests were represented, not only in reports, but in addresses by prominent representatives of the various Boards. An effort to meet the indebtedness upon the Executive Board resulted in securing $321.09. The work of the young people was commended to the churches.

The next meeting is to be held with the Fuller Memorial Church, Baltimore, beginning October 29, 1895, and O. F. Gregory, D. D., was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

The Ninety-Second Anniversary was held in the Tabernacle Church, Boston, October 31, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. Frank Rector, from Prov. 20 : 21 and 13 : 11, on "Patience and Permanence."

The report refers to the financial embarrassment, and that the year past had witnessed an additional drain upon the interest bearing funds, so that for several years nearly $100,000 had been thus expended, and the income from investments reduced more than one-half. Reference is made to the startling decrease in the contributions of the churches, although there had been increase both in the number of aided churches and the average amount paid. The general topic reported was the financial condition, presenting to the churches the situation which had obtained during the past nine years. The receipts were: Balance from last year, $1,137.87; from 270 churches and missions, $8,551.30; individual donations, $492.00; net interest on invested funds, $6,126.11; other items, $3,899.15; a total of $20,206.18. The disbursements were: To churches and missions, $14,529 92; for missionary, $1,480.08; secretary and superintendent, $2,389.19; other items, $1,817.07; $2,386 overdrawn in paying annuities as agreed; $5,115.50 was paid in annuities from invested funds; $3,755.99 was drawn for missionary work among the foreign population; $1,177.50 for special State missions, and $11,986 for buildings, debts, and repairs.

Rev. J. P. Abbott made an address, on "The Future of the Convention"; and Alexander Blackburn, D. D., spoke, on "The Convention and Good Citizenship." Both of these addresses were in consideration of the report of the secretary. At another time addresses were made by missionaries, who had been laboring among the Swedes, French, and Italians. It was resolved to recommend a combination of two or more churches in the support of a common pastor, where possible, to withdraw no more of the invested funds for city mission work, and to leave such to be continued on the same basis with the general work of the Convention.

The place of the next meeting was left to the Executive Committee to determine, the time being October 30, 1895, and the preacher of the Convention Sermon, Rev. D. B. Jutten.

This was followed by a general discussion.

The obituary report was read by C. M. Bowers, D. D., and contained appropriate reference to the character and work of 11 ministers, who had died during the year. The treasurer reported: Total amount of receipts, $2,865 67; of which $1,331.47 was income from permanent funds; and there had been disbursed to needy ministers, $2,380.

The next meeting is to be held in connection with that of the State Convention, and N. E. Wood, D. D., was appointed to read the Annual Essay, and J. W. T. Boothe, D. D., to preach the Annual Sermon.

The One Hundred and Third Anniversary was held in the Tabernacle Church, Boston, October 23, 1894. The treasurer's report showed that the churches had contributed $3,149.39, and other sources of income, including $6,000 borrowed money, made the total receipts $11,925.82. The total expenses had been $10,340.52, of which $8,233.40 had been paid to students; the cash balance on hand was $1,585 30, and there is a floating indebtedness of $7,500; the Permanent Fund, reckoning stock at par value, amounts to $74,200.

Rev. F. D. Penney made an address, on "The Relation of Pastors to Ministerial Education"; and Rev. H. O. Hiscox, on "The Relation of Churches to Ministerial Education." The constituency of this Society is principally all the New England States, but the annual meetings are always held in connection with the State Convention of Massachusetts.

The Tenth Anniversary was held in Boston, October 25, 1894. The State secretary for Sunday-schools reported 30 institutes and 60 conferences held during the year, in many cases a deep spiritual interest being manifested; he had visited 130 cities and towns, given 50 stereopticon lectures and 90 addresses, attended 19 general gatherings, traveled 9,040 miles, and given attention to the clerical work of his office; more than 80 new schools had been organized, and the membership increased by 6,000; nearly 75 per cent. of the baptisms into the churches during the past four years had been from the Sunday-schools. The total membership in 1894 was 71,672, with an average attendance of 43,097; the contributions of the schools had been $64,103.05, and the baptisms reported, 2,332 The receipts of the treasury were: Cash balance, $128.55; from the schools, $2,152.31; conventions, $277.62; life and sustaining members, $1,072; other items, $2,481.47; a total of $6,111.95. In the disbursements are: Salary of secretary, $1,200; helpers and traveling expenses, $770.75; chapel building, $2,598.39; and other items swelling the expense to $6,745.50. The Permanent Fund now amounts to $1,134 33.

The exercises included addresses by Rev. Frank Rector, on "The Great Commission in Massachusetts"; Mrs. Frances R. Ford, on "The Lesson Illustrated"; Rev. A. S. Gumbart, on "Illustrations"; and J. K. Dixon, D. D., of Philadelphia, on "The Hamlet Greater than the City."

The Fifty-ninth Annual Meeting was held at Lansing, October 17–21, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by J. L. Jackson, D. D.

The year past had been the most successful ever experienced by the Board, a great spiritual awakening having been noted, and 1,250 baptisms reported through the direct work of the missionaries. There had been $12,000 expended by the Board, which leaves a deficit of about $800, and the demands made, especially from the Upper Peninsula, as well as in several large cities, could not be met. The record kept by the secretary showed that 47 ministers had changed their fields within the State, 18 others had left the State, 19 had come in from other States, and 13 had resigned without further settlement. The ordinations were 17, and 4 had been received from other denominations, while 1 had left the denomination, and 12 had died. Of 25 new churches organized 19 had been recognized. Six church edifices had been dedicated and 6 parsonages secured. The presentation of the report was attended by reports from other fields, by the general missionaries, and Rev. D. D. MacLauren spoke on the question, "Is the Work in our Cities Prosecuted with Sufficient Vigor?" The Convention decided that there should be no retrenchments in appropriations, but that rather work among the Germans should be undertaken, and an appeal made to the churches on a basis of .50 per member.

In State Missions the missionary force had been 74, of whom 59 were pastors occupying 80 churches and supplying 55 other places. The others, aside from the Superintendent, Rev. C. E. Conley, were general missionaries, 11 of whom labored at their own churches. These general missionaries have aided 187 churches and labored in 101 other places. The baptisms reported by this entire force were 1,250. The total number of baptisms in the State was over 4,600. The total amount appropriated by the State Mission Board during the year was $13,717.69, to which was added for State mission work, $1,607.54 by the Women's Board, and $1,311.09 by the Home Mission Society.

There is in this State a Laymen's Conference as well as a Ministers' Conference. A peculiar feature of this session was a joint meeting of these, at which Hon. T. E. Barkworth made an address on the topic, "Are Laymen Encouraged by Pastors in the Work of the Denomination?" and Z. Grenell, D. D., spoke on "Who is the Minister's Master?" A general discussion of these topics on the part of both ministers and laymen was reported to be very helpful.

The Board of Trustees of Kalamazoo College, which has also control of ministerial education, reported the work in the college as indicating a cheering growth, the new year opening with 145 students. The receipts for the year past were from all sources $19,418.18, and the expenditures $17,210.19, of which $11,295.05 were for salaries of professors. The Endowment Funds are $21,909.63, other bonds $22,350, real estate $60,000, and the annual income from the funds is nearly $10,000. During the year 21 ministerial students received aid to the amount of $852.50, which had been contributed from various sources. President A. G. Slocum, Prof. E. J. Burton, of Chicago, and Rev. S. B. Merrill, of Rochester Theological Seminary, spoke to the report on the general subject. There was also a report from the Women's Educational Society, in which it appeared that good results had followed from efforts on the part of the women in the work of furnishing dormitories, and the collection of means for the general expenses. Mrs. Hiram Miller, of Kalamazoo, is president, and Mrs. L. S. Monroe, South Haven, is secretary of this body. The object of the association is to foster in every way the interests of the institution, but more especially in the care of young men preparing for the ministry.

In the department of foreign missions 213 churches, 40 Sunday-schools, and 31 young people's societies contributed during the year. The percentage of the churches giving had fallen from 70 to 60, a result which was expected from existing conditions; the amount contributed was $5,253. There is also an organization of women for foreign missions, which held its meeting in connection with the consideration of this report. The receipts through their circles were $3,013 42. Eighteen new bands were reported, and it was said that the best results were obtained in the smaller churches. The denominational work is in better condition than ever before. The addresses were by Rev. J. S. Boyden, on "What Foreign Missions Have Done for Baptists," and Mrs. E. H. Griffith, for the women, on "The Present Outlook of our Work."

For home missions there were reported 140 contributing churches, and the receipts had been: From churches, $2,957.76; Sunday-schools, $71.29; young people's societies, $36.40; individuals, $81.85; women's societies, $1,100; a total of $4,694.89. The Home Mission Society had aided in work in the State to the amount of $2,050. The Women's Home Mission Society, which reported in this connection, had raised from all sources $3,679.65, and disbursed $3,635.94; and they had distributed 987 leaflets, and much other literature. There had been an increase in the number of mission bands over the preceding year. Upon this topic Rev. N. F. Pettit spoke, on "The New Conquest of Mexico," and Rev. S. F. S. Retan, on "The Gospel of Human Helpfulness." T. J. Morgan, D. D., Secretary of the Home Mission Society, was presented and spoke on the work among foreign populations, as representing the women; addresses were made by representatives in the Norwegian work, and others.

The Sunday-school Board reported colporters employed among the Scandinavians, and at important local points, on a system of co-operation with the Publication Society. As a result of their labors 24 Sunday-schools had been established and a church organized in the Upper Peninsula, and 9 schools established in the Lower Peninsula; 11 schools had been started in the neighborhood of Detroit, and a Scandinavian school had been organized. Bible Day had been observed by 96 Sunday-schools, contributing $481.67. The contributions for the general work were: $1,480.72 from 212 schools; $535.77 by 54 churches; miscellaneous, $129.47; total, $2,627.64. The Publication Society had expended $3,800 on the field. There were addresses by several colporters, and Rev. J. W. Harris, District Secretary for the Publication Society.

The report of the Ministers' Aid Society, which maintains a home at Fenton, showed that there had been 16 inmates in the home during the year, and 63 beneficiaries outside, a total of 79; 1 inmate and 3 beneficiaries had passed away. The receipts were contributed by 106 churches, $1,375.31; 8 Sunday-schools, $64.56; 5 women's circles, $28.70; young people's societies, $14.90; associations $42.78; 60 individuals, $263.48; a total of $1,789.73. An address was made by D. E. Hills in behalf of the home.

On the Sabbath there was a consideration of the Committee on Obituaries, in which the departure of 11 ministers, and 2 wives of ministers, were appropriately noted. This was followed by an address by President A. H. Strong, D. D., of Rochester Seminary, on "Our Baptist Advantage in America"; and in the evening an address was made by T. J. Morgan, D. D., on "Christianity as a Patriotic Force."

The next meeting is to be held at a place to be determined by the Board, October, 16, 1895, and the Rev. J. Snashall was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

Slocum, on "The Relation of the Church to Higher Education"; Rev. J. H. Green, on "Have We a Denominational Drift"; and Rev. T. B. Caldwell, on "The Pastorate; Its Most Desirable Length." The Second Meeting of the Baptist Laymen, in which it was determined to constitute it a permanent organization, was held at Lansing, October 17, 1894. The method of organization was very simple, providing for an annual meeting in connection with the State Convention, and a joint meeting of pastors and laymen during its sessions, the object being to develop a much stronger interest among the lay element of the churches in missionary work. At this meeting a discussion, on "Do Secular Affairs Prevent a Layman from Actively Engaging in Christian Work?" was opened by J. C. Gates; and Dr. A. E. Bulson opened a second discussion, on "Our Duty as Christain Men to Cultivate Spiritual Life."

The Annual Meeting for 1894 was held at Lansing, October 19. The report of the secretary revealed 240 societies of young people, with 8,132 active members, and 2,432 associate members; to this should be added 69 junior societies, in which 2,100 young boys and girls are being trained for Christian service. Over $1,200 had been contributed to the Founding Fund through systematic efforts, without recourse to fairs or other doubtful means of securing money. There had been a lack of active field work during the year, but the demands from local points showed a gratifying interest maintained by the young people of the State. A banner was awarded to the Reed City Union for acquiring the greatest proficiency in the Christian Culture Courses. The papers and addresses were upon practical working topics. There was an attendance of 270 young people upon this session.

The next meeting is to be in connection with the State Convention.

The Thirty-fifth Anniversary was held in the Immanuel Church, Minneapolis, October 9–11, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. G. L. Morrill from Matthew 21 : 28.

The report refers to the peculiar trials occasioned by financial difficulties, drought, forest fires, and cyclones, which had tested the faith of the workers to the extreme, yet in the face of these difficulties the work had been pressed, and generally favorable results had been obtained. Work was carried on not only among the American population but also among the large Swedish and Norwegian population; several important points had become self-sustaining; the number of churches aided was 27 American, 13 Swedish, and 12 Dane-Norwegian. Partial reports showed 52 churches served, with 40 outstations; 2,229 weeks of labor; 6,739 sermons preached; 3,036 prayer meetings held; 7,586 religious visits made; 510 persons baptized; 1,066 received otherwise; and 8 Sunday-schools organized. The total membership in these mission churches was 3,854, of which 2,326 were in American churches. On these mission fields $13,363.05 had been paid for salaries; $5,697.50 for Sunday-schools and incidental expenses; $1,732 80 for improvements and lots; and $4,587.07 on indebtedness; for benevolence, $3,050.96 had been contributed. The treasurer's statement was not complete at the time of the meeting, an indebtedness of $1,638.87 having been reported, and it was deemed best to keep the books open until the beginning of the following month. Reference is made to the body of Mennonite brethren from Russia, in the southwestern part of the State, whose pastor was present, and gave an account of his work among these people. Rev. W. P. Mackie made an address in connection with the report on the obligations which Baptists owe to Minnesota. An interesting feature in connection with the consideration of the report was a number of short talks by workers in the missionary fields; this was followed by a report on the spiritual state of the churches, by T. W. Powell, D. D., and a discussion on "Our Needs," conducted by Rev. C. A. Beese. The work among the foreign population was considered at an evening session, at which representatives of the Swedes, Danes, and Norwegians spoke, and an address made by Wayland Hoyt, D. D., on "God's Work in his World."

The report on the Sunday-school work showed 196 schools, a gain of 19 during the year, in which there were enrolled 14,235, an increase of 600. There are engaged in this work, partially sustained by the Publication Society, a Swedish Sunday-school missionary, colporters among the Dane-Norwegians and Americans, and one chapel car now in commission for evangelistic work. Mr. E. N. Hulett, the State Sunday-school missionary, made an extended address, and the colportage work was presented in several addresses by colporters present.

In considering foreign missions there were addresses by Rev. Addison Moore, on "This Side the Sea," and Rev. Frank Peterson, on "Beyond the Sea." The women's foreign mission work was considered in a session of the women, in which it was reported that the interest continues unabated; 8 laborers now on the field from the State and two more under appointment In 128 churches there had been raised $4,202.45 through this agency. A varied and interesting program was conducted by the women, in which many practical points of interest were discussed. There was also a meeting of the women interested in home missions, which was lively in interest, the time being given to direct reports from mission fields, and the investigation of plans and methods for the extension of interest in this department of Christian labor.

A remarkable feature of this meeting was the presence of the chapel car "Glad Tidings" at the Union Depot in the city, in which frequent meetings were held. A stirring resolution was adopted solemnly pledging the Convention to attempt to make the next Convention of larger and more enthusiastic service.

The next meeting is to be held at Austin, beginning October 8, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by Rev. J. W. Conley.

The Sixtieth Anniversary was held at Winona, August 12–16, 1894. There were enrolled 241 representatives of 28 Associations, 84 churches, and 26 societies of women. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. M. V. Noffsinger, from Heb. 9 : 8–12.

The report of the Board contains the names of 47 missionaries, who had rendered 4,123 days of service, traveled 37,070 miles, served 137 stations, preached 3,022 sermons, held 938 prayer meetings, made 4,936 religious visits, baptized 393 persons; and 433 others were baptized from their labors; added otherwise, 374; organized 5 churches and 44 Sunday-schools, distributed 30,233 pages of tracts, completed 3 meeting houses, commenced the erection of 6 and repaired 7 others, and collected $6,980 for various objects, of which $1,919.25 was for their own support. Great attention had been given to the Gulf Coast, described as "Papal Mississippi," and to what are known as the Delta fields, lying along the course of the great river. A Sunday-school evangelist had been profitably employed.

The report of the treasurer indicated receipts for the following funds: General Fund, $2,261.04; State Missions, $4,289.66; Foreign Missions, $3,192.72; Home Missions, $978.04; College Support, $25.46; Ministerial Education, $280 04; Sunday-school Work, $662.84; Sustentation, $556.89; Centennial Missionary Funds, $111.00; a total for all purposes of $10,844.65.

Mississippi College, sustained by this body, reported, all things considered, a prosperous year; there had been a largely increased attendance of pupils and the graduating class numbered 14. There had been received from all sources, $8,135.65, of which $2,550 had come from income of invested funds and $5,067.15 from fees. All this had been expended in current expenses. A financial agent had begun work and had received encouragement for future results. There had been 30 students for the ministry in attendance. For their support $1,488.53 had been received in cash and $318 in supplies for maintenance. There are buildings belonging to this enterprise in connection with the college which have proven to be of great value.

The organized work of women and children reported an increase over previous years in contributions. The quantity of literature sent out aggregated 23,950 copies and the collections for various purposes were: For foreign missions, $921.59; home missions, $702.70; boxes to frontier missionaries, $256.59; State missions, $380.86; ministerial education, $440.08; Mississippi College, $75.35; sustentation, $106.08; various home church purposes, $5,786.29; Theological Seminary, $50.30; Jackson Church building, $222 14; general fund, $62,50; total, $9,144.69.

All the objects to which the benefactions of the churches are given were represented in prepared reports and attended by addresses, principally by those who are in charge of these interests. The discussions are entirely voluntary without any prepared program. The exercises consisted of routine business.

The next meeting is to be held at Hazlehurst, beginning Thursday, July 18, 1895, and Rev. W. G. Curry was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

The Annual Meeting for 1894 was held with the Bethel Church, Newton County, October 27-29. Fifty churches and 8 Associations were represented by 102 messengers. The Introductory Sermon was preached by Rev. J. T. Simmons, from 1 John 5 : 7, 8.

The Executive Board reported the services of 7 missionaries who had devoted to the work 389 days; traveled 6,162 miles; preached 428 sermons; baptized 96 persons, and organized 3 churches. The financial report shows $728.49 sent up to the meeting from the churches and Sunday-schools, and this added to what had been collected at the Board meetings held during the year, to which funds are also sent, made from all sources, $1,582 84. All of this was expended in missionary work, of which $332.36 had been designated for foreign missions. All the interests fostered by the Southern Baptist Convention are favorably considered by this body, which is not to be understood as antagonistic to the work conducted by the State Convention. The large size of the State has been the cause of the continuation of this Association, which holds its constituency in the southeast portion where there are many Baptists. The institutions of learning more directly under the control of the State Convention have the endorsement of these brethren. Complaint was made of the indifference of the churches to Sunday-school work, and this defect was recommended to be remedied.

The next meeting is to be held with the Antioch Church in Jasper County, beginning Saturday, October 26, 1895, and Rev. J. M. Moore was appointed to preach the Introductory Sermon.

The Sixtieth Annual Meeting was held at Louisiana, October 22-25, 1894. There were 33 Associations represented by 87 delegates, 97 churches by 207 delegates, and 91 life members, a total of 385 in attendance. The Introductory Sermon was preached by J. E. Fuller, D. D., on "The Mission of the Church."

There had been employed by the Board 56 men, and 45 churches were aided in missionary pastors, and 14 Associations in evangelistic work. They had devoted 12,550 days of labor, and preached 6,375 sermons. Partial reports of their work showed 1,581 conversions, 1,313 baptisms, and 578 added otherwise. Three churches had become self-supporting, and 5 new churches organized. The total amount received from contributions of the churches, and all sources is not reported. The reported indebtedness was immediately provided for, with great enthusiasm, so that the State Board was able to close the year without debt. The report was attended by a number of volunteer addresses in which the peculiar needs of the various fields in Missouri were presented to the attention of the body; among other addresses was one by J. P. Greene, D. D., with reference to the peculiar connection of State mission interests with Wm. Jewell College.

Home and foreign missions are conducted by the Board appointed for that purpose specifically, which fosters the interests of the general societies and the Southern Baptist Convention, without paid agencies on the part of these, within the bounds of the State. The chairman of the Board in presenting the report for the 5 years of this plan, noted that not a single church or Association now declined to send its contributions through this channel. There is a secretary for each department of missions; the secretary of foreign missions labored 360 days, delivered 180 sermons and addresses, traveled 12,395 miles, and collected $6,476.92; for home missions, 374 churches and 67 Associations had contributed, an increase of 58 churches and 10 Associations, and notwithstanding the hard times contributions were only $169.38 less than the previous year; in foreign missions there had been a decrease owing to the reaction from the centennial effort of the year preceding. For 5 years under this plan there had been collected $77,361.17, or an average of over $15,000 per year, for home and foreign missions. Addresses were made by R. J. Willingham, D. D., and I. T. Tichenor, D. D., on the aspects of the work at home and abroad. Following these addresses there were a number of volunteer speeches upon the same topic, contributing to what has been described as a great meeting where the Divine power seemed to fall upon the people.

The trustees of Wm. Jewell College reported the year opening with more students than ever in its history, an increase of 45 over the year preceding, and 85 young men preparing for the ministry. There was need of additional accommodations for students, besides increase in the building plant. At this meeting steps were taken for the erection of a gymnasium, and liberal contributions were made for that purpose. Stephen's College, for the higher education of women, is under the control of this body. The report refers to the demise of the former president, Rev. T. W. Barrett, and the inauguration of a new president, and the generally gratifying condition of the institution, whose buildings are now worth $100,000. Addresses were made by President S. F. Taylor, and President A. G. Yancey, of Hardin College. The report on education referred to these institutions already named, and 10 other institutions in the State deserving of recognition, and representatives of all these schools spoke concerning the encouraging outlook for educational work within the State. A Board of Education exists, the purpose of which is to thoroughly investigate all the wants and needs of denominational schools, and to provide for needed help where such is possible. The present effort is to endow at least a president's chair in each one of these Baptist colleges. Time was also given to the representative of the college for the colored race, located at Macon. In this connection an address was made by F. H. Kerfoot, D. D., in the interest of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and a collection was taken of about $575 for the support of Missouri students at this seminary.

In ministerial education the financial secretary reported the assets of the Board to be $7,719 87. The receipts had been for this purpose: Balance, $139.52; contributions from churches and individuals, $1,479.35; interest and rents, $570.50; funds returned by old students, $92.05; a total of $2,482.02. The Boarding Club had 125 members, by which board was brought down to a cost of 21 cents per day per man. The report was followed by volunteer contributions for the support of students.

The Orphans' Home is fostered by this body. The managers' report stated that during the nearly 9 years of its existence it had had a phenomenal life, that over $27,000 had been expended in its support, and over $30,000 in buying and improving property, that 821 children had been cared for, 97 of whom had been adopted into good homes; during the past year 136 children had been cared for; noticeable increase in offers of money, clothing, and produce, had been marked, and a legacy of $2,000 had been realized. The present indebtedness upon the institution is $1,500; over $300 of this amount was raised at this meeting

The Baptist Sanitarium at St. Louis reports to this body. There were 824 patients cared for during the year; the property is now worth $115,000, and there is a total indebtedness of $28,000, most of which is upon bond and mortgage. Dr. W. H. Mayfield, who is in charge of this institution, made an address outlining the history and struggles of the past. In 103 cases of surgery during the year, only 3 had been unsuccessful, and it was claimed that in this institution had been the highest percentage of cures known anywhere, as an illustration of the power of prayer, combined with expert medical treatment.

Time was allotted to the interest of the Baptist young people, Rev. W. F. Harris presiding. An address was made by J. C. Kirtley, D. D., on the history of the young people's movement, Rev. N. F. Pittman, on "The Relation of the Young People's Union to the Church," J P. Greene, D. D., Rev. W. J. Williamson, and Rev. D. T. Denman. Among the routine matters attended to were the consideration of Sunday-school interests, and an address by J. M. Frost, D. D., of Tennessee; also reports on religious literature and other denominational enterprises, and a representation from the convention of colored people seeking for practical unification of their work with that of the General Association. Six new pastors who had entered the State since the last meeting were introduced and welcomed.

The next meeting is to be held at St. Joseph, beginning October 21, 1895.

The Ninth Annual Meeting was held at Louisiana, October 25, 1894. This body occupied an hour for the consideration of its affairs. The purpose is to care for aged ministers and their families. The treasurer reported balance from last year, $74; total receipts for the year, $393.37; 6 persons had been aided to the amount of $242.93; the total secured for endowment was $2,200.73; and a collection, aggregating $304.65, was made at this meeting.

The meetings of this Society are held annually, in connection with the General Association.

The Ninth Annual Meeting was held at Louisiana, October 25, 1894. The exercises consisted of an address by S. H. Ford, D. D., who took for his theme "The Williams," giving an outline of the life of Lewis Williams, one of the first converts in Missouri; A. K. Williams, a strong, logical, and controversial preacher; J. T. Williams, for many years a clerk of the body; and W. H. Williams, for many years editor of the "Central Baptist"; all of whom had left their impress upon the State work, and of whom it was said, strangely, that they all died from home, and yet died among their brethren. The address was noted for its eloquence and pathos.

The meetings are held annually in connection with the gathering of the General Association.

The Third Annual Meeting was held at Marshall, June 19, 20, 1894. About 200 members and visitors were enrolled, and the gathering was unusually enthusiastic. Discussions were had upon practical questions pertaining to the work. District Conventions had been held at two prominent points to reach various sections of this large State. The work in the State was reported to be in good shape, there being some kind of an organization of young people in almost all of the prominent churches; the number of such organizations is 150, mostly all of the B. Y. P. U. Several District Conventions were arranged for to be held during the coming year. We are not informed as to the next meeting.

MONTANA.

The Twelfth Annual Meeting of the one Association in this State was to have been held at Missoula, in July, 1894, but it was prevented by the troubles incident to the extensive railway strike existing at that time In place of this annual meeting a Missionary Conference was held at Butte, September 28, 29, 1894. At this time there was a gathering which was met by H. L. Morehouse, D. D., and H. C. Woods, D. D., in the interest of the work of co-operation with the Home Mission Society. The plan of work decided upon was to attempt to raise $600 for the work needed, including the publication of a quarterly missionary paper; a general missionary was to be sustained by the Home Mission Society, who should recommend appointments to be made, and he should be chargeable with the work of promoting the benevolence of the churches; the monies are to pass through the channel of the State treasurer to the Home Mission Society. In the various churches are flourishing societies of young people and women. The organization of a State B. Y. P. U. was anticipated had an annual meeting been held. The session for 1895 is to be held at Missoula, beginning Thursday, July 11.

The Twenty-seventh Annual Meeting was held at Norfolk, October 31, Nov. 1, 1894 The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. Thos. Anderson, from Jonah 1 : 4-6.

The summary of work accomplished by the Board was: 36 missionaries, who spent 1,451 weeks in the service; supplied 50 churches and 59 out-stations; preached 4,972 sermons; attending 2,299 prayer meetings; reporting 13,972 visits, and 388 persons were baptized, and 244 received otherwise. The membership of the mission fields was 2,098; 400 Bibles and Testaments and 1,068 pages of tracts were distributed; 5 Sunday-schools had been organized; $8,238.05 had been paid on salaries, and $5,717 on church property in these fields, besides $365.85 raised for local missions; $2,733.92 for home missions; and $1,051.04 for other benevolence; 3 district missionaries had been at work engaged in supplying the widespread destitution which exists in the extremity of the State; a partial report of their work shows: 115 weeks of labor; 491 sermons and addresses; 53 places visited with a view to organization; 3 churches organized; 1 meeting-house dedicated; 40,664 pages of tracts distributed; and a large number of other evangelistic labors; the general missionary himself had preached 121 sermons and delivered 117 addresses; visited 178 churches and 9 Associations; besides conducting all of the clerical work incidental to this vast field. The report was accompanied by a review of the work by W. P. Hellings, D. D., chairman of the Executive Committee. The treasurer reported receipts for the Convention work, $3,049.69; for Church Edifice Fund, $286.31; Mission Society, $547.12; balance from preceding year $1,016.74; appropriated by the Home Mission Society, $6,000; making in all, $10,891.86; the disbursements were this amount less $699.66, cash balance on hand.

There had been 17 new ministers who had entered the work during the year; to a number of these words of welcome were spoken, and they were formally introduced. Rev. H. L. House read a paper on home missions, which was followed by an address by Rev. N. B. Rairden, who presented to the body a band of Kiowa and Cherokee Indians; Rev. Thos. Stephenson made an address on the church edifice work. Foreign missions was considered in a report by Rev. H. W Tate, and an address by Rev. W. E. Witter; in further consideration of the State work a number of short addresses were made by missionaries, detailing the work in their particular fields, and revealing the most remarkable instances of destitution; an address, on "Sunday-school and Denominational Truth," was delivered by W. P. Hellings, D. D. Resolutions bearing upon the widespread destitution and the needed remedies for the same were adopted, as were also resolutions on the ordinary topics. There were meetings of the women's societies for home and foreign missions in connection with these anniversaries; in home mission work the women's societies had contributed $547.12 for the State work; $547.75 for the general work, and $22.10 for the Training School; a total of $1,117.19. In Foreign missions a corresponding activity had been manifested, although we are without definite information as to contributions. An interesting paper by Miss E. Griswold, on "Why Christian Women should be Interested in Mission Work," was read, and there were other exercises outlining the work of home and foreign missions.

The next meeting is to be held at a place to be determined by the Board, the time being October 30, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by W. P. Hellings, D. D.

The Fifth Annual Meeting was held at Norfolk, October 29, 30, 1894. The first session was devoted to organization and the consideration of junior work, also an address by Rev. J. O. Staples, on "Young People as Soul Winners." The morning session consisted of routine business,—a paper on religious liberty, by Thos. Anderson, and an address by President Sutherland, on "The Relation of Baptist Young People to Grand Island College." The record of the secretary showed 69 societies, with an active membership of 1,259, and 298 associate members. The treasurer's report showed: Expense Fund receipts, $24.06; disbursed, $18.17; College Fund receipts, $181.33; Mission Fund, $18.79; Founding Fund, $52; and a General Fund, $18.

The next meeting is to be held in connection with the State Convention, in October, 1895.

NEVADA.

In this State there is but a single church; its statistics are included in those of California, since the church has its membership in an Association in that State. The condition of the church has been perilous, in view of building embarrassment, but at last reports the outlook seemed to be favorable for relief from this burden. There does not appear to be any other work attempted in the State, the population being widely scattered.

The Sixty-fifth Annual Meeting was held at Plainfield, October 30, November 1, 1894. The enrollment committee reported 75 churches represented by 128 delegates. The Annual Sermon was delivered by J. E. Sagebeer, D. D., from John 17 : 17.

The Annual Report showed missionary work carried on in connection with 34 churches and 19 out-stations, under an appropriation of $7,719.79. The work of the 38 missionary pastors, 2 evangelists, and the superintendent of missions embraced 1.475 weeks of service and 457 baptisms. Two evangelists had been employed during the winter, and their work had been sufficiently gratifying to warrant its continuance on an increased scale; great activity had been visible in the mission fields where new churches had been built; and in other cases needed repairs accomplished and burdensome debts removed. The receipts from the churches were $6,717.92, a decrease from previous year; personal gifts and other sources, $3,098 55, which was an increase. There was a deficit on the year's work of $2.159.13. In addition to the report the denominational interests of the State were presented by Rev. W. G. Russell, whose paper showed a gain of over 1,800 members, and notwithstanding the financial stringency, increased contributions for benevolence in the State of more than $30,000.

Other addresses were made by Rev. W. W. Pratt, Rev. M. T. Lamb, Rev. C. H. Todd, on "The Orientation of Denominational Life"; and Rev. J. D. Dickinson, on "Baptist Loyalty, or Right Denominational Devotion." There were also three rallies, the general topic being "Our Interest and Place in State Mission Work," in which the pastors and deacons were led by Rev. H. F. Stillwell; the young people, by H. J. Ronalds; and the women, by Mrs. D. DeWolf.

The treasurer's report showed the total receipts of the year to be $9,816 47; of which the contributions of the churches were $8,-717.92; and the disbursements, including the last year's debt of $1,384.78, were $11,975.60.

The work of the Publication Society was presented in an address by J. A. Chambliss, D. D.; home missions, Rev. H. M. Lowry and Halsey Moore, D. D.; and foreign missions, by Rev. F. C. A. Jones.

The Fifty-fourth Anniversary was held at Plainfield, October 30, 31, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. C. C. Tilley, from Prov. 23 : 23.

The report of the secretary showed 44 young men and 2 young women upon the roll helped by the Society; 12 being in New Jersey institutions, 11 in universities, 19 in theological institutions, and 1 in a training school. The new rules of the Board reduce the sum given to students, and limit the number to be aided to 40. The treasurer's report showed receipts: Cash balance, $374.36; from churches, $3,041.77; interest, $152.52; rent, $60.00; money refunded, $25.00; borrowed, $2 450.00; a total of $6,103.63. The disbursements were: To students, $3.879.61; note paid, $750.00; discounts, $41.22; other items, $299,-93; cash to balance, $1,232.87. There remains a debt of $1,467.13; this elicited a discussion and an effort, which was partially successful, was made to relieve this indebtedness.

The addresses before the Society at this anniversary were made by Rev. W. G. Partridge, on "The Relation Between Higher Education and Evangelization"; Rev. A. W. H. Hodder, on "Christ's Demand for Young Men"; and Rev. Leighton Williams, on "The Province of our Churches in the Work of Education." Appropriate notice was taken of the death of W. H. Parmley, D. D., who had been for many years the honored president of this body.

The next meeting is to be held in connection with that of the State Convention, in October, 1895, and Rev. F. A. Smith was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

The whole Territory is missionary ground; one Association met during the past year, the statistics of which are in the appropriate tables, and the other, or oldest Association, seems to have dissolved. Our correspondent writes that they have no Association. Probably the long distances between the churches has operated toward the temporary suspension of what has been known, as the New Mexico Association, which has a creditable history. The Home Mission Society fosters certain interests which have hope and promise.

The Annual Meeting was held in the Second Church, Rochester, October 24, 25. 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. Cornelius Woelfkin, on "Elijah, and the Secret of His Power."

The year's work as reported by the Board comprised the labors of 112 missionaries, who had served 442 churches and stations, rendered 4,121 weeks of service, preached 10,062 sermons, attended 6,799 prayer meetings, made 18,897 religious visits, and baptized 1,454 converts. A review of the present condition of the field showed 150 pastorless churches, 370 of less than 100 membership, 201 less than 50 membership, 205 needing help in sustaining pastors, and 197 needing help in general evangelistic service. The work of the year showed unprecedented success, although in the face of a general depression of financial interest. Among the laborers were 9 general district missionaries, whose work had been in 242 churches, resulting in the baptism of 607 persons. The receipts of the treasurer came: from churches and societies, $16,898 45; from Associations, $75.39; from college funds, $2,345; from pastors' conference, $93.06; legacy, $1,049.85; sale of property, $480; interest of invested funds, $1,446.50; miscellaneous items, $97 58; a total of $20,164.28; to this was to be added, balance on hand and from other sources, $4,342.21; making available the sum of $24,510 49; the aggregate disbursements were $24,410.83. The report was moved and seconded in two addresses, by Rev. R. A. Vose, and John Humpstone, D. D., who spoke on "State Missions as related to Evangelists," and the "Coming of the Kingdom of God."

A session was devoted to the consideration of the work of the Convention from the standpoint of men of business. An address was made by Mornay Williams, on "Some Glimpses of Early Missionary Work and Workers in New York"; Churchill H. Cutting spoke, on "Missionary Work and the Press"; P. J. Ferris, on "Missionary Work and Laymen"; G. L. Stedman made an address, on "State Missions and Associations"; and Henry C. Vedder, on "State Missions and Young People." The opinion was expressed of the great value of this feature of the anniversary.

Educational interests were given an evening, and were discussed before a great audience. The report on education was presented by D. C. Eddy, D. D., and referred to the great progress being made in Baptist denominational institutions, although there were no statistical changes made since the preceding year. The addresses on this occasion were made by President J. G. Schurman, of Cornell University, on "Our Educational Opportunity and Responsibility among the Family of Nations"; J. M. Taylor, LL. D., of Vassar College, on "The Education Needed for the Best Interests of Our Country"; and D. J. Hill, D. D., of Rochester University.

In addition to the routine business of the body, a memorial of Dr. Edward Bright was read by A. C. Osborn, D.D., and some important amendments to the constitution were proposed, but were sent over to the following year for final action. There were also large gatherings of women in the interest of their mission work, among the interesting features being addresses by Miss Emma J. Cummings, of India, and Miss I. N. Crouse, president of one of the women's general societies.

The next meeting will be held in the Marcy Avenue Church, Brooklyn, beginning October 23, 1895, the arrangements to be perfected by the Executive Committee.

The Third Annual Meeting was held in the Second Church, Rochester, October 25, 1894. In connection with the meeting the general subject of Sunday-schools was taken up. A special committee on Sunday-schools reported through Rev. Robert T. Jones. The report stated that there were 906 churches in the State, in which there were 857 Sunday-schools with 118,500 scholars, which is a decrease from former years. The report of the committee on work among young people, made by the president, explained the value of the Christian Culture Courses. An address was made by H. M. King, D. D., on "Religious Liberty, the Trophy of the Baptist." A fuller explanation of the plans of the Christian Culture Courses was made by Rev. Henry C. Vedder. The general secretary of the B. Y. P. U., F. L. Wilkins, D. D., was present and made an address. A number of lads composing the Baptist Boys' Brigade were introduced, and made an exhibition of their drill; Rev. Philip B. Strong made an address, on "Impressions Made by the recent Toronto Convention"; Miss Ella McLaurin spoke in the interest of the missionary work among the young people, her subject being, "Go, Let Go, Help Go." An address on "Consecration," by Rev. O. P. Gifford, and a consecration meeting, held by Dr. Wilkins, closed the exercises.

The annual meetings are held in connection with those of the State Convention.

The Forty-third Annual Meeting was held in the Second Church, Rochester, May 10, 1894. The exercises consisted of the consideration of the annual reports, the selection of officers, and addresses by Wm. A. Stanton, D. D., of Pittsburg, Pa.; Rev. Chas. H. Pendleton, of Worcester, Mass.; Rev. D. Johnston Myers, of Cincinnati, Ohio; and Rev. Thos. J. Villiers, of Syracuse, N. Y.

From the report of the trustees it appeared that during a year of great financial uncertainty and decline in values, the endowment funds of the Society and investments of Rochester Theological Seminary had suffered little if any depreciation. The regular course in the institution had been supplemented by lectures, and lectures had also been added under the direction of the Missionary and Rhetorical Societies. The students for the ministry had numbered 169, coming from 27 different States and 7 foreign lands. They were distributed: in academies, 10; in the university, 35; in the English department of the seminary, 66; in the German department, 58. The whole number of beneficiaries had been 141, who were in the English department, 52; in the university, 34; and in academies, 10. The Germans had cared for 45 in their own department. The aid rendered aggregated $15,417; of this $9,567 had been paid to English students, and $5,850 to German students from their churches. A small deficit was noted at the close of the year, although legacies to the amount of $1,539.50 had been received. The churches had contributed for ministerial education the sum of $6,024.97, and individuals had swelled this amount to $8,359.88. The need of increased endowment was emphasized in the report. Three sums of $100,000 each were demanded by the claims of the students presenting themselves, for the proper care of the German work, and for the rehabilitation of Trevor Hall.

The treasurer reported: Permanent funds, $608,946.31, of which $1,000 had been added since last report in two gifts; but a loss had been sustained also of $3,940.73, so that the net result is $605,005.58. This fund is divided as follows: Professorships, $330,378.87; scholarships, $54,367.33; general endowment, $147,726.89; reading room, $2,000; alumni scholarships, $552.49; Trevor endowment, $10,000; Trevor lectureship, $10,000; Bruce and General Library Fund, $50,000. The receipts for the year had been: Cash balances, $5,149 41; President's Loan Fund account, $1,385.05; library and reading room account, $904.08; Trevor lectureship income, $294.00; current expense account, $813 79; for aid of students and current expenses, $15,042.67; scholarship endowments, $1,000; President's Loan Fund, $1,219; income from investments, $30,188.92; incidental account, $1,239.50; securities, by payment of mortgages, $49,036.15; loan accounts, $1,500; total, $106,772.57. There had been disbursed in aid to students, $9,567; for salaries of instructors, $25,100; on account of library, $2,858.05; current expense, $10,630.80; loaned to students, $1,362.00; Trevor lecture account, $614.91; re-invested in permanent funds, $44,053.11; cash balances, $12,586.70.

The statement of securities, real estate, etc, was: Securities and cash, $605,005.58; real estate, $102,827.05; Library, Museum, and Loan Funds, $70,344.87; cash, $1,212.20; a total of $779,389.70. Against this there are two items of indebtedness amounting to $6,500.00.

The printed report contains the usual reports of the president and faculty of the seminary at Rochester. The annual meetings are held at Rochester in the month of May, and the arrangements for them are made and announced by the Executive Committee.

The Sixty-fourth Annual Meeting was held at Charlotte, December 6–10, 1894. Thirty-six Associations were represented by 122 messengers. The Annual Sermon was delivered by Rev. T. J. Taylor, from 2 Cor. 10 : 4.

The Board had under its employ 95 missionaries, who had preached 5,272 sermons, including addresses; supplied 56 mission churches and 320 out-stations; baptized 1,542 persons, and added otherwise 1,027; constituted 48 new churches and 224 Sunday-schools; finished 28 houses of worship, and had the oversight of 72 others which are in process of erection. The cost of these buildings is $31,225, and there were $12,400 paid on debts of other houses. One feature of the year's work was the calling of pastors into destitute fields to do volunteer missionary work; about 200 pastors responded, but there was a lack of definite reports of their labors. Under the control of the Board is a supply store for material for Sunday-school and other religious literature. The statement for the year was: Assets, $2,976.91; and liabilities, $2,734.94. In addition to colportage work done by the missionaries of the Board, there had been special workers in this department in five of the Associations of the State. Only a partial report of their labors was furnished.

The treasurer's report contains the following accounts, showing: Receipts for State missions, $14,331.63; foreign missions, $7,815 92; home missions, $2,965.00; education, including receipts of the special agent for this work, $3,445.17; orphanage, $9,937.40, including what had been received at the home itself; Sunday-schools, including receipts at the supply store and a donation of $250 from the Sunday-school Board of the Southern Convention, $6,115.62; colportage, $43.04; ministerial relief, $989.70; church extension, including what was reported from fields which erected their own houses and pastors' homes, $80,269.56; Students' Aid Fund of the Seminary at Louisville, $563.85; for a Baptist female university, $5.00; Oxford Orphan Asylum, $4.29; making a total of beneficent funds reported in this way, $126,487.18.

In woman's work, the central committee reported 1,438 letters written and a large quantity of missionary literature circulated. From the societies had been received: For foreign missions, $1,393.59; home missions, $467.47; State missions, $494.60; ministerial education, $65.79; orphanage, $133.75; other items, $19.77; making a total of $2,574.97. It is probable that these items are included in the summary of the preceding paragraph.

The Board of Education had aided 33 young ministers. Four had graduated. There are now upon the rolls 36 who require assistance. For this purpose the contributions had been $3,168.99; balance from preceding year, $21.94; and borrowed money, $250.00; a total of $3,440.93. The indebtedness of the Board had been reduced from $891 to $500. Part of this was provided for, after the reading of the report, in subscriptions. The report on Wake Forest College presented an enrollment of 207 then at the institution, with some valuable additions to the corps of instructors. A revival influence had marked the course of the year preceding the meeting of the Convention, under the wise administration of the college pastor. An attempt is being made to increase the endowment by constituting a chair in memory of the late Prof. Royal. At the meeting subscriptions to this chair were made amounting to $5,020. The enterprise known as the Baptist Female University is making a slow progress; since its beginning the trustees have collected $18,380, and expended it in the partial erection of needed buildings; it will require $32,000 to complete this work upon which they are now engaged; there are in hand $5,615 in subscriptions which are considered valid. The Convention added $3,085 to this fund in subscribed pledges.

At the orphanage there are now 126 children; during the year 20 had been hopefully converted. The report on young people's work elicited the fact that there were about 40 such organizations under the control of the churches. The project of a separate organization was discussed, but the final determination was to instruct a committee to prepare a program for the consideration of this department for the next meeting of the Convention. A resolution prevailed looking to the unification of all the denominational papers in the State.

The Ministerial Relief Board reported receipt of a special donation of $500 from an anonymous source; many of the Associations had contributed valuable aid in this department: two of the beneficiaries had been called home, and ten are now receiving the funds of this Board. There had been expended for them $1,187.50, less a balance of $314 88 to the new account

The next meeting is to be held at Greensboro, commencing Thursday evening, December 5, 1895, and Rev. A. M. Simms was appointed as preacher of the Annual Sermon.

The Thirty-eighth Session was held with the Pleasant Hill Church, October 24-28, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. J. L. White, from 1 Corinthians 9 : 22.

The missionaries of this Convention had delivered 898 sermons and addresses, made 581 religious visits, held 207 prayer meetings, reported 222 conversions and 99 baptisms, distributed 764 copies of Scripture, and collected for self-support $922.39, and for other objects, $841.74. The sum expended on the work had been $2,828.54; of this, the churches had given $1,761.64, and the remainder, of $1,066.90 being donations from the Boards of the Southern Convention. The work of the women's societies showed $339.63 contributed.

The general interests of the denomination were given careful consideration; and addresses were made, in the interest of foreign missions by Rev. R. H. Graves, D. D., of China; for Sunday-school work, by T. P. Bell, D. D.; and the other causes were represented in volunteer speeches by the brethren. In education, the institution known as Judson College has been greatly imperilled; but steps are being taken by which it is hoped that it will again be under the control of the denomination. Wake Forest College is sustained as well by this body as by the State Convention.

The next place of meeting is to be determined by the Executive Board, the time being October 24, 1895, and Rev. J. W. Lawing was appointed to preach the Annual Discourse.

The Twenty-seventh Annual Meeting was held at Wilson, October 24-28, 1894. The report of the corresponding secretary indicated the work of the general missionary who had given the whole year to his work, preaching 70 sermons, and delivering 260 lectures and addresses; he had organized 3 mission churches and distributed 4,000 copies of tracts. The sums reported as raised were: For home missions, $810.00; foreign missions, $230.35; for the Grant Orphan Asylum, $700.00; for the American Baptist Home Mission Society, $29.50; and there was collected at the meeting of the Convention, $350.00, with pledges amounting to $1,200 more. The next meeting is to be held at Oxford, beginning October 23, 1895.

The Eleventh Annual Meeting was held at Fargo, June 29, July 1, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. J. W. Longfellow, from 1 Tim. 3: 15, on "The Church and her Mission."

The report speaks of the year as one of the worst in the history of the State, and yet, while there had been no extended revival, there had been no signs of loss in the work of the churches. The general missionary reported a membership in the missionary churches of 1,374, as against a membership of 929 the previous year. The number of missionaries at work had been 33, who had supplied 37 churches and baptized 87 persons, and received 61 otherwise; all but 5 churches in the State are dependent upon missionary aid. One-third of the population of the State are Scandinavians; there are 5 Norwegian churches, with an aggregate of 130 members. The work among the Scandinavians was treated in an address by Rev. L. J. Anderson, a Norwegian pastor. Rev. E. R. Pope delivered an address, on "Baptist Unity." The work in this State is conducted through a close co-operation with the Home Mission Society, which has worked satisfactorily now for sixteen years; the work of this society was represented in an incisive address by W. M. Haigh, D. D.; other addresses were made by Rev. Peter Mitchell, on "Shall Baptist Principles be Modified"; and Rev. G. C. McClure, on "The Bible as a Character Former."

The Publication Society sustains a Sunday-school missionary in this State; he reported at the anniversary the formation of 19 new schools; there are now 48 Sunday-schools in the State; he had traveled over 11,000 miles, and held 7 institutes. In considering foreign missions, Rev. Frank Peterson spoke on the obligations of the Baptists to that work, and Rev. O. N. Kindh, a Swedish pastor, spoke on the topic, "Open Doors," with special reference to the work in Sweden. In North Dakota there are 193 Swedish Baptists, and much interest is expressed in hearing the gospel in their own tongue.

The meetings about to engage the attention of the body were introduced by several addresses bearing upon their general work; Rev. E. R. Pope, of Minnesota, spoke on "The Model Mission Church"; Rev. E. C. Myers, on "The Model Missionary Pastor"; and Rev. F. R. Enslin, on "The Demands of the Hour." There were interesting sessions of the women in both departments of missions, and papers on practical subjects were read of missionary life by laborers who had returned from their work to rest in this country. All the contributions pass through the treasurers of the general societies.

The next session is to be held at a place to be selected by the Executive Board and duly announced through the denominational press.

The Fourth Annual Meeting was held at Fargo, June 30, 1894. The exercises consisted of but two addresses, one by Rev. F. A. Starratt, on "Present Methods Compared with Old Methods," and Rev. E. M. Lake, on "How to Interest Young Men in Missions."

The Sixty-ninth Annual Meeting was held at Wooster, October 24, 25, 1894. There were present 204 delegates, 46 life members, and 10 visitors. The Annual Sermon was delivered by Rev. H. A. Sumrell, from Luke 5: 4, and John 21: 6.

The number of missionaries employed during the year had been 34; they baptized 306 persons, and received 256 otherwise. Houses had been secured for 3 churches, and 4 others are building; 5 churches had been assisted in needed improvements; district missionary work had been sustained—one man for all his time and 3 others as occasion demanded; the former preached 309 sermons; delivered 86 addresses; made 693 pastoral visits; and the corresponding secretary had preached 103 sermons; made 116 visits to 88 churches; dedicated 4 houses; organized one church; besides performing the necessary large amount of clerical labor. The year began with a debt of $12,000, and with $5.34 in the treasury; the receipts had been $7,475.40, and there had been also transferred from the Reserve Fund, $500; from the Permanent Fund, $750; from the Toledo Association, $70; making total receipts, $8,795.40. The expenditures were $8,739.57, which reduced the indebtedness to the amount of only $40. The receipts for the Church Edifice Fund, including money collected by pastors and others for designated churches, were $3,456 08, and the amount paid out was $3,123.55, leaving to the credit of this fund $372.68. The demands for the year to come require the provision of $10,000, and an earnest call was made for that amount. In the consideration of the report of the Board, addresses were made by Rev. J. N. Fields, Rev. W. H. Gallant, Rev. C. H. Prescott, Rev. P. M. Wedell, H. F. Colby, D. D., and the corresponding secretary.

The time of the Convention was principally occupied in the discussion of missionary work, especially that of district missionaries and State missions, upon which a number of pointed addresses were made; a further discussion of the question of the feasibility of union with the Freewill Baptists of Ohio elicited no permanent result, although the matter still lies within the possibilities of the early future. Representatives of the various general societies were present and made addresses, and a request from Colored Baptists relative to the employment of an evangelical missionary to labor among them, was referred to the Board for final action.

The place of the next meeting was referred to the Board for decision, the time being in October, 1895, and the Annus' Sermon is to be preached by Rev. W. E. Loucks.

The Sixty-third Anniversary was held at Wooster, October 23, 1894. On taking the chair the president delivered an address, on "The Principles which Underlie the Education of Young Men for the Ministry."

During the year 56 students had been aided: One at the Louisville Seminary, 28 in Granville Academy, one in Hall Institute, and the others in Denison University; 2 had entered the pastoral work and 3 are pursuing advanced studies; others had ceased to be beneficiaries for various causes. The new year opened with 41 on the roll, but applications were on hand from others to whom help would be extended. There was a deficit of $174 69, making the total indebtedness of the Society $3,901.69. The report of the secretary relates to the two great needs—more trained men and more money, and presents an intelligent analysis of the work of the denomination in the State for education.

Following the report were two addresses on "The Educational Demand upon the Ministry of To-day"—by Rev. W. E. Loucks, on "What it Should be," and J. R. H. Latchaw, D. D., on "How Attained"; H. C. Applegarth, D. D., spoke on "What the Minister Stands For." An earnest discussion on the financial situation of the Society occurred. Prof. J. L. Gilpatrick, Ph.D., read a paper on "Our Schools and Our Churches"; Sylvester Burnham, D. D., of the Hamilton Seminary, made the closing address, on "Teaching, the Calling of the Ministry."

number of practical topics bearing upon young people's work, as well as Sunday-schools, occupied the time. Rev. C. L. Collins delivered an address, on "The Baptist Young People of Ohio and the Ohio Baptist Convention"; F. L. Wilkins, D. D., General Secretary of the B. Y. P. U., made the principal address, upon the workings of that organization. The subjects discussed embraced kindergarten methods in the primary departments of Sunday-schools, and there was a series of eight minute papers, on "Duties in Relation to the Sunday-school," outlining those of pastor, superintendent, teacher, church-member, parent, and pupil.

The next meeting is to be held in conjunction with the anniversaries of the other organizations.

OKLAHOMA TERRITORY.

The work in this Territory is combined with that in the Indian Territory, and reference should be made to the report of the Missionary and Educational Convention under the latter head, as it covers both Territories. There is an increase of ministers, churches, and membership, which appears only partially in the following tables, owing to the extreme difficulty in securing reliable statistics from a population necessarily so fluctuating. The Home Mission Society and the Southern Baptist Convention are both active in missionary effort in this Territory, where the destitution is naturally very large and the provision for maintaining gospel ordinances exceedingly primitive. We have heard of 7 Associations within the bounds of Oklahoma, 4 having been organized during the past year, but all of them weak and being composed of a small number of churches. The probabilities are that minutes have not been printed. Such statistics as we are able to obtain are to be found in the appropriate place.

The Ninth Anniversary was held in the Second Church, Portland, October 25, 26, 1894. A very large delegation was reported, and an unusual number of visitors. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. N. L. Rugg.

During the year there had been employed 26 missionaries, who had supplied as many churches, and as many more out-stations, and in these the general condition of the work was reported to be unusually prosperous; the number of baptisms was not reported. In this State the close co-operation of the Home Mission Society is maintained, and the statistics of work are incorporated in the general summaries of that society. There had been expended $6,000 in missionary work of the churches, in addition to the amount contributed by these churches themselves for their own support. The selection of the new secretary was regarded as an encouraging promise for future energetic work. Rev. N. L. Rugg presented the report on home missions, and it was discussed by Rev. J. C. Douglas and Rev. J. C. Teale, representing the eastern and western portions of the State, these were followed by an address by H. L. Morehouse, D. D., field secretary of the Home Mission Society. The Publication Society also maintains work in this State, the statistics of which are incorporated in their work. The time of the Convention was given almost exclusively to the consideration of the question of missions within its bounds, the religious destitution being excessive and requiring the combined efforts of the churches to meet the natural demands made upon them. Christian education received attention in addresses by Rev. G. A. Annes, H. L. Morehouse, D. D., and Rev. T. G. Brownson, who spoke on "The Struggles and Triumphs of Fifty Years of Baptist History in Oregon." Many of the missionaries employed by the Convention made statements concerning the condition and outlook of their fields; an address on foreign missions was made by J. Sunderland, D. D. Eight new pastors were formally introduced to the body.

Up to going to press we are not informed of the next annual meeting. It is held in October of each year.

The treasurer's report showed, $117.03 collected and $100 disbursed. No report of the statistics of young people's societies seems to have been made to the meeting. A number of papers and addresses on practical questions in their work occupied the attention of the body, on the general topics of the object of the organization, its importance, and practical difficulties in the way. The principal addresses were by Rev. G. W. Black, and Rev. Roland D. Grant, on "The Need of Education in Baptist Doctrine, History, and Distinctive Principles."

The Sixty-seventh Anniversary was held at Altoona, October 23, 24, 1894. The enrolled committee reported the presence of 146 members. The Annual Sermon was preached by G. E. Rees, D. D., from Revelation 1 : 10, 11.

From the report of the secretary it appeared that there had been 65 missionaries employed during the year, who had supplied 65 churches and 32 out-stations. They reported 4,605 sermons, 5,030 other religious meetings, 14,042 pastoral visits, and 612 persons baptized. The total receipts of the treasurer amounted to $17,190.62, and the disbursements were $17,431.70. The invested funds amount to $5,900, and there is real estate, property in Kansas, amounting to $5,000; there is also due from the general account to the Investment Fund, $1,511.80. The presentation of the report was attended with an address by Rev. J. T. Judd, on "The Relation of the Associational Missionary Committees to Our Work"; by J. G. Walker, D. D., on "The Mission of the Weaker Churches to the Denomination, and the Mission of the Denomination to the Weaker Churches"; by P. L. Jones, D. D., on "A Problem in Arithmetic: How to Make One Dollar do the Work of Two"; by Mrs. M. E. R. Cobb, on "Women's Work in State Missions"; by Rev. H. F. King, on "Our Debt to the Foreign Population of the State"; and Charles A. Edsall, on "The Relation of Our Young People to State Missions." T. J. Morgan, D. D., secretary of the Home Mission Society, was presented and delivered an address upon his work. At an evening session Rev. L. C. Barnes spoke on "Our Debt Toward the Destitute of Pennsylvania." There was also considered the claim of a large population of colored people in the State.

During the year the churches of Delaware, which had formerly been in connection with Associations in this State, had drawn out for the purpose of forming a State limited association of their own. A deputation, however, was present expressing the desire of co-operating with this Society in general State mission work, and the request was acceded to, so that the constituency of this Society now covers both States, as it practically did before, but under new local organizations. What seems to be a new organization of women appeared at this meeting, under the title of Macedonian Helpers. A general solicitor in charge of the whole work, and a local solicitor in each church to solicit funds for State missions, is the only organization, and these serve without salaries, and the collections are voluntary offerings of the women. Considerable discussion was had with reference to the establishing of a distinctively denominational State paper, the conclusion of which was that the way was not clear for the realization of such a purpose.

Societies of women engaged in foreign and home missions held their meetings in connection with this anniversary. Mrs. Harriet M. Jones made an illustrated address, on "Steps in Service"; Miss Righter, a Chinese missionary, spoke of the medical work upon the foreign field. Mrs. L. C. Barnes spoke concerning the contributions of the women to the foreign work. Mrs. W. H. Alexander and Mrs. M. E. R. Cobb spoke in connection with the home mission work, the latter, on "The Remedy for the Lack of Personal Responsibility for Christian Work in Foreign Lands."

The sessions of the next meeting will begin October 22, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by Rev. R. W. Perkins, Ph. D.

The Fifty-fifth Anniversary was held at Altoona, October 24, 25, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. John Love, Jr., from 2 Tim. 3 : 16, 17.

The annual report refers to the departure of a number of valuable workers, and also to the proposed resignation of the venerable corresponding secretary, who, after a service of 44 years, has become unable to meet the exacting demands of the work. During the year there had been 21 students admitted to the benefits of the Society, and the relations of 21 others had closed, 13 of whom had completed the college course, 2 the theological course, and 3 in the German department of Rochester University. Of these 18 graduates, 6 entered on theological studies, 3 devoted themselves to the foreign work, 6 assumed pastorates, and 2 prosecute further studies. The register of students at the end of the school year contained 89 names; 6 were in Crozer Seminary, 17 in Bucknell University, 49 in the German Department, Rochester, in women's colleges 3, and in academies, 11. The treasurer's report shows receipts for the year, $12,562.97, of which $3,123.26 were from miscellaneous sources, including $1,100 in scholarships, $1,340 in interest on stocks and bonds, and the Permanent Fund, amounting to $30,000. Among the receipts, the returning of moneys granted in previous years to poor young men is noticeable; the refunding account, including such items, amounts now to $7,166, all of which has come as a grateful recognition of help in a time of need, from a body of men who are not supposed to be possessed of much property. The number of contributing churches during the year was 382.

In place of accepting the resignation of the corresponding secretary, it was decided to continue him in that position, and to elect a general agent, who should devote himself to the more active work of the Society. Leroy Stephens, D. D., was elected such general agent. Addresses during the meetings were made by Leroy Stephens, D. D., on "Our Academies"; Rev. Frank S. Dobbins, on "God's Providence in the Chinese-Japanese War"; and the claims of the Baptist Orphanage, and the interests of women's home and foreign work were represented in brief addresses. The obituary committee appropriately noted the character and service of 10 brethren who had been intimately associated with the work of education, not only within the State, but in the country at large.

The place of the next meeting was referred to the Board of Managers, and Rev. W. T. C. Hanna was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon. It is presumed that the time of meeting will be the same as for the present anniversary, October 22 and 23, 1895.

The Annual Meeting for 1894 was held at Altoona, October 23. No program had been prepared, as it had been expected that this body would dissolve. The time was occupied in discussing the question of continuance, and it was decided by a large majority so to do. The officers were made a committee of arrangements, and the outlook is that the society will continue, with a greater degree of vigor.

The Fourth Annual Meeting was held at Altoona, October 25, 1894. The Annual Address of the president was on the topic of "Christ-likeness." The corresponding secretary reported unions organized in nearly every Association of the State. For the Founding Fund there had been collected $445.73, and there are yet collectible pledges amounting to $373.50, toward the pledge of the State for this purpose. Rev. A. F. Williamson spoke, on "State Mission Work for Young People"; Rev. B. F. G. McGee, on "Culture for Service"; and there were 3 addresses on the Christian Culture Courses, by Rev. R. N. Hunsicker, Rev. F. S. Dobbins, and Rev. F. M. Goodchild. The work of the Junior Society was illustrated by A. M. Brinckle, and the concluding service was an address by Rev. D. D. Parsons, on "The Relation of Our Young People to the Music of the Church." These meetings are held in connection with the other anniversaries.

The Seventieth Anniversary was held in the Cranston Street Church, Providence, October 2, 1894. There were enrolled 205 members representing 46 churches, and three visitors. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. C. W. Burnham from Matt. 20 : 26–28.

During the year 13 churches received aid. Some of them had received notable spiritual blessings. One church was aided in the refitting of its house. In the effort for specific labor in which all the churches are requested to concentrate, no particular church seemed to be in pressing need; so this concentration was made in the interest of an Emergency Fund, to prevent need of borrowing money and to avoid a deficit at the close of the year; 43 churches responded to this call with an aggregate contribution of $2,364.51. There had been continued in service a general colporter, a general missionary, and three laborers among foreign populations. The work of these men is characterized as busy and devoted. A Gospel Wagon is under control of the former, and from it 394 addresses had been made, and 17 baptisms were reported in connection with the work. The missionary had visited 36 churches and held 312 meetings, baptizing 13 persons, and organizing a new church. Among the French there had been 15 baptisms, and among the Swedes, 27. A church of the latter had gained 33 and reported a membership of 150. New needs springing up call for attention among the 32,000 French people and the 5,000 Jews, among whom it is desired to carry on evangelistic work.

The treasurer reported receipts from 49 churches, $2,031.84; dividends and interest of funds, $1,168.65; miscellaneous items, $565.50; a total of $3,765.99 There had been paid to 13 churches in aid of their work, $2.047.50; to the State missionary, $1,149.96; miscellaneous items, $102.70; expense account, $32.20. In the Colportage Fund there had been contributed by the churches, $580.82; received from other sources, $1,281.47; miscellaneous income, including a transference from Emergency Fund, $735.32: from special funds, devoted to purposes designated, $1,845.15; which with a balance of $156.00 made the receipts on this account to be, $4,442.96; among the disbursements were, $1,117.96 to the State colporter, and $937.87 to colporters among the French; the Gospel Wagon account was, $512.94. The treasurer had also paid $164.09 to specified benefactions, provided for by the trust funds. The funds comprise general purposes, an investment of $28,679.45; Colportage Fund, $17,780.39; and other funds, the income to be used for specified purposes, making an aggregate of invested funds, $54.734.41.

The historical registrar had added sketches of five persons to the library of the Convention, besides gathering additional historical matter of value. The committee on obituaries presented notices of 11 who had passed away during the year. The resolutions adopted, included a recommendation for increased work among the large foreign elements in the State, as well as supplying marked destitution along the shore lines.

The next anniversary is to be held at South Providence at the constitutional time, which will be October 1, 1895, and Rev. J. V. Osterhout was selected as the preacher of the Annual Sermon.

The One Hundred and Second Anniversary was held with the Cranston Street Church, Providence, October 1, 1894. The addresses were by H. M. King, D. D., on "The Minister as a Preacher"; D. W. Faunce, D. D., on "The Minister as a Pastor"; T. D. Anderson, D. D., on "The Minister in his Study"; and E. B. Andrews, D. D., on "The Minister as a Man of Affairs."

The contributions of 22 churches had amounted to $1,217. At the date of the meeting there were 16 students, 2 of whom were young women preparing for missionary service, with appeals for aid still to be acted upon by others. During the year there had been aid given to 18 beneficiaries, a debt preventing that enlargement of the work that is considered advisable. The receipts of the treasurer, including balances and notes discounted, were $4,382.71.

The Fifty-fourth Anniversary was held in the Cranston Street Church, Providence, June 6, 1894. There were 77 schools reporting; these had 1,649 officers and teachers, and 13,038 scholars; there were 4,624 church-members connected with the schools, 5,837 over 15 years of age, 745 baptisms during the year, and 88 deaths. The largest school reported 949 members, and 9 reported an average attendance exceeding 200.

The Annual Essay was by Rev. Whitman L. Wood, on "The Sunday-school Defined" Other addresses were by Rev. J. K. Ewer, on "Skilled Workmen"; Rev. W. H. P. Faunce, of New York, on "The Moral Training of the Young"; and there were brief addresses, by a number of workers, on "Personal Work for Christ in the Sunday-school"; an illustration of primary work, by Miss H. L. Hayward; an illustration of the methods of Gospel Wagon work; words of encouragement by several pastors; and an exhibition drill of the Baptist Boys' Brigade. Resolutions concerning and gambling in the form of policy lotteries, the observance of the Sabbath were adopted.

The next meeting is to be held with the Broadway Church, Providence, on the first Wednesday in June, 1895, and the Annual Essay is to be prepared by Rev. W. H. Palmer.

The Seventy-fourth Annual Meeting was held at Chester, November 28, December 2, 1894. The attendance was not as large as is commonly the case, there being but about 125 enrolled. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. W. T. Derieux, from John 15 : 1, 4.

There had been under appointment, for a whole or part of the year, 84 workers, of whom 67 were missionary pastors, 5 missionaries and colporters, 8 colporters, 2 evangelists, and 2 women missionaries. These had occupied 146 stations; traveled 62,691 miles; rendered 7,198 days of service; delivered 5,271 sermons and addresses; held 1,444 prayer meetings; made 13,337 religious visits; reported 625 conversions, 592 baptisms, and 1,113 total accessions to the church. The membership at mission stations was 5,769. There had been 6 churches and 54 Sunday-schools organized; 15 houses of worship built, at a cost of $8,352.49; and they had distributed 60,000 pages of tracts. The Bible and colportage work had been reduced in quantity because of scarcity of money. There had been 5,476 copies of religious literature sold, valued at $1,386.67, and 380 copies of Scripture had been donated. The children of the Sunday-schools had contributed to the purpose of church building, $199.56; these are encouraged to contribute until sufficient means has been obtained for the erection of such a building. The women missionaries had been supported by the Women's Central Committee, which had contributed also to the general work. A number of women's societies had also contributed boxes of supplies to missionaries on needy fields. The work has been attended with great difficulties, owing to a deficit from the previous year and the continued stringency of the times, yet the missionaries have stood by their posts amid great discouragements, and their labors have been more than ordinarily blessed. The Board had expended $11,343.69, which had been received principally from the donations of the churches, supplemented by $542.85 from the Women's Central Committee; $40.12 in a special collection; $406.58 in grants from the Publication Society; and $1,340.33 borrowed from other funds.

The number of ministerial students at Furman University was 39, 2 being of other denominations, yet all receiving free tuition; 16 received aid other than tuition. The maximum amount of aid given outside of tuition, is that necessary to cover board, room rent, and the regular incidental fee of the institution, not exceeding in any case $85.00. In the Seminary at Louisville, there were 12 other students, 8 of whom required aid from the Board, aggregating $520.

The trustees of Furman University reported the session opening for the current year with 88 students, and a registration at the time of the Convention of 129. The institution has been opened, to a certain extent, to young women, 3 of such availing themselves of the opportunity. There has been a diminished attendance thus far, owing doubtless to the difficulty of obtaining the necessary funds for an education. The university has provided a free scholarship to one student from each county in the State, who in a competitive examination should prove to be best prepared for the lowest college classes. While many counties did not avail themselves of this liberal offer, there were 19 applicants, only 4 presenting papers that came within the scope of the requirements. This offer of free scholarship is also to be made to a number of high schools in the State. The institution has received generous gifts during the year from individual friends of the cause. The course of study has been extended, especially in the line of biblical history. The institutions at Greenville comprise a newly organized establishment for the education of women; no addition to the endowment of the institutions was reported, as no effort was made during the year. The latest available statistics are to be found in the appropriate tables.

At the Connie Maxwell Orphanage the process of erecting new buildings has been constantly going on, a memorial home being completed and opened, and occupied by a family of 24 children, a matron, and a teacher. What is to be known as the "Children's Cottage," the money being furnished by children of the State, is in progress and will be completed by the opening of the year; $1,818.89 having been contributed for that purpose, and $800 more needed to finish and furnish it when completed. The superintendent's home had been erected, and was then ready for occupancy, this building costing about $4,000. Much work had been done on the farm and the garden, with all necessary improvements to render self-support from them available. The number of children received during the year had been 37; 17 had been sent out to Christian homes; and 55 are left now in the institution; many of these are supported by individuals, or by societies, churches, and Sunday-schools, who not only provide the funds for its support, but take upon themselves the pleasing duty of furnishing clothing. The receipts for the orphanage were: Cash, $7,881.40; estimated value of provision and clothing, $621.55; special collection, $120.56; a total of $8,623 51. This includes a bequest of over $300.

The Central Committee of women's missionary work reported receipts: For foreign missions, $4,338.72; home missions, $960.81; State missions, $544.05; expense fund, $100.75. A special effort to raise $600 as their portion assumed by the Woman's Missionary Union for the debt of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Convention, had been more than successful. Reports from the various societies indicate a continuation of the enthusiasm and zeal which has characterized the Baptist women of this State

The reports of the various interests fostered by the State were attended by interesting discussions, and addresses were made by the representatives of the Boards of the Southern Convention, speaking upon the reports as they were presented. In the discussion on education an address was made by M. M. Riley, D. D., the new president of the Female College at Greenville, which institution has now practically come under the control of this Convention. The Seminary at Louisville was represented by E. C. Dargan, D. D., and an effort was made to secure $550 for the Students' Fund of that institution. Interest attached to the presence of 3 missionaries of the foreign Board, who are present in this country for rest, and who made edifying talks. In addition to these, at a missionary mass meeting, addresses were made by Rev. C. S. Gardner, Rev. D. M. Ramsey, and Rev. E. E. Bomar.

Interesting services occurring during the session of the body were: The day of national Thanksgiving, which was appropriately observed, the sermon being preached by T. H. Pritchard, D. D., of North Carolina, from Deut. 32: 31, on "The Witness of Infidelity to the Truth of Christianity"; on the afternoon of the Sabbath the memorial service in view of the death of 12 prominent brethren, some of whom had been foremost in the Convention work for years, was held, the report on obituaries being read by A. J. S. Thomas, D. D., and addresses made by a number of the brethren in tender memory of their departed friends.

The next meeting is to be held at Greenville, beginning Wednesday, November 20, 1895.

The Eighteenth Anniversary was held with the Bethlehem Church, Newberry, May 2-6, 1894. There were 26 Associations, 14 Sunday-school conventions, 4 churches, 2 Sunday-schools, and 3 other bodies represented, besides a number of life-members present. The Introductory Sermon was preached by Rev. I. W. Simons, from Isa. 63: 10. The Doctrinal Sermon was preached by Rev. E. V. Gassaway, on "Repentance," from Matt. 3: 2. Other sermons were preached at the night sessions, and the night of the Sabbath was given to memorial exercises of departed ministers.

The report of the Board speaks of the great difficulties which had been experienced in pressing their work, springing out of the stringency of the times not alone, but also because the State has been recently much affected by storms, which had wrought unprecedented damage along the coast, which is the stronghold of the colored Baptists of South Carolina. A missionary had been employed who had rendered service acceptably. The corresponding secretary had visited many isolated places where transportation was necessary by means of ox-carts or on foot. His work had largely been of the apostolic nature, in strengthening the faith of the feeble churches, and advising and counseling in circumstances of difficulty. The cause of education was reported as growing in favor with the churches, and benefactions had been received to the amount of $549.79, by which 27 beneficiaries had been aided in their studies while preparing for the ministry. This sum does not represent all that had been expended for educational purposes, since some organizations did not choose to work through the Convention channel. There had been more contributions for foreign missions than formerly, while much needs to be done in developing the interest of the churches in this important work, $117.40 having been received by the corresponding secretary; but many contributions were made that did not pass through his hands. The need of decrepit ministers, who have become unable to work, was presented in the report and provision for them recommended. The financial report, including all receipts for the year, shows $2,148.30; of which $764.92 had been brought up to the last session of the Convention. The expenditures, which are all included in one table, were $2,147.80; this includes contributions for foreign missions and education. There were collected during this session, brought up by the delegates, $422.49, with which the work of the year begins.

Reports were made on education; the various phases of missionary endeavor; women's work; the Publication Society; temperance; and other important subjects. The cause of aged ministers and widows of ministers was recommended to be laid before the churches, these to take stated collections to be forwarded to the Executive Board for disbursement. Two ministers had died during the year, and their departure was appropriately noted. Methods were recommended for better plans of receiving money. During the sessions some interesting papers were read bearing upon practical questions fostered by this body.

The Thirteenth Annual Meeting was held at Madison, October 5–8, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. A. C. Keene, from Ephesians 2 : 19, on "The Relationship of the Believer to the Kingdom of God."

The report of the Board spoke of disappointment on account of material depression springing out of the great drought, and yet 9 churches had been organized, making 106 churches with a membership of nearly 5,000 in the State. The work in this State is in connection with that of the Home Mission Society, and by this co-operation 54 missionaries had been under employment, who supplied 63 churches and 57 out-stations, preached 6,338 sermons, made 15,099 visits, and baptized 338 persons; the membership on their fields was 3,080, and the value of church property was $135,350. The home expenses were $22,450, and total amount from churches and Sunday-schools was $32,335.87. Nine new churches had been organized. The corresponding secretary in his work had traveled 24,565 miles, equal to the circumference of the globe, and written 2,575 letters, besides evangelistic work as occasion offered. The State Sunday-school missionary, working in connection with the Publication Society, reported 8 new schools organized, 13 institutes held, 295 addresses made, 32 children's meetings, and 14,225 miles traveled in connection with his work. Educational matters received extended attention, the object of interest being the Sioux Falls University, which had entered upon its twelfth year with hopeful anticipations, although impeded by indebtedness. Prof. F. J. Walsh addressed the body in the interest of this institution, and a number of volunteer addresses followed. An extended address on Home Missions was made by O. A. Williams, D. D., and an elaborate report on the same subject was presented by Rev. D. N. Mason. The report of Foreign Missions was prepared and spoken to by Rev. R. A. Van Doren. There were also sessions of the women in consideration of their particular work on the home and foreign fields.

The Twentieth Annual Meeting was held with the Edgefield Church, Nashville, October 17–20, 1894. There were 145 delegates enrolled. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. W. H. Ryals, from 1 Peter 1 : 3, 5.

The State Mission Board had employed 44 missionaries who had performed 6,746 days of labor; supplied 154 stations; traveled 62,213 miles; preached 2,928 sermons; made 1,714 addresses; constituted 22 churches; baptized 635 persons; and received a total into the church of 1,919; organized 30 Sunday-schools; distributed 133,000 religious tracts; built 9 houses of worship, and repaired 18 others, at a total cost of $6,700; sold 549, and donated 347 copies of Scripture. In addition the superintendent of missions had labored the entire year; traveled 21,200 miles; preached 167 sermons; delivered 175 missionary addresses; baptized 9 persons; distributed 57,950 tracts; and performed a great amount of clerical work in the interest of the mission cause. The Board for Sunday-school and colportage work reported 7 colporters employed, who had rendered 1,240 days of service; visited 4,536 families, of whom 498 were destitute of the Bible; preached 791 sermons; made 337 addresses; organized 34 Sunday-schools and 2 churches; baptized 128 persons, and reported 385 other conversions. The value of books and tracts sold was $1,181.80; and of donations to the destitute, $227.72, a total for 8 months' work, $1,408.62. In this work they had the co-operation of the Publication Society in books and literature, and from the Sunday-school Board of the Southern Convention, $400 in cash. The receipts, including these items, from sale of books and literature, and all sources, were $3,770.07, the Sunday-schools and churches contributing $2,220. In the disbursements, $828.33 was paid on salaries of colporters, and the balance in the legitimate work of the Board, leaving a balance on hand of $60. The assets of the Board were $900, against which liabilities on book account existed of $637.83. Although proposed, it was decided not to combine the work of this Board with that of State missions.

The Baptist Orphans' Home now seems to be an established fact, and has become a part of the organic work of the Convention. The financial agent reported receipts amounting to $6,161.18, of which 199 churches and 38 Associations had contributed $4,800.94. There had been paid on the building, $2,400; for food and similar expenses in maintenance, $1,965.73; salary of agent and traveling expenses, $1,451.53; leaving a balance on hand of $343.92. The assets consisted of a building valued at $15,000, equipments, existing subscriptions, etcetera, in all, $23,817.94, with liabilities amounting to $10,045.05; and existing pledges unpaid are equal to the amount due upon the building. There were reported 30 children in the Home, 14 having been received during the year. The Convention appointed a Board of 21 managers to have special oversight of this interest.

There are two institutions of learning fostered by this Convention, located in the Eastern and Western portions of the State. Ministerial education is fostered in both institutions. The number of students for the ministry were reported to be 32 in Carson-

Newman College, 53 at the Southwestern University, and 9 at the Theological Seminary. At the Southwestern, 27 young men had been maintained in part, or wholly, and 26 had received no help bevond a free tuition. During their studies these young men serve 32 churches; the expenditures on their account were $1,012. At Carson-Newman College there had been paid on account of board of students, $464.21, and a complaint is made that the deficiency in funds prevents the application of many students who would devote themselves to the work of the ministry.

The Board of ministerial relief had received $295.78, and had assisted in the support of 2 worthy beneficiaries. The report called for increased aid in the establishment of this fund for the support of aged and disabled ministers.

The report of the treasurer shows receipts as follows: Ministerial relief, $169.50; ministerial education, $2,055.56; Orphans' Home, $6,067.20; Sunday-school and colportage, $2,181.24; home missions, $2,157.80; foreign missions, $4,348.38; State missions, $8,955.91; total, $25,935.59. This report is followed by very full financial tables showing the sources from whence these funds arose.

The other items of interest of this anniversary were a report on co-operation, full of very interesting facts, with reference to the development of the churches in their work of contributions; reports on education; the various departments of missionary and Sunday-school enterprises; denominational literature; the work of women; temperance; and denominational history.

The representatives of the general work of the Southern Baptist Convention were present and made addresses.

The next session is to be held at Mossy Creek, beginning Wednesday, October 16, 1895.

The Seventh Annual Meeting was held with the Tabernacle Church, Memphis, July 10–15, 1894. There was a large attendance and general representation of the churches. The Introductory Sermon was preached by Rev. C. H. Clark, from Prov. 22:28. The Doctrinal Sermon was preached by Rev. E. E. Hansboro, from 2 Tim. 2:15. The evening sessions were devoted to the preaching of sermons, and other devotional exercises.

Including the superintendent there had been 9 missionaries, who had rendered 1,295 days of service; preached 825 sermons; made 550 addresses; organized 7 churches and 13 Sunday-schools; held 87 institutes; and distributed 25,000 pages of tracts and missionary literature. There had been a joint appointment of one of these missionaries with the Home Mission Society, and an appropriation was made by the Publication Society to another missionary engaged specially in Sunday-school and colportage work. There had been collected, $90.72, but over against this there seemed to be an expense account of $1,094.10, although it is fair to say that it would be very difficult for an expert bookkeeper to ascertain the system under which the reports are made. Another report of the missionary of the Home Mission Society shows $625.65 collected, and $1,000 church debts raised, without any corresponding statement of disbursement. Whether the contributions reported by the Sunday-school missionary are included in either of these accounts cannot well be determined. The whole system of reports seems to be exceedingly crude. In the report of the meeting of the Executive Board the amount received is said to be $404.52, and disbursed $382.06, in which remuneration of the missionaries reporting the collections is included. Then there is a dollar list of contributors, showing $87.50 collected, and a list of pledges amounting to $1,099, but whether taken at the meeting, or secured during the year, it seems impossible to determine. In addition to all these items there were frequent collections taken during the meetings, but the objects for which they were taken was not expressed.

Much interest is expressed in the Roger Williams University, located at Nashville, and an agent to visit the Associations and collect educational money was secured at this meeting, and sent out into the work. There was no financial report on educational work. A day was given to the consideration of the interests of Sunday-schools, at which papers on practical questions were read. In the consideration of missionary topics, Rev. E. M. Lawrence spoke, on "The True Mission of the Church"; Rev. A. E. Edwards, on "Our Relation to State Missions"; and A. J. Holt,

D. D., on "Ethiopia Stretching Forth Her Hand." In educational matters, Prof. J. W. Johnson reported the interest of Roger Williams University, and Rev. W. H. C. Stokes spoke, on "The Present Needs of Our Ministry." An interesting paper on "Councils: Their Origin and Power," was read by Rev. Wm. Colier.

The next meeting is to be held at Clarksville, beginning Tuesday, July 23, 1895, and the Introductory Sermon is to be preached by R. B. Vandervell, D. D.

The Forty-sixth Annual Session, or the ninth since consolidation, was held at Marshall, October 12-16, 1894. There were 163 churches represented by 287 members, 49 Associations by 92 members, and 9 missionary societies by 13, a total of 392. The Convention Sermon was preached by Rev. J. A. Ivey, from Mark 1 : 17.

The Annual Report is a lengthy document, entering very largely into the details of the methods adopted. The summary of work done in State missions was the employment of 105 missionaries, who labored in 131 counties of the State, and within the bounds of 49 Associations; they supplied 495 stations; labored 25,731 days; preached 12,917 sermons; made 7,129 addresses; organized 51 churches, with 564 constituent members; baptized 1,554 persons; received otherwise 1,499; organized 122 Sunday-schools; made 20,618 religious visits; and distributed 219,470 pages of literature. In addition there were 24 church lots secured and 8 houses built at an aggregate cost of $8,563. The field had contributed toward the salaries of missionaries, $13,951.60. The further division of the work shows that among the Germans were 4 missionaries; Swedes, 1; Mexicans, 4; Negroes, 10; and Americans, 86. The churches organized were 35 Americans; 14 Negroes; and 1 each among the Mexicans and Germans. There had been 5 churches built for the Negroes and 2 for the white population. The accessions to the churches were: From Germans, 100; Swedes, 10; Mexicans, 153; Negroes, 569; Americans, 2,785. Among the Germans every one of their churches has a house of worship, and half of them are supplied with pastors' homes; they had contributed for various objects through the year, $5,115.45. The work among the Swedes did not seem to be so encouraging, and there is an opportunity for work among the Bohemians and Norwegians, many thousands of whom have recently entered the State. The work among the Mexicans had been increased, and there are some features of it that are considered remarkable. A very satisfactory method of co-operation exists with the Colored Convention, and yet there is great need of a large increase of work among them.

The year had begun under a heavy shadow, a long-standing debt having increased to the amount of $7,500, so that to carry on the work, as it was then in progress, and provide for this deficiency, demanded $13,000. The Board came to the Convention, however, with the gratifying intelligence that this amount had been more than realized, that the work had suffered no diminution, and this oppressive debt had been provided for. This was accomplished during the latter part of the conventional year by the entering upon this special canvass of a number of the more prominent brethren of the pastorate, who were released from their church duties in order to bring about this desired result. Reference is made in the report to the valuable aid received from the Home Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, which had contributed $4,000 in cash, and after that one-half of all contributions raised in the State; the salary of an organiser of work among the Baptist women was also paid from this source

The Board has had charge during the year of the Relief Fund for Aged and Indigent Ministers. The report enters into detail concerning the difficulties which had prevailed in the management of this interest. At the beginning of the year there were 50 beneficiaries, of whom 6 were living in a Ministers' Home; inasmuch as this latter was a private enterprise, the Board discontinued it, but continued the benefactions to the beneficiaries.

The report of the Board stated amount collected for State missions: In cash, $20,160.86; interest, $100; from Home Board of the S. B. C., $5,600.57; a total of $25,861.43; for home missions for the regular work, $1,913.75; and the interest at El Paso, $1,847; a total of $2,062.22; for foreign missions, $8,116 88; neither of these two latter items included amounts sent direct to the Boards; Ministers' Relief, from all sources, $4,128.38; and various other interests in larger or smaller sums, so that the whole sum aggregated $41,887.97. The expense of administration had been $6,562.62.

The trustees of Baylor University rendered a detailed report of the gratifying progress made by the university; there had been matriculated 429 students, of whom 201 were in the collegiate department, 36 ministers and 37 children of ministers beneficiaries, and 115 in a cadet corps. This military department had been organized during the year. The department of music had been elevated to a higher grade. At the Baylor Female College, also controlled by this Convention, 193 pupils had been enrolled at the opening of the current year. Changes in the faculty had strengthened the educational corps. There were liabilities of $50,000 bonded debt and $48,856.76 floating indebtedness, while the revenues of the college were but little more than sufficient to pay its running expenses; in this condition of things a financial agent was put into the field, who had secured in notes and subscriptions $24,963 73, and cash $1,959.59, at a total expenditure of $2,314.65. There was added to this financial canvass solicitation for pupils, the value of which could not be estimated. The coming year is the jubilee year of the institution and it was hoped to celebrate it by making it a year of deliverance from this oppressive burden. Subsequent to the report there were gifts aggregating $2,527.27, made by the body.

The report of the Buckner Orphans' Home contains a history of the institution from its inception in 1876, and the steps by which it had reached its present efficiency. There are now 500 acres of land; a large quantity of live stock upon the farm, with all necessary barns and cribs and bins; well furnished schoolhouses and sanitarium, dormitories, a brick building giving room for 500 girls, steam-heated, and supplied from its own artesian well. There had been more than 1,000 orphans sheltered in this institution. During the year there had been needed improvements and beautifying of the grounds, and outfits for photography and printing had been added, and a young orchard planted. The receipts from all sources had been $21,473.51, and there had been paid on current expenses $13,311.42, and on building $8,193.75.

A great portion of the time of this meeting was devoted to the discussion of the methods of the conduct of the missionary work in the State, so that but little time was left for general discussion of other objects; nevertheless the interests of the Boards of the Southern Baptist Convention were considered in reports and addresses by the secretaries of these Boards, and a subscription of $801.40 was made to the Students' Fund of the Seminary at Louisville. There were reports on temperance, Sunday observance, ministerial education, the colored population, and the various divisions of denominational beneficence elicited more or less of discussion.

The next meeting is to be held at Belton, beginning Friday, October 11, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by T. B. Pitman, D. D.

The Twenty-ninth Annual Meeting was held at Abilene, June 21-24, 1894. There were present representatives of 67 churches and Sunday-schools. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. T. C. Boykin, from Matthew 25 : 21, 23.

The report of the work done expresses pleasure and describes the experiences of the year as most phenomenal. Commencing two years ago with only 2 active missionaries and a debt of over $2,000, the Board now had 63 missionaries and colporters, all of whom had been paid what had been promised, and a balance in hand in cash and books of $140.10. The larger number of churches and Sunday-schools do not yet contribute to this work, so that it is hoped that in the future it will broaden and widen in its scope. The Publication Society had furnished supplies of literature at catalogue prices and made cash donations and grants amounting to $640.72. The Sunday-school Board of the Southern Baptist Convention had given in cash $800 and in Scriptures and literature $222.56. The 63 workers were well distributed over the State, and they had donated 1,735 Bibles, 2,341 Testaments, 1,174 books, and 347,750 pages of tracts; they had visited 28,995 families, nearly 3,000 of them being found without a Bible, and all who were willing to receive were furnished with a copy. The number of sermons preached was 4,204, and addresses 2,381; they had organized 207 Sunday-schools, held 41 institutes, baptized 579 persons, and organized 26 churches. The total value of book sales was $7,309.45, and of grants $1,646.65. The total amount received, including cash contributions and result of sales of books and grants, was $12,191.47.

The time of the Convention was taken up in the consideration of its legitimate work, brief addresses being made by Sunday-school missionaries and colporters, and an address was made by T. P. Bell, D. D., on "Missions in the Sunday-school." There were reports on institute work, Sunday-school missions, Negro missions, Mexican missions, and obituaries, all of which gave occasion to discussion that was perfectly free and voluntary.

The Fourth Annual Convention was held at Abilene, June 19–21, 1894. There were representatives from 40 churches. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. A. J. Harris, from Acts 18.

The report of the secretary outlined the progress of the movement in Texas, and without giving any statistical information spoke of the work as being prosperous in the State, new societies being formed, and old ones being greatly revived. The treasurer reported as paid for the Centennial Chapel Fund, $34.80, and $2.00 for printing, with $5.00 on hand; the receipts were not stated. A further collection of $26.51 was made for printing during the sessions. A subscription of $450.00 was made to Baylor Female College.

The exercises consisted of the discussion of practical topics of work; a sermon by Rev. C. L. Seasholes, from 2 Kings 2; and addresses by S. D. Ponder, on "Wine and Card Parties: Their Evil," and J. H. Luther, D. D., on "The Outlook of the Movement."

The place of the next meeting is to be selected by the Executive Committee, the time being Thursday, June 20, 1895, and Rev. W. C. Lattimore is to preach the Annual Sermon.

The Twenty-third Annual Session was held with the Second Independent Church, Corsicana, October 17–21, 1894. It was the largest gathering in its history. The Introductory Sermon was preached by Rev. I. S. Campbell, from Rom. 10:1.

There had been 34 missionaries at work whose labors are thus summarized: Days employed, 5,539; stations supplied, 940; miles traveled, 50,972; sermons preached, 3,626; addresses delivered, 1,375; religious visits, 1,714; conversions reported, 1,679; baptisms, 1,351; received otherwise, 293; churches organized, 24; Sunday-schools organized, 68; woman's missionary societies organized, 52; pages of religious literature distributed, 24,381; missionary mass meetings held, 251; and there were in addition to these labors 26 lots for buildings bought, at a cost of $1,778, 20 houses of worship built at a cost of $2,414.95, and 43 churches dedicated. The missionaries had also collected $3,186.25 for the general work, and $739.85 on the fields for self-support. The whole amount collected was $8,519.32.

The Convention has co-operative relations with the Home Mission Society, and with the Board of the white State Convention. In educational work three high grade schools are fostered, viz.: Bishop College, Hearne Academy, and Houston Academy; these had matriculated during the year, 450 students.

The colored women held a meeting in connection with the Convention. Miss J. L. Peck, who takes charge of the missionary training work makes the following report of the work of the women for the year: Mission societies gave to improve their own churches, $1,633.30; sent for State mission work, $512.54; sent to Women's Home Mission Society, $101.65; contributed at meeting of State Convention for missions and education, $193.95. There were 86 societies reporting, and more work had been done in "Starlight Bands" than ever before.

There is one Association in this State, which held its Twelfth Anniversary at Pocatello, Idaho, September 26, 1894. Rev. J. C. Andrews, Provo City, was moderator, and Rev. H. Van Englen, Idaho Falls, was secretary. There had been 55 persons baptized and 49 received otherwise, and a net gain of about 50 was reported. The reports from the churches were encouraging and indicative of substantial growth. The work in this State is under the control of the Home Mission Society, not a single church being self-sustaining. There were addresses by H. L. Morehouse, D. D., and H. C. Woods, D. D., the representatives of the Home Mission Society. During the meeting it was thought best for the churches of Idaho, which have been in union with this Association, to withdraw for the organization of another Association in Idaho, for the purpose of unifying the work in both States. Such statistics as we have been able to obtain since the meeting, are to be found in the appropriate tables.

The Seventieth Anniversary was held at North Bennington, September 25–29, 1894. There were present 31 ordained ministers, 11 members of the Board, and 31 delegates from the churches, besides a number of visitors. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. J. A. Swart, from Mark 13 : 34.

The number of churches aided during the year was 27, in which 18 pastors had labored, and comprising a membership of 1,666. There were 83 baptisms during the year; the families in the congregations aggregating 353; there had been raised for expenses $9,934.86, and for benevolent contributions $1,362.19; there are Sunday-schools in all these mission fields, aggregating 1,793 in attendance. There were other applications for assistance, but aid was not rendered. Of the aided churches there was a net gain in the membership of 14 churches of 93, and a net loss in 9 of 40, 4 making report of no change whatever. Orders to the aid of the churches had been drawn amounting to $2,582.91; expended in employment of a missionary, $498.94; and miscellaneous orders, including Printing Fund and some specified donations, $794.92; a total of $3,876.87. Not all of these orders have been presented. At the beginning of the year the missionary, whose services had been very valuable, was reappointed, but his work was discontinued by his entrance again upon the pastorate. The treasurer reported received for Convention work, $2,397.04; for printing of minutes, $171.34; from miscellaneous sources, $242 02; received for salary of missionary, $372.18; interest on invested funds, $1,147.70; which with amount of funds against which orders had been drawn and cash balance from preceding year, made total amount, $7,106.62. The statement of the Permanent Fund shows at present $19,965.12, invested in approved mortgages and notes.

The exercises of the meeting included reports on home missions; the State Convention; foreign missions; the Publication Society; and obituaries; which gave rise to interesting discussions by representatives of the general societies. In addition, an address on ministerial education was made by Geo. Bullen, D. D. The death of six friends of the cause, three being ministers, was noted in a report of the obituary committee. Five new pastors, who had entered the State during the year, were pleasantly welcomed.

The next meeting is to be held at Barre, beginning Tuesday, September 24, 1895, and the Annual Sermon was appointed to be preached by Rev. S. Henry Archibald.

The Twenty-fifth Annual Meeting was held at Brattleboro, June 5–7, 1894. There were present 35 pastors, 20 superintendents, 95 delegates, and 331 who were enrolled as visitors, in all 481 present. The addresses on the occasion were made by Edward Judson, D. D., of New York, on "Christian Love the Great Motive in all Sunday-school Work"; and G. C. Lorimer, D. D., of Boston, on "The Divine in Human Teaching"; practical discussions were conducted by Rev. I. N. Earle, on "A Bird's Eye View of the Life of Christ"; Mrs. Katherine C. Higgins, on "Illustration Illustrated"; B. W. Smith, on "How to Reach the Boys and Girls"; and Dr. Judson, on "The Scriptural Conception of the Sunday-school"; there were other addresses on chapel car work, and points concerning the art of teaching. At an evening session Rev. Geo. C Needham spoke on "The Ministry of the Holy Spirit"; and Mr. D. L. Moody, on "The Qualifications Needed in Efficient Sunday-school Workers." The questions of Bible geography, office and work of the Holy Spirit in teaching, and details of practical work in connection with the training of the young, occupied the time at the last session.

The treasurer had received $235.95, including a cash balance on hand of $30.75; and his expenditures were, $156.65, in payment of the expenses of the session, leaving a balance on hand of $79.30. The latest Sunday-school statistics are to be found in the appropriate tables.

The Annual Meeting for 1894 was held at North Bennington, September 26. There did not seem to be any Annual Address. The secretary reported that effort had been made to secure autobiographical material, and that work had been done in enrolling the ministry that had labored in the State, with valuable memoranda relating to over 600 of them. Some valuable contributions of books had been made. There had been $16.40 received and a deposit for further contingency reported of $67.89. The annual meetings are held at the same time and place as those of the State Convention.

The Seventy-first Annual Meeting was held at Alexandria, Nov. 13–15, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Claybrook, from John 8 : 32.

The abstract of labors of 78 missionaries shows that they occupied 223 stations, preached 7,598 sermons, made 14,297 religious visits, organized 31 Sunday-schools and 8 churches, baptized 1,276 persons, and aided in meetings in which there were 2,364 others who professed conversion, engaged in the erection of 24 meeting houses, and completed the erection of 10. The receipts for the year had been, $10,141.95; balance from previous year, $1,733.24; total, $11,874.19. The disbursemen's were: $11,161.46; of which, $10,812.10 had been expended on account of missionaries.

The Education Board had under its care 51 young men, 16 of whom pursued their studies at the Seminary at Louisville, and 35 at Richmond College; of this number 10 were receiving aid from the Board for the first time. The treasurer reports a cash balance on hand at the beginning of the year, $485.50, and expenses during the year, $5,034.40.

In the Sunday-school and Bible work there had been employed one general superintendent and 24 colporters, who labored 5,760 days, traveled 50,925 miles, visited 28,405 families, found 2,805 persons neglecting the preaching of the gospel, and 730 families destitute of the Bible, preached 524 sermons, delivered 422 addresses and 316 Sunday-school addresses, held 266 prayer meetings, organized 37 Sunday-schools and 9 churches, held 3 Sunday-school conventions, baptized 86 persons, and held meetings in which 176 others professed conversion. Their total sales of Bibles, Testaments, books, and tracts were $6,258.35, and they donated 293 Bibles, 524 Testaments, 674 books, and 54,730 pages of tracts, of a valuation of $371 66; the total sales and donations were $6,630.01.

The Ministers' Relief Fund reported that the increase in the Invested Fund had been very slight; the number of persons aided by the Board had been 48; the contributions from the churches were $2,700, and the disbursements for the work of the Board, $3,490 83. Hereafter the trustees are not to be bound by the law which made it necessary for them to invest one-third of the receipts in the Permanent Fund. Another charity sustained by this body is the Orphanage, the report for the present year showing a healthful condition of affairs; the building is almost entirely full of beneficiaries, and many other applications for admission. The report recommended the erection of two new buildings.

For foreign missions the treasurer had received, during the year ending with the anniversary, $18,782.08, which, with the balance from the past year, made receipts $20,104.41. For the first time in many years there had been a failure to increase over preceding years their contributions to this cause. The treasurer had received for home missions, during the same time, $8,167.50, which was a falling off of nearly $4.000 from the preceding year; but this decrease is not so much a matter of discouragement, as the fund in the previous year contained many special gifts for the celebration of the centennial of missions.

Apart from the falling off in contributions, the reports were gratifying as they showed more work accomplished, more results in conversions, more children cared for in the Orphanage, more young men aided in preparation for the ministry, more aged ministers helped, and a larger attendance in the denominational schools than before, while the educational institutions were in better condition. The Southwest Virginia Institute was recognized as a denominational institution. In all the matters of denominational endeavor, as they were presented by committees, there were sprightly discussions by volunteer speakers securing the floor, as there are no outlined programs permitted to be made. A number of routine matters were adopted somewhat altering methods of work, which are not of special interest to the denomination at large.

The next session is to be held at Petersburg, commencing Friday, November 15, 1895, and W. W. Landrum, D. D., was appointed to preach the Introductory Sermon.

Royal; "The Relation of the Ministry to Current Topics," by Rev. L. G. Broughton; and "Legitimate Methods of Raising Money for the Lord's Cause," by F. C. McConnell, D. D. The Second Annual Meeting was held in the First Church, Richmond, November 22, 23, 1894. There was a representation from 54 churches. The meetings were very enthusiastic. It was for a discussion of practical themes, growing out of the newness of the movement. The important actions had were the decision to meet with the General Association in the future and so link the young people with the denomination in its general work; and affirming its loyalty to the great denominational interests, taking the preliminary steps toward securing a close contact of the young people in the South with the Southern Baptist Convention. For the perfection of organization of young people the State was divided into districts, with leaders suggested for each. If the plan is agreeable to the entertaining churches, the next Convention is to be held at Petersburg in conjunction with the General Association of the State.

The Twenty-seventh Annual Meeting was held at Lynchburg, May 9–14, 1894. A number of discourses on doctrinal and evangelistic themes were delivered during the sessions.

In State mission work there had been occupied 27 stations besides a large amount of general missionary work accomplished. Student missionaries had also labored for five months of the year, occupying 24 stations and baptizing 207 persons, besides organizing a church and 8 Sunday-schools. Occasional help was rendered to pastors and evangelists who were giving attention to important towns where the cause seemed to be weak. The receipts for this work were $1,064.01, of which $114.75 had been borrowed; there had been expended in missionary labor, $865.49; other items and balance of $10.81 amounting to the receipts. There is an indebtedness of $333.22.

In educational work it was reported that 400 students had entered the Virginia Seminary at Lynchburg, which is fostered by this body. Attention is given to the other institutions of the State. There had been contributed for these interests, $1,836.56; which had been disbursed: for ministerial education, $136.73; Hartshorne College, $100.15; Spiller Academy, $688.41, and for the Seminary at Lynchburg, $894.55. In another place the Board of Managers of the Virginia Seminary reported collections amounting to $5,398.51, which was presumably the work of its financial agent in the field, and $862.72 received by the committee, a total of $6,261.23; the former amount seemed to have been disbursed by the agent; an indebtedness upon the institution was reported of $14,188.13.

For foreign missions, $421.39 had been collected. The advisability of organizing the women for missionary endeavor was committed for report at the next meeting. The meetings were characterized by valuable discussions of the various phases of the work, and indicated a rapid progress in the efficiency of the denomination in the State.

The next meeting is to be held at a place, to be determined by the State Mission Board, on Wednesday, May 13, 1895. Rev. Guy Powell to preach the Introductory Sermon.

The Seventh Anniversary was held at Centralia, October 11–14, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. W. T. Fleener, from John 20 : 17.

There had been 27 missionaries under appointment, including general and district missionaries, who had served 38 churches and 22 out-stations, rendered 1,040 weeks of labor, preached 3,233 sermons, made 7,756 religious visits, baptized 255 persons, and added 174 otherwise; the membership on mission fields is 1,861, and there are 35 Sunday-schools, with an enrollment of 2,542; they had collected for buildings and improvements, $3,114; and for current expenses, $3,283; and for missions, $1,625. The district missionary had in addition preached 242 sermons, made 65 addresses, visited 29 churches, baptized 22 persons, and traveled 2,995 miles. The corresponding secretary also preached 77 sermons, made 42 addresses, visited 75 churches, and 12 points with a view to establishing churches, besides doing a large amount of clerical work in connection with his office; he had also organized 1 church and dedicated 2 houses of worship. Co-operation with the Home Mission Society exists, by which one-fifth of the amount appropriated to missionaries is paid by this Convention, the Society giving four-fifths, or the donating $4.00 to $1.00 raised on the field: for the past year the limit of appropriations by the Society was $7,700, and $600 additional for the district missionary. The year was said to have been a testing and sifting time, the general stagnation and depreciation of values having operated to crippling the business energies of the people. Nineteen pastors out of 38 had resigned and changed their fields of labor during the year, and those that remained with their churches were compelled to accept large reductions of salaries, and at the time of the meeting several important churches were still without pastoral work. The Swedish churches had become organized, but co-operate directly with the Convention; there are 8 of these churches with 3,000 members; the Publication Society sustains a colporter among them. Attention has been given to work among the Norwegians and Danes. Recognition of the work of the women is made in the report, they having supported the Scandinavian work, raising the amount necessary for that purpose. The total receipts from all sources within the State were $2,061.47; the obligations to the Home Mission Society had been met with the exception of less than $200; among the gifts are: $311.37 from women's circles and bands, and $105.36 from Young People's Unions. Following the report, addresses were made by H. L. Morehouse, D.D., field secretary of the Home Mission Society, and H. C. Woods, D. D., district missionary of the same. An address was also made by W. H. Pendleton, D. D., on "Opportunity and Obligation of the Baptist on the Convention Field"; and Rev. J. C. Baker, on "The Plans of Home Missions as Related to Other Denominational Enterprises"; a number of five minute addresses by missionaries on the field followed

The educational interest of this Convention is Grace Seminary, at Centralia. An effort to raise $750 to meet debt incurred in building was partially successful. Addresses on education were made by D. J. Pierce, D. D., and Prof. Arthur Brumback. A mass meeting in the interest of Sunday-schools was held at which Rev. J. Cairns discussed "The Relation of the Adults to the Sunday-school" Prof. W. P. Gaunce spoke, on "The Ideal Superintendent"; N. C. Griswold, on "Who Should be Teachers and How Should They Teach?" and Mrs. E. M. Bliss, on "Lesson Helps and Their Proper Use."

The women's societies were reported in interesting sessions. For home missions, 11 new circles had been organized, and 4 reorganized, making 40 circles now in the Convention; they had raised for the national society, $201.05; for the work of the Convention, $391; besides contributing to the support of an inmate in the training-school, and supplies which had been sent to industrial schools. The work in foreign missions was equally active, with as encouraging results. Interesting papers were read on practical topics, as well as communications from missionaries upon the field. In addition to the routine work accomplished by the Convention, there were sermons on the Sabbath by H. L. Morehouse, D. D., and H. C. Woods, D. D., who were visiting the Convention.

The next meeting is to be held at Victoria, B. C., beginning October 10, 1895, and the Annual Sermon is to be preached by Rev. W. F. Taylor.

The Tenth Annual Meeting was held at Walla Walla, October 4–7, 1894. There were in attendance about 40 delegates and 15 visitors. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. C. Carroll, from Matt. 27 : 22. An Educational Sermon was also preached by Rev. M. C Cole, from Luke 22 : 36.

The general missionary of this body is Rev. D. D. Proper, corresponding secretary of the Northwest Convention. His report shows 10 missionaries employed, who had supplied 15 churches and 6 out-stations, served 378 weeks, preached 1,001 sermons, made 3,058 visits, baptized 118 persons, and added 71 otherwise. There are 14 Sunday-schools on the field, with an enrolment of 1,039. The mission fields had raised for current expenses, $1,144; pastors' salaries, $1,494 21; building, $695; missions and benevolence, $209. Work had been done too by the district missionary, and the general missionary himself had devoted one-third of his time to the field, preaching 82 sermons, visiting 33 churches, and 5 destitute places, traveling 2,286 miles, and performing a great amount of clerical labor incident to his office. Reference is made to the removal of many of the workers, a district missionary and 7 out of 10 missionary pastors having resigned and closed their work; this was owing to the loss of the wheat crops and the general stringency of the times. The whole amount contributed from all sources for the work was $654 42, but the Home Mission Society expended a much larger amount than this on the field. The Sunday-schools had given $52.10, and the women's societies, $28.

There were reports on home and foreign missions and on education, the latter treating of the interests of Colfax College, Dr. H. L. Morehouse making an address on education as well as upon home missions. In this connection interesting incidents of self-sacrifice on the part of missionaries became apparent. In considering the subject of Sunday-schools, addresses were made by Rev. D. B. Oviatt, on "The Relation of Bible Schools to the Church"; Smith Ely, on "The Teachers' Meeting"; Merwin Pugh, on "The Practical Use of Lesson Helps"; and Mrs. Trimble, on "The Primary Department." A conference on the work of the Holy Spirit was held on the afternoon of the Sabbath.

The next meeting is to be held at Spokane, beginning October 3, 1895, and Rev. C. A. Salyer was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

The Fourth Annual Meeting was held at Walla Walla, October 6, 1894. To this meeting, 11 societies reported a total of 353 active members and 80 associate members, the raising of $137.26, of which $2.01 had been paid for missions, and $128.60 for other objects. There were in attendance upon the meeting 34 delegates. The secretary's report deals principally of the correspondence incurred in the development of new unions. The body decided to attempt to assist in the support of 2 missionaries in Idaho, requiring the amount to be raised of about $100. Addresses were made, on "Welcoming Strangers," by Prof. C. C. Fletcher; on "Seeking and Winning New Members," by Miss Blanche Crane; on "Holding and Developing Old Members," by Rev. W. E. Sawyer. At an evening session, the Christian Culture Courses received attention in papers by Miss Fanny I. Allen, Miss L. L. West, and Rev. F. L. Sullivan.

The Thirtieth Anniversary was held at Grafton, October 18-20, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. A. G. Loving, from Acts 17 : 16, on "Personal Concern for the Spiritual Welfare of Others."

During the year the Board issued 17 commissions, and the missionaries had served 606 weeks, preached 2,005 sermons, made 621 addresses, supplied 19 churches and 35 out-stations, attended 1,285 religious meetings, made 5,465 religious visits, baptized 208 persons and received 129 otherwise, organised 5 churches, distributed 124 copies of Scripture and 37,404 pages of tracts, and traveled 15,789 miles; there had been 6 meeting houses begun and one finished during the year; they had raised for building purposes $1,087.30, and collected for missions and benevolence $8,012.13. The superintendent had given 26 weeks of labor to the work, preached 66 sermons, made 158 addresses, visited 60 churches and 19 missions, organized 1 Sunday-school, dedicated 6 meeting houses, distributed 30,050 pages of tracts, and performed a great amount of clerical labor. The report refers to 20 county seats in the State which have not yet been occupied.

besides many other towns and villages which would afford opportunities for work for 100 missionaries in important centers that are without Baptist churches. The Home Mission Society had co-operated to the extent of sustaining 8 missionaries, besides appropriating money for church edifice purposes. During the last five years there had been great activity in building, fully 100 houses having been built during that time; the plan of erecting houses of worship had been encouraged on all of the mission fields, with gratifying results. The receipts by the treasurer had been $190.03; by the missionaries, $317.88; and by the superintendent, $2,652.75; a total of $3,160.69; this does not include the appropriation of the Home Mission Society. The expenditures were: For missionaries, $2,618.75; salary and expenses of superintendent, $500; and other items making the aggregate disbursements. $3,374.72; there had been paid on the debt of previous year, $133.17, leaving the present indebtedness, $1,297.58. The presentation of the report elicited a discussion with reference to the important towns and cities in this State, as well as those country districts which, because of their richness in natural resources, has drawn large immigrant population which are spiritually destitute. The conference of missionaries was also conducted by the superintendent, at which brief addresses were made by 12 of the pastors who had received aid from the funds.

The trustees of Broaddus Institute reported the school in a healthful condition, with an attendance of 51 students. For some years this institution has been out of the hands of the Baptists, who originally established it, but during the year it had been redeemed and the less ambitious plans of a high school were substituted for the original intent of a college of high grade; two young men had been placed in charge, who had entered upon the work with enthusiasm. The report on ministerial education was presented, but was ordered printed without reading or discussion, so it is to be judged that but little was accomplished in this line. An address was made by E. C. Dargan, D. D., in the interest of the Seminary at Louisville. An interesting discussion on Temperance followed an address on the subject by D. B. Purinton, LL. D., of Denison University.

During the sessions there were meetings of the women interested in home and foreign missions. In addition to the reports which were made by the associational societies there were addresses by several of the brethren upon encouraging features of their work, and Miss M. G. Burdette represented the general societies of Baptist women; they had raised during the year for foreign missions, $138.75; for home missions, $73 83; for State missions, $139.01; and for ministerial education, $500; a total of $366.59.

The next annual meeting is to be held at Alderson, beginning October 16, 1895, and Rev. R. B. Smith was appointed as the preacher of the Annual Sermon.

The Sixteenth Annual Meeting was held at Huntington, May 31, June 2, 1894. There were enrolled 24 representatives of 24 churches, 3 of as many missionary societies, 21 life members, and 49 annual members. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. C. H. Payne, from 1 Tim. 4 : 8.

There had been 2 missionaries sustained a part of the year, who had preached 110 sermons, delivered 30 addresses, reported 15 baptisms, traveled 2,050 miles, made 125 religious visits, and visited 10 Sunday-schools. The report of the Education Board speaks of an effort being made to sustain a denominational school for their people in the State. Under great difficulties such an institution has been maintained at Charleston a part of the preceding year, in which were 14 students, two of whom had the ministry in view. And yet with this small number, applicants were turned away for want of room and accommodations. The expenses had been $48.14 for the past session, and there had been $43.14 received. There had been during the year organizations effected of the women in co-operation with the State work, and also a Sunday-school convention. The detailed statement of contributions for the year, as contained in the minutes, shows a cash balance of $14.39; received from 2 Associations, $120; from churches, individuals, and Sunday-schools, $585.83; public collection, $11.61; a total of $731.93. There had been disbursed $563.82, of which $415.98 was paid for missionary services.

From the printed proceedings it appears that all the phases of denominational endeavor received close attention, and the sessions were interspersed with profitable devotional exercises and sermons delivered by leading brethren. About $75 was reported to have been paid to their Foreign Mission Convention from individuals in their bounds. The work of unifying all the colored Baptist churches proceeds with hope of success ultimately. The establishment of another seminary, located at Bluefield, was announced and received with gladness, and the project endorsed. The principal business of the body was the attention to routine matters.

The next session is to be held at St. Albans, beginning Thursday, May 30, 1895, and Rev. A. J. Smith was appointed to preach the Introductory Sermon.

The meeting was principally for organization. The State was divided into 3 districts, with superintendents of work appointed in each. It was determined to co-operate with their State Convention in fostering the Bluefield Seminary. Sermons and papers on practical Sunday-school topics were considered at various times. The Fiftieth Anniversary was held at Janesville, October 9–11, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. E. W. White, from James 4 : 14.

This being the jubilee year of this Convention, special attention was given to reminiscences; Rev. C. A. Hobbs spoke on "The Year of the Beginning of Conventional Life in Wisconsin"; Rev. M. G. Hodge, D. D., on "The Ministers' Half-Century"; and an address was also made by Rev. James Delaney, one of two ministers now living who were present at the organization of the Convention in 1844. The church with which the Convention met was organized by this brother fifty years previously as the first fruit of his pioneer work in the State.

There had been 65 missionaries commissioned, who had performed 2,285 weeks of labor, supplied 147 churches and out-stations, preached 6,931 sermons, held 4 318 prayer meetings, made 20,038 religious visits, baptized 648 persons, received otherwise, 307; organized 7 churches and 13 Sunday-schools. The membership in mission stations was 3,669, and there were 87 Sunday-schools with an enrollment of 5,699; about 50 per cent. of the denominational increase in the State was obtained from this missionary work. The total contributions by the mission churches were $45,027.40, of which $15,136.60 was for support of pastors. New churches had been organized in two county-seats, and new Scandinavian churches at 3 cities where there is a large Swedish population. Student missionaries to the number of 25 had been employed, who had given 527 weeks of labor, preached 1,454 sermons, made 1,663 visits, baptized 109 persons, and received otherwise 87, thus performing a work equal to ten years of one missionary, at a cost of only $535. Valuable co-operation of the women was gratefully acknowledged, they having bestowed $1,000 upon the Scandinavian work in the State. Chapels had been completed, or are in process of erection at 7 points, at a cost of $30,000, the Home Mission Society making gifts aggregating $1,350. No church had become self-supporting during the year, but the policy of the Board is to aid churches to become independent at the earliest possible date. The report was received with profound gratitude and thanksgiving, and Rev. J. Stewart followed it with an address, on "What the Baptists of Wisconsin Owe to the People of the State," and Rev. A. W. Runyan, on "The Evangelistic Need of the Times." The receipts on the General Fund had been $9,279.12; on the Student Fund, $398.96; on the Chapel Fund, $1,214 32; a total of $10,892 40; the disbursements for the year were, $7,998.55; and the liabilities due, $2,085.88, leaving a balance in the treasury of $808.47. A missionary conference was held, in which reports from their fields were made by 9 missionaries of the Convention.

The Publication Society and its Chapel Car work, the Home Mission Society, and the Missionary Union were all represented, not only in reports, but by addresses bearing upon their especial work. Among these were addresses by T. J. Morgan, D. D., of the Home Mission Society, and C. F. Tolman, D D., for the Missionary Union; an address was also made by Fred. Evans, D. D., on "Our State Work with its Face Toward God." The resolutions adopted had reference to continued confidence in the management of our general societies, recognizing religious newspapers circulating in the State, commending the young people's organization and the Ministers' Aid Society, and protesting against the use of public moneys for sectarian purposes, and the contract system of schools among the Indians.

The educational interest is Wayland Academy; the new principal, Prof. H. M. Burchand, being introduced and making an address. The statistics of the institution may be found by reference to the appropriate table. The outlook was reported as cheering, the new year opening with full classes, and more room needed for the accommodation of those who are seeking education within its walls; and additional endowment is also needed.

The women held interesting meetings in connection with the Convention, both for foreign and home work. They are organized into State societies. In foreign missions there are 88 circles, and 50 bands and young ladies' societies who support missionaries on the fields. During the meetings of the women there were missionary exercises illustrating the customs of foreign lands, and contrasting the lives of women there with those of Christian lands. These societies are auxiliary to the general organization of the women, with headquarters in Chicago.

The next anniversary is to be held at a place to be determined by the Executive Board, in October, 1895, and Rev. P. S Everett was appointed to preach the Annual Sermon.

Rev. F. Sprague, Verona.

The Thirtieth Annual Meeting was held at Janesville, October 8, 9, 1894. The Annual Sermon was preached by Rev. E. Pickering, from 2 Cor. 5: 19, on "The World Estranged from God"; following it an address was made in the interest of the Ministers' Home, by E. A. Mather, D. D., and a collection taken for that institution

A discussion was had, on "Wise and Unwise Methods for Securing a Congregation," opened by Rev. L. A. Clevenger; Prof. C. R. Henderson, D. D., of the University of Chicago, spoke on "The Extension of Christian Ethics into Social Relations"; this was followed by discussions on "Right and Wrong in Domestic Relations," by Rev. C. N. Peterson; "Means of Elevating the Spiritual Life of the Home," by Rev. O. P. Bestor; and "Right and Wrong in Industrial Relations," by Rev E. W. White. A discussion on "Revivals of Religion, How Best to Promote Them," was opened by Rev. H. J. Finch; "The Coming Baptist Minister," was the subject of an address by D. E. Halteman, D. D.; Rev. W. W. Pattengill made an address, on "Short Pastorates, How they Affect Church Growth and Progress." The history committee reported 21 ministers having left the State during the year, and an equal number having entered it, and a net gain in the membership of the churches of nearly 1200.

The annual sessions are held on the day preceding the meeting of the State Convention.

The Baptist Young People's Union.

OFFICERS.

President.

Joseph Moody, Milwaukee.

Secretary.

Robert R. Hoskin.

Treasurer.

Miss Emma G. Sachs, Oshkosh.

The Fourth Annual Meeting was held at Janesville, October 11, 1894. The time was taken up in the discussion of practical points, special reference being given to the Christian Culture Courses, three papers being read on the triple division of this enterprise. Rev. A. J. Kempton spoke, on "The Relation of the Young People's Movement to the Future Development and Progress of Our Churches," and the principal address was made by W. M. Lawrence, D. D., of Chicago. Some unimportant changes in the Constitution were adopted.

The annual meetings are held in conjunction with the State Convention.

WYOMING.

There is a single Association in this State, the constituent churches being widely scattered. The indebtedness of the Home Mission Society compelled some retrenchment of the work; yet a progress is manifest. Two houses of worship have been dedicated during the past year. There are now six churches and two settled pastors in the State. One of these had experienced a revival and the addition of about sixty to the membership. There are about 360 members in the churches and as many more probably scattered about through the State without any church affiliation, or unorganized. Our correspondent was not able to give any financial statistics.

Rev. C. S. SAVAGE, Hamilton.

Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer.

Rev. HINTON S. LLOYD, Hamilton.

The Seventy-seventh Annual Meeting was held in the First Church, Hamilton, June 19, 1894. Officers were elected, annual reports presented, and addresses made. The Rev. D. B. Jutten, of Fall River, Mass., speaking on "The Need of the Highest Education for the Ministry of To-day"; the Revs. G. H. Brigham, A. W. Bourn, and A. C. Osborn, D. D., and G. L Stedman, Esq., following on the "Place and Work of the Society."

The Theological Seminary deplored the removal by death of Dr. Hezekiah Harvey, dean and professor of pastoral theology, and reported a year of marked prosperity in the work of the seminary. The college rejoiced in the completion of a new gymnasium, an enlargement of the courses of study, and a decided increase in the number of students. The academy has added to its resources several buildings secured for dormitories, fine gymnasium facilities under a new instructor, and a fourth year to its curriculum. General moral and religious earnestness has pervaded the student body; efficiency characterized the entire administration in all departments.

The treasurer's report shows the permanent funds to be, $57,748.83; special memorial funds, $16,700; total receipts on regular work, $14,841.56; payments to beneficiaries, $11,335.87.

During the year a new compact was entered into between the Education Society and the University Boards in the place of the old compact which had been operative since its formation in 1853. By the new arrangement the university takes the seminary under its control, so far as to care for the buildings and grounds, pay all the salaries and running expenses, and conduct the discipline and general administration of the institution. The determination of the instruction and the initiative in appointment and removal of officers of instruction will rest with the Education Board, who will have a direct representation, at all times, of five on the University Board. The entire beneficiary work is committed also to the Education Board. The report of the faculty, and the new compact, with the other reports, are printed among the published proceedings.

The next anniversary will be in Hamilton, June, 1895.

ORDAINED MINISTERS IN THE UNITED STATES.

NOTE.—Among Baptists there exists no official register, as among other denominations, compiled by a central ecclesiastical authority. Because of this, perhaps, we suffer the disadvantage of an always incomplete list. The present roll is compiled chiefly from the Associational Minutes, and is as near exactness as it is possible to be. There are many Associations, however, which publish no lists of ministers at all, and many others which publish only the names of pastors, and these without postal address.

The policy of this YEAR-BOOK is to make the Associational Minutes the basis of operations, on the only and simple ground that it is deemed that every minister of good standing will be mentioned by the Minutes of his home organization. If names are omitted in this list that should be enrolled, let an examination be made first of the District Association Minutes, and the Editor then acquitted. Errors will be cheerfully corrected, however.

The perpetual movement of such a large body of men occasions almost incredible numbers of changes and alterations in the course of a year. The YEAR-BOOK does not claim that the appended list includes all the Baptist ministers of the country, but it claims only to present an accurate list as furnished by the Associational Minutes.

In certain States, especially in the South and West, it is an impossible thing to obtain all the Associational Minutes before making up this list for any given year. Consequently, the Editor does not claim that it is a complete list, but it is an accurate one so far as it goes, affected by the constant changes to which the ministry is exposed. In these States, the Minutes for 1894 are closely followed, and where the Minutes of that year are not at hand, those of 1893 are carefully compared with the list; so that if a minister has removed, his last known address is given, and his movements may be traceable from that office. No name appears that is not in the District Association lists within two years. If the names of any so contained do not appear, the Clerk of the Association has sent neither blanks nor Minutes to us.

The list in some States has been submitted for careful revision to brethren who are likely to be well informed of movements of ministers in their respective States. In every instance of States having large colored membership this course has been pursued, but the YEAR-BOOK claims neither fullness nor accuracy in its list of colored ministers. It gives result of careful scrutiny and diligent endeavor, but has only partially, as yet, obtained the co-operation of the colored Baptists in its important work.

Before it will be possible to compile a full and complete list of American Baptist ministers, the friends of statistics must secure in their Associational Minutes these several features: 1. An alphabetical list of all ordained ministers living within the bounds of the Association, or serving churches, with their correct post-office address attached. This list to be published quite separate from the statistics of the churches, and to show, by simple abbreviations, whether the brethren are pastors, teachers, without charge, agents, or honorably retired. 2. A corresponding list of ministerial changes, showing who have entered the Association within the year; who have left it, and whither gone; and who have died, and when; and who have been ordained during the year.

If Clerks of the Associations can be induced to adopt the suggestions above, and be careful to address a copy of their Minutes to the Editor of the YEAR-BOOK, in care of the American Baptist Publication Society, it would be very early that an absolutely correct list of ministers should be published. The attention of interested brethren in the Associations, and of Editors and Statistical Secretaries of State bodies, is respectfully called to these considerations.

☞ Some weeks must necessarily elapse between the preparation of this list for the press, and the issuing of the volume. The work of final proof revision began January 5. For such changes as occur, and of which we have information in this interim, consult the Supplement at the close of the volume.

GENERAL DENOMINATIONAL STATISTICS.

PREFATORY AND EXPLANATORY.

In presenting for the eleventh time the aggregate statistics of the Baptists of the United States, the editor would caution the student, that the results represent the minimum in each department, unless it is in the number of churches and valuation of property, in which items he has had access to the work accomplished by the Government Census; yet these approximate only to nearness. The number of obliging clerks who kindly co-operate in the gathering of these statistics is not small, but the absence of such fraternal aid on the part of many is seriously felt and as seriously affects the sum total. It should be understood that in every instance where a blank line accompanies an Association, diligent effort has been made to secure the information, with no reply in any case.

The editor would again refer to the disparity existing between these figures and those put forth by the Census Bureau in the preceding year. Comparisons with the figures of the Census will not show that amount of growth and development which is true. With unusually favorable facilities, and with a great amount of patience covering the most of three years, certain figures were obtained for the year 1890, which it would be impossible to duplicate in any given year. This is owing to the inability of the statistician to reach the vast number of colored Baptists. They do not seem to care for statistics, many do not understand what is desired to be known, and the majority do not want to be troubled with the detail of work required in their compilation.

It will be found that the statistics of the white Baptists are in the main full, and that they represent the present condition of the denomination. Where disparity exists, it must be traceable to the wonderfully fluctuating statistics of the colored Baptists. A report of one year in many instances cannot serve as a basis of comparison for a succeeding year. This does not, of course, imply that there are no clerks who have a proper and intelligent conception of their work; that there are such will be readily perceived by reference to the tables where the result of their work will be found in marked comparison to the tedious lines of blanks which determine the careless or the indifferent.

One of the unjust comparisons deduced from the Census and YEAR-BOOK figures relates to the number of ordained ministers in the United States. It was found in including ministers with information by Associations that in many instances persons were counted twice and more, inasmuch as it is a rule rather than an exception in the South and South-west for ministers to serve churches belonging to different Associations. Added to this disarranging fact, the other fact that in the North a general custom prevails of including in Minutes names only of pastors, thus omitting the large number of ministers engaged in teaching or other religious work, or honorably retired on account of age or infirmity, and it will be seen at once that we have never been able to determine just how many ministers there are in any given year. In order to correct this unfair comparison the number of ordained ministers by Associations is omitted. In the Summary of Statistics the number by States is included, based upon sources of information derived from authorities in the several States themselves. It is needless to say that the ministry of the colored Baptists is estimated only. There is no means of ascertaining the facts as these relate to them.

The effect of the stringency of the times begins to show itself in the tables for 1894. It will be observed that quite a falling off of contributions is reported. It is in the column of miscellaneous contributions that this is most noticeable. It indicates that during 1894 the churches were content with such things as they had and engaged in but little more than their home enterprises with their ordinary work in missionary endeavor. On the other hand it is gratifying to note a marked increase in baptisms, almost every State among the white Baptists reporting large ingatherings. It will be seen that the great majority o these added to the churches were among the whites.

It should be constantly borne in mind that, while in other denominations the policy which prevails is such as that the statistician may command the prompt and full returns from the clerks and secretaries of the various Conferences, Consociations, Presbyteries, etc., this editor is dependent entirely upon the courtesy of clerks, some of whom render most valuable assistance, while others are forgetful, or indifferent, or unwilling to spare the time required in filling up their blanks, or require compensation for that work beyond which the Society is able to render. The friends of the work can render most valuable assistance in their various Associations, by requiring their clerks, who are generally compensated, to furnish the footings of their tables to the YEAR-BOOK before the publication of their Minutes. The editor, in this remark, has no reference to the many clerks who need no authority such as this to induce them to follow out that plan; he is in communication with many clerks whose promptness, accuracy, and sympathy are a positive inspiration to him. So that in comparison with the figures of other denominations, the student should regard the fact that the absence of information from some quarters lessens the rightful totals; while, in some instances, the figures of mission churches located entirely outside of this country, are necessarily contained in the totals of other denominations, because of their connectional relation with their brethren of this land. This very important distinction would change materially the comparisons as between the Baptists and other large denominations of Christians.

In the division of the columns of Reported Contributions, in order to invite uniformity, the following distinctions are made by the editor, when computing from the Minutes. In the column of Salaries and Expenses, only those sums which are expended in the actual running of the interests are taken. These include salaries of pastors, sextons, etc., light, fuel, interest on indebtedness, and incidental repairs. In the column of Miscellaneous, the contributions for the poor, for purchase of Minutes, for building and purchase of lots for building, as well as any other occasional expenditures, are noted. None of these latter are legitimate church expenses, unless the former, which is put under the head of Miscellaneous, because it partakes more largely of benevolence than expense, and often is not required as a perpetual charge upon the church. When it is possible to separate the contributions of Sunday-schools, the expense of conducting is put under the head of Salaries and Expenses, and the contributions to Missions under its head. Where this latter is not specified, nothing remains but to classify it as Miscellaneous. The tables are constructed upon the idea that the interests of Church and Sunday-school are identical, and form but one unit of work in any given instance.

While the editor has had the invaluable co-operation of many brethren, and of many o, our denominational papers in compiling this information, he may be permitted to publicly acknowledge the more than usual aid rendered in their respective States: by Rev. Wm. Hurlin, Antrim, N. H.; Rev. Philip S. Evans, New Haven, Conn.; Rev. R. D. Cook, D. D., Wilmington, Del.; Rev. J. M. Carroll, Waco, Tex.; Rev. A. R. Griggs, D. D., Dallas, Tex.; Rev. W. A. Clark, D. D., Little Rock, Ark.; Rev Geo. E. Leonard, D. D., Norwalk, Ohio; Rev. H. F. Cochrane, Springport, Mich.; Rev. C. W. Riches, Creston, Ia.; and Rev. T. M. Shanafelt, D. D., Huron, S. D.; all of whom have co-operated in such a degree as to entail peculiarly onerous labor; the slowly increasing number of such aids bids fair to make the editing of the YEAR-BOOK a delight rather than an exhausting labor.
